

than in any of their former achievements. The true Britons are severely mortified; the mercantile interest are well enough pleased; and the patriots in France as well as Holland sincerely rejoice with us. The American character is much higher now, than it was two years ago."

AUGUSTA, (Georgia) October 25.

We hear by way of General Joseph Martin, lately from the Western Waters, that about the 10th instant John Sevier, late Governor of Franklin, with a party of his adherents, rode up to a store in that country, purchased and drank rum till they were very much intoxicated. The merchant making the discovery, very prudently told them they should have no more. This conduct exasperated Sevier; he immediately drew his pistol, and advanced towards the merchant, who by this time had prepared himself for the attack. An unfortunate by-stander, who dreaded the consequences of the rencountre, stepped in between them, and was shot through the body by Sevier. He, Sevier, rode off with great precipitation, but was in a few hours pursued and overtaken by Col. Tipton, who confined and conducted him to Burke gaol, in North-Carolina, where he is now in irons.

EMPEROR of MOROCCO.
 Translation of the curses or excommunication of the Emperor of Morocco, against his two eldest sons, now in rebellion against him.—Translated from the original in his own hand-writing, in the register of the principal church at Morocco.
 Sent from the Emperor to his Chief Priest, 25th June, 1788.

Glory be to God alone!
 To our servants, Omer Bendoudy, and Benner, peace to you, and praise to God. Of this our letter, you will call the people together to hear the contents.

Abderhaman our son, and his brother Terid, God has condemned to destruction, and will surround them with utter darkness—darkness before them, behind them darkness; darkness on their right hand, and darkness on their left. May God forsake them as their father has forsaken them.

And we inform you, that they have abandoned all religion and society with the people.—Those who hate them love me; and those who love them hate me; and such have reason to fear my resentment. And such as furnish them with any thing, may God, and all the Angels, and all the people curse. The pleasure or will of God, and that of parents, are the same, and those who regard their parents, must be dutiful and obedient to them.

And all those that read the writing, or hear it read, curse them as they have renounced my orders; and let God and all the people be witness that I renounce and curse them. If there be a curse in the air above, may God send it down upon them. If it be in the earth, may God bring it forth, and keep it upon them. And I order the Cadi Sid Ben Abdalia, to write this in the register, regarding the possession of the church and colleges, that every one may see it.

And may God chastise them whether from the earth, and withdraw from them the love of God; and when my letter is read, let all the people say, Amen!

May God punish them from above, and from below—victory is only from God!—And let the letter be read from the pulpit in the church, and let all the people say, Amen!—And inform you, that such as give them any thing, or make any presents, are cursed as they are!

Our prophet has said, that whoever forsakes the true belief, is cursed, and thrust out of God's graces!—And who hates his father, God abandons!—And I have not turned from them until God forsok them!

“ Post-Office, Philadelphia, Dec. 5, 1788.

“ THIS is to inform the merchants and others, that the southern mail, supposed to have been robbed on the 22d of November, between Wilmington and Elkton, was found in the woods near that place, unopened, and upon examination it appears there is nothing lost.”

Lawrence A. Dorsey,

REQUESTS all persons indebted to him, to make immediate payment, otherwise he will be obliged to place their accounts in the hands of an Attorney without partiality.—It is with much reluctance he informs those gentlemen whose accounts became due at the close of the last year, that the same has elapsed without a fulfilment of their engagements; he therefore hopes this notice will be an inducement for them immediately to discharge their respective accounts.
