To the People and Press of the State ... the Gunboat Subscription.

The people of this State, in common with those of our sister States of Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana, have displayed a desire to build one or more iron-clad gunboats, or other means of defence of that class. Coupled with this desire, a general willingness has been shown to contribute liberally for this purpose. 12 94

The fact that the Confederate Government has also entered upon the business of creating a navy, and has directed its attention largely to this class of vessels, neither renders this effort unnecessary, nor does it interpose any insuperable barrier to State or volunta-5 02 ry effort. The slightest reflection will be sufficient to convince all, that the present struggle calls for and will continue to call for the exertion of every energy on the part not only of the government authorities, 2 50 but also of the people of the Confederate States. 9 50 The ladies, ever foremost in good works, may be 22 22 said to have initiated the movement in North Caroli-32 45 na. We trust that they will continue to lend 20 72 their invaluable aid and countenance to the patriotic 58 80 effort.º 19 56

Without claiming for Wilmington any peculiar right to take the lead or assume the control of this matter in any way, we may be permitted to allude to 22 65 the deeply-to-be-regretted state of facts which necessarily indicates the Cape Fear River as now affording 10 81 the only available locality in the State, still within the control of the Confederacy, for carrying this project into practical effect. At Wilmington, Fayetteville, or at some intervening point, the work must be done, so far as the ship-building is concerned. The prepa-20 80 67 45 ration of material and the construction of machinery 16 41 can go on at any other available and convenient points.

The fact that now the Cape Fear is the only unob-16 42 structed outlet to tide water which our State possesses gives to all measures for the defence of that outlet, a 38 22 character not merely local, but co-extensive with the State, and its importance is enhanced by its absolute necessity to the supply of salt to meet the requirements of the people.

These being the facts, we feel no hesitation in appealing at once and strongly to the people of the 76 33 whole State, and of every county in the State, to come forward and lend a helping hand to this State work. It is true that the Confederate government may build vessels in our waters, but these, when built, do not. by any means, belong exclusively, or even peculiarly to our harbor, or to our defence. They may, when completed, be ordered off to any point on the whole 1 40 Confederate coast, and may never return to the wa-20 13 ters of North Carolina. We want something different from this-something made by the people of the 30 40 State to be used peculiarly for their own defense. 128Feeling the necessity of organization for the accom-29 48 plishment of any work, and more especially of a work of such magnitude, we have urged the formation o 3 40 associations and the appointment of committees not 3 60 only here, but in every town and county and district 7 50 in the State, for the promotion of the desired object 3 70 by the collection of funds, and by all other effective 6 47 | and proper means. Recognizing this necessity, the 07 40 people of Wilmington held a Town Meeting, at 9 92 which they expressed their sense of the importance of the measure, and invited the co-operation of their fel-4 76 low citizens in all the counties of the State, but espe-5 43 cially the counties of the Cape Fear section, at the same time placing the matter in the charge of the Safety Committee of the Town, which body has constituted Messrs. O. G. Parsely, A. J. DeRossett, and Wm. A. Wright, a special Committee on this matter, to solicit and receive subscriptions and to make all necessary arrangements for carrying out the object of which the subscribers have in view. They will no 23 87 doubt discharge the trust confided to them with energy and fidelity. May we not earnestly request all who feel an interest in this truly State effort, to give tangible proof of 0 22 this interest by placing themselves in correspondence 2 36 with the above gentlemen, and by immediately form-0 07 0 22 ing organizations for the promotion of this object by the contribution of money and by all other feasible 2 87 means of co-operation?

Ladies Association for the Defense of North Carolina.

To the Ladies of North Carolina: Our sisters of Alabama, South Carolina and Louisiana, have set us a noble example, by largely subscribing for the building of gunboats. Shall we, the Ladies of North Carolina, remain insensible to the dangers of our beloved State. Already the enemy has invaded our coast. Our fathers, husbands, brothers and sons are withstanding them to the death .--Let us at once arise and pour in our free-will offerings. As military authorities have expressed an opinion that under the circumstances, gunboats in our waters cannot be very efficient, and that artillery would most effectually contribute to the defence of our State, let our contributions be for that purpose. Shall there be any hesitations? All that is most precious to us in this world is now endangesed. Uuanimity and promptitude can do much. Let the Ladies of each county open a subscription list and send torward the amount at the earliest moment to the Cashier of the nearest Branch of the Cape Fear Bank.

The Next Governor.

We publish in another column, an article from the State Journa, embodying some resolutions passed unanimously by the State Convention in November last, and some suggestions as to the manner of selecting a candidate for Governor. We fully endorse the plan proposed, as it will, we think, keep down party strife, and enable the people to elect their next Gover-nor without the usual attendants of party bitterness and contention. We hope to see the Journal's proposition carried out.

