(Continued from 1st Page.)

[illegible] from Archibald Clarke to [illegible] February, 1817.

[illegible] the President of the United States to Congress, 25th March, [illegible]

[illegible] the 24th inst. the house of Mr. [illegible] in the upper part of the county of Wayne, Georgia was attacked during the night by the middle of the day, by three persons of infamous character, all of them well known in that place, and their depredations upon the neighboring settlements. Their object was to obtain money, of which they were in search, and they succeeded in obtaining about three hundred dollars. Their two months old, were murdered, and the eldest scalped; the [illegible] escaped. [illegible] to [illegible] and set on fire."

[illegible] Letter from Peter B. Cook, [illegible] to Eliza A. Cornes, at Passa dam of Newbern, 11th Jan. [illegible] engagement of the Seminoles with the Indians against the Americans and the massacre of Lieut. Scott &c.

"Some was saved that was taken by the Indians, several children, seven women, and four small children. Those were shot the next day when one of the women saved, and all the rest of them killed. The children were knocked in the head and then brains dashed out against the boat."

[illegible] the Seminole Indians which [illegible] Spanish Florida, [illegible] the United States, [illegible] Spain to [illegible] which [illegible] Spanish Government [illegible] Indians, [illegible] Spain to [illegible] Spanish Government [illegible] Indians, [illegible] Spain to [illegible] Spanish Government [illegible] Indians, [illegible] Spain to