A BAY HORSE strayed.

STRAYED or stolen on Friday evening last, a Dark Bay HORSE, fourteen hands and an half high, five years old, slim made, a small star in his forehead, a long switch tail, had a swelling on the inside of one of his fore legs, just below the knee, about the size of an hen's egg.

Whoever will take up said horse, and deliver him to Dr. John Umstead, in Orange county, or the printers in Fayetteville, shall be generously rewarded and all reasonable charges paid.

Fayetteville, Nov. 22.

FOR SALE,

THAT valuable plantation, about three miles below Fayetteville, commonly known by the name of

Spring Hill,

now in the occupation of James Bloodworth, esquire, containing, with the lands adjoining, about sixteen hundred acres. The front on the river is above three quarters of a mile, and the lands for a considerable distance back, have a strong clay foundation, after which there is about two hundred acres of marsh and swamp, very rich, and part of it at all times dry enough for a corn field, with a quantity of valuable slave timber.— Through the swamp and marsh there is a never-failing stream, which formerly turned an overshot mill near the house; and on the back lands there is good pine timber, and a much larger stream of water, on which there was for a short time a saw-mill. The houses may be repaired at a small expence.

Produce or Public Securities will be taken in payment; and proposals will be received by John Hay, John Ingram, or William Barry Grove, esquires, in Fayetteville, who are severally empowered to make contracts—or by me in Wilmington.

A. Maclaine.

On the back parts of the lands there is a large quantity of stone convenient to the town, and generally preferred for building cellars.

November 20, 1790.

WHEREAS in the year 1771, I gave five obligations to Frederick Gobble, each containing the sum of seven pounds ten shillings, Maryland currency, (dollars at 7/6) and the first bond became due in August, 1772, and the next in August, 1773, and one became due in each year afterwards. I have paid and taken up all but the last obligation, which I have been always ready and willing to discharge: and being informed, that the said obligation was sent to this state, I take this method to give public notice to whomsoever may have such obligation, to apply to Basil Gathier, living in the Forks of the Yadkin rivers, in the county of Rowan, having requested him to discharge such obligation, as I am about removing to the state of Georgia.