Several gentlemen have been mentioned in connection with the office. Gen. Hill has heretofore been mentioned by us, and we still think him the man for the crisis; Gov. Graham. Wm. Johnston of Charlotte, N. W. Woodfin of Buncombe, Gov. Morehead of Guilford, Gov. Reid of Rockingham, Col Z. B Vance, and perhaps others, have been brought forward. Any of these gentlemen would fill the position with diginity and ability, and if selected in the manner proposed by the Journal, or in any other way calculated to maintain the "unity of the spirit in the bond of peace," and contribute to the harmony and general quiet and prosperity of the State, we will cheerfully accord to such nominee our hearty support. The present is no time for the revival of party strife and prejudice. We should know no man as Whig or Democrat; but as North Carolinians should stand shoulder to shoulder, and bend^eevery energy to the one great object before us-the independence of our beloved country. Good men will not thrust themselves forward, but when duty calls will be always ready to respond, whether the position be high or low. Let us by all means have no partizan canvass the coming summer, but as brethren, bound to stand or fall together, act in harmony and concert, and present an undivided front to the enemy who seeks our destruction. In connection with these remarks we re-produce the statement of the Special Committee, although already published in yesterday's Journal.

The Committee of Safety of the Town of Wilmington, to whom the citizens of Wilmington in public meeting assembled referred all matters connected with the construction of one or more iron clad gun-boats or floating batteries for the defence of the entrances 6 09 to the Cape Fear River and the Coast of North Carolina, have constituted the undersigned a Special Com-0 40 4 71 mittee on the subject referred to them. 6 50 The means of defense indicated, whether by an iron-clad gun-boat, or by an iron-clad floating battery, to meet the impending exigency, should be construct-6 25 ed as promptly as may be possible; and it is there-25 fore cf vital importance that we should ascertain 52without delay whether the necessary means can be 8 78 procured. Contributions for this purpose are earnestly solicited. Should the amount contributed not 77 be sufficient, or should any unforeseen contingency prevent the commencement of this work, the sums 83 tendered will be returned to the respective donors. 61 Among the resolutions adopted at the public meet-03 ing of the citizens of Wilmington, it was

75 Resolved That the citizens of the several counties of the State are requested to organize Committees to solicit contributions and otherwise to co-operate with 48 the Committee of Safety in furtherance of the proposed work. The manifest importance of the contemplated work 46 to the State at large, justifies us in calling on every patriotic citizen of North Carolina to come forward promptly and liberally in aid of its speedy accomplishment. Communications to either of the undersigned will receive attention. O. G. PARSLEY, A. J. DEROSSET. WM. A. WRIGHT.

A subscription book will be opened, and contributions at this point received by the undersigned at the WM. A. WRIGHT. Bank of Cape Fear. Wilmington, April 9th, 1862. Our State contemporaries will confer a favor by copying this article and the subjoined note, or such part as they may deem proper, or by otherwise calling attention to the subject.

^o As illustrative of the patriotic spirit displayed by the ladies, and as going to show the exertions which they are making, we copy the following address which will speak for itself:

[From the Register.] More Attempts to make mischief We take the following extract from an editorial article in the last Raleigh Standard :

"Every truc-hearted man in the South must deprecate deeply the morbid and infuriated spirit which ever and anon developes itself in certain quarters, in the progress of the war. The blind phrenzy which prompted the originators of this revolution to plunge themselves headlong into it without counting the cost, or stopping to prepare for it, now that their eyes are pened to its vast dimensions, drives them in their alarm to the desperate resolves of the maniac. The readiness with which they utter their anathemas upon the conservative men of the South, who are really its chief reliance for ultimate success-their blatant blasphemies against providence-their openmouthed infidelity-their hot haste to override all constitutional barriers-to trample upon laws the most conservative and beneficial-to ignore the rights of the people, notwithstanding their former professionsto beat down all the bulwarks of social, commercial or political virtue which lie in their way, is really alarming. Reckless of the property or the persons of the people, they will sacrifice all to the madness of the hour, and at some future day, will mend the breach by falsehood, chicanery and repudiation. Mark what we say." Yes we will mark what you say, and mark it for the purpose of denouncing it as an attempt to break down that which is so essential to our success in this war for life and liverty-the credit of the government.-Every man in this State or out of it who knows anything, knows that if the credit of the government is destroyed and the sinews of war be thus lost to it, we cannot keep and maintain our armies in the field, and our cause will be completely lost. Anything, therefore, which tends to destroy confidence in the ability and willingness of the Confederate or State governments fairly to redeem their issues, is a blow struck for the Yankees, and aimed at our liberties. This blow has been struck by the editor of the Standard when he says, with the emphasis of italics, " repudiation " will ensue. This editor is now making war against the revolution in progress and fraught with such momentous results, and charges " blind phrenzy " upon those who brought it on. This charge is aimed, of course, at the "original secessionists," and "Mr. Lincoln, as the editor of the Standard gingerly terms him, is, as usual, exonerated from all blame in the premises. We appeal to the people of North Carolina to say, if such language as we have fairly quoted from the Standard is proper to be used in a Southern paper at this time, and we appeal to them to disregard the Standard's insinuations against the credit of the government .--What would be the worth of all the money in the world to us, if we were enslaved by the Yankees and held as serfs or vassals? And yet, this must be tha terrible result, if we destroy confidence in the government, and destroy the value of that which will alone enable us to achieve our liberties.

