

IN an address from Mr. Maclaine to the electors of Wilmington, published in the Centinel of the 16th of July, there is a passage which may be construed into a charge against Mr. Mackenzie of a breach of promise.

Mr. Maclaine disavows any intention of mis-stating facts, or of reflecting upon Mr. Mackenzie's conduct. On the contrary, he has in another part of the publication in question, mentioned that gentleman in favourable terms. But Mr. Maclaine is now convinced, that the facts are not stated in their proper order, and that one of them was attended with a circumstance which has escaped his memory. He is satisfied, that his conversation with Mr. Mackenzie was subsequent to the conference between that gentleman and Mr. Jones, (who proposed that the strength of the contending parties might be compared immediately) and acknowledges, that when Mr. Mackenzie agreed with Mr. Maclaine to a compromise, he added, that it would do so any any time before the election.

This, it is hoped, will be sufficient to shew, that Mr. Mackenzie acted confidently, and that there was no intention on the part of Mr. Maclaine, to place him in an improper point of view. The address was drawn up amidst a multiplicity of business, and on the eve of Mr. Maclaine's departure for Hillsborough. This is the only apology he can make for the inaccuracy of his statement.

L A N D S,

Lying between ten and twenty miles from Wilmington.

SMITHFIELD, situate on both sides of the North West, between Blue Banks and Drury Allen's, containing 2200 acres of land, about 400 whereof are very rich swamp, part of which is cleared, the remainder is well-timbered.
The high swamp fit for corn or indigo extends 25 chains back from the river, which is uncommon in that neighbourhood; and part of the lower swamp may be overflowed with great ease, by a never failing stream, upon which is just finished an exceeding good SAW-MILL, very near the river—there are handsome situations for settlements, between the mill and the river, on good corn land.

BLUE BANKS, situate on both sides of the river, below Smithfield, containing 2331 acres of land, 410 whereof is rich swamp, about 130 acres being cleared, of which 20 acres may be watered, at any time, with great ease. The remainder fit for corn or indigo.—The un-cleared swamp contains a vast body of cypres timber, and the high land has two streams fit for gristmills, running through it; between 2 and 300 acres are cleared, part of it being very good corn land.—There is a DWELLING-HOUSE, containing a hall, parlour, four chambers and three closets—a kitchen, stable, and large brick barn. The beauty and healthiness of this place is too well known to require further description.

BELLEFONT, situate on both sides of the North-West, joining and below Blue Banks, being one of the best high swamp plantations on the river.—It contains about 3000 acres of land, 800 acres whereof the best swamp, about 100 acres being cleared, most of which can be watered by a stream issuing out of the highland, which is likewise capable of supplying a small grist-mill. There are on the premises, a BRICK-HOUSE containing four rooms, a kitchen, barn, and other necessary out buildings.

One thousand acres of land on the waters of Livingston creek, containing some 200 rice land, and a quantity of very fine turpentine trees. The range for stock excellent.

A small piece of land lying on Rattle-Snake Branch, near the North-West road, in an advantageous stand for a tavern, containing 200 acres.

A piece of land on the North-East side of Black-River, in the neighbourhood of Mautly's point, great part of which is tide swamp, or meadow; the whole containing 200 acres.

A tract joining and below the last-mentioned, formerly patented to James Colton; most of this is prime tide swamp and cane meadow. The high land situate in a remarkable fine range. It contains of high and low land, about 1000 acres.

APPLEBY, adjoining the above, containing in the whole 866 acres, 546 acres being good tide cane meadow and rich swamp, 30 acres completely ditched round, and 45 acres nearly finished; on the high land, which is situate in a fine range, is a very pretty and healthy situation for a settlement.

An Island of tide swamp, lying opposite to the last-mentioned tracts, containing 276 acres.

side of the North-West, just below the mouth of Black-River, great part of which is tide cane meadow, containing, by deed, 200 acres.

A piece adjoining and below the last mentioned, most of which is tide swamp and cane meadow, containing, by patent, 320 acres.

Another piece between the last and that valuable body of rich swamp, called the Cat Fish lands, containing about 200 acres.

The fertile, timber, situation of these lands on navigable waters, between Wilmington and Fayetteville, which will probably in a short time become the capital of the State, make them desirable possessions for present profit, and afford certain assurances of their becoming extremely valuable at a period not very distant.—Approved old bonds, especially of the late Mr. Dry's or Capt. Rowan's, and any debts of the subscriber, will be allowed in part payment; and any person purchasing the whole, shall have them a very great bargain.