It will be seen that the Standard denounces secession by declaring that a "blind phrepzy" prompted the originators to "plunge themselves headlong into it without counting the cost or stopping to prepare for it." Is not the editor of the Standard the last man in the world to complain of a want of preparation ? Has he forgotten his own course ? Does he remember that he declared that Lincoln's Inaugural Address meant peace? Did he not, day after day, parrot out, ad nauseam, the words, "Watch and Wait ?" "Watch" what ? Lincoln's progress in preparing to deal an aggressive blow upon the South? Army and Navy of the United States? Until he had reinforced and strengthened the fortifications, orders of the proper officers of the Confederate or State Navy Yards and Arsenals in the South, and possessed | Governments. nimself of the arms which the foresight of Governor Floyd had provided for us; and, in a word, placed himself in a condition to crush out, at once, what he terms a "rebellion ?" These would have been the inevitable consequences if the policy inculcated by the editor of the Standard had been followed. And yet, at this time, when the whole South is resonant with joy and thanksgiving and praise to the Almighty God of nations for the signal victory with which He has just crowned our arms, the editor of the Raleigh Standard sends forth from his nest the raven croak that the Southern Confederacy is going fast to destruction. He tells our own people, as well as the enemy, that the leaders in the revolution are blatant blasphemers against Providence-that they are wallowing in the slough of infidelity-that they disregard all constitutional barriers-that they trample upon laws the most conservative and beneficial-that they ignore the rights of the people-that they are reckless of the property or the persons of the people-and that they will finally wipe out the pecuniary obligations which they will incur in this war by an act of "repudiation." This language is, in substance and effect, a declaration to Lincoln that the Southern Confederacy is in a more fearful condition than ever was France in the worst days of her revolutions, either of the past or present century, and that nothing but despotism can evoke order from the anarchy which now runs riot in it. Again we ask the people of North Carolina if such language should be tolerated in a Southern paper?

Already have the women of Virginia, South Caro-13 50 ina and Alabama collected a fund to build gunboats 1 50 for the defense of their respective States and the in-53 70 terests of the Confederacy. 87 89

In our struggle for liberty, our State has been be-58 80 hindhand in nothing, nor can I think she means to be 290 52 in any project whereby her zeal and honor 'can be vindicated. I call, then, upon the patriotic women to co-operate in contributing a sufficient sum for a 12 28 gunboat to be called the "old North State," and I venture to submit for appreval a plan for obtaining 48 75 the necessary fund. It is this-to ask some one or more persons in every town in the State, to accept the post of Collector, and to extend the subscription 80 list to high and low, rich and poor, so that every woman and child within our borders may have the $4,255 55 opportunity to aid in maintaining the cause of the Confederacy and the honor of the good old North State. $1,064 19

Mrs. John W. Ellis will take the Western part of North Carolina, and in the middle and Eastern portions of the State, I trust I may meet with the same cordial response from those with whom I have yet to communicate, that has already been returne1 by those who have consented to act as collectors.

Any person not within reach of a collector, and desiring to give to this object, can do so by forward-ing her subscription to Gen. J. G. Martin, who has kindly agreed to receive the contributions.

All the papers in the State will please give this as extensive a circulation as possible.

And also the following, which cames to us with an Asheville, N. C., postmark, and a request to notice. We would here take occasion to call attention to the statement of the Special Committee, that should any unforeseen contingency prevent the commencement fo this work, the sums contributed will be refunded. As the Committee here have had, and will still have he opportunity of cousniting the best military authorities, the Ladies Association need have no fear that any fund contributed will be missapplied through ignorance or want of proper information, while the character of the gentlemen of the Committee is a sufficient guarantee against any other misapplication :-

The newspaper or individual that attempts to revive old party prejudices and kindle the fires of partizan strife at the present time, is a worse enemy to the South than an avowed tory or a full blooded Yankee. Let such be marked and branded, that they may be known hereafter .- No true patriot desires the revival of parties now, and no true Southern man will give aid or countenance to such an attempt. Those who act thus may well be suspected, and their fidelity to the South questioned.

These are our views of the matter, and can be taken for just what they are worth .- Ashville News.
