RALEIGH, N. C., OCTOBER 31, 1896.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW.

Miss Mamie G. Starley left last week for Scotia, at Concord, N. C.

Yes, Russell will carry the State by nearly 45,000 plurality. This is certain.

Mr. G. W. Macklin is in the real estate business, and also collector in the City of Durham.

No true friend of the Republican party will scratch a single name on the ticket. That is sure.

Mr. Alex. McDonald, of Apex, passed through here this week en route for Clayton to live.

If this State can be carried for McKinley it will bring prosperity and wealth within her borders.

Hon. W. F. Stroud will be elected by a handsome majority just as sure as the election day comes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Emerson, of Greensboro, visited the Durham Fair and the city a few days ago.

Mrs. Daniel James gave a reception at her residence on E. Edenton St. a few nights ago in honor of Mr. George L. Lee.

The Democrats tried all they knew how to work the color-line racket two years ago and it failed; and it will fail this time.

Mr. George L. Lee left the city a few days ago to accompany Dr. P. A. Hubert on his campaign lectures through the State.

Mrs. P. S. Smith has been spending a while at Holly Springs with relatives and friends. She was accompanied by her little baby.

When you hear a colored man say he is not for J. H. Young, mark him at once. The Democrats would give a right good sum to defeat Young.

The colored man was encouraged to register this time because he knew that under the new election law his vote would be counted honestly as his vote.

The Democrats know they will be defeated at the polls on November 3, hence their cry and frothing at the mouth about fraud and imported negro voters.

Mrs. W. P. Norcott and Mr. Hubert Edmond's sister, of Greenville, were in the city last week visiting their friends and also attending the Fair. They returned home Saturday.

We love Daniel L. Russell for the enemies he has made. He made them by fighting the Democrats, for the sake of the Republican party, good government, and political freedom.

The Democrats call the "Habeas Corpus" a paper published by Mr. S. Ohio Wilson here in the city a dirty Republican sheet. It is because that "Habeas Corpus" tells the public of Democratic misdeeds and rascality.

We were pleased to meet at the Fair at Durham Mr. and Mrs. C. Caldwell, Mr. G. W. Trice and family, Wm. McCade and Joseph Kirkland, of Chapel Hill, Messrs. W. C. Coleman, J. C. Dancy and F. W. Dixon.

Rev. N. W. Watkins lost a subscription list Monday last week, somewhere between News and Raleigh. It contained names of subscribers for the Macedonia school. Any one finding same will please return it to Rev. Watkins.

Messrs. W. G. Otey, Thos. Donaldson, C. W. Hoover, W. S. Mitchell, M. Watts, James H. Jones, De. Scruggs, Wm. Sanford, Mrs. M. B. Conley, Mrs. John H. O'Kelly, and other Raleighites took in the Durham Fair, Thursday two weeks ago.

Prof. F. W. Dixon made several able speeches in Vance county a few days ago, which turned out much good for co-operation. Prof. Dixon is a brilliant and fearless young man, and he never pulls back from going wherever duty calls him.

Revs. J. B. Worlds, A. B. Vincent, W. A. Jones, E. B. Baker, Dr. E. Roberts, Prof. Charles F. Messer, and N. C. Bruce, Revs. Ellabee, H. Pair, and Mr. A. J. Rogers, of the GAZETTE, attended the Baptist State Convention at Greensboro last week.

Rev. W. Sutton, on his return from Henderson, stopped over in the city and took in the Fair. The Rev. says he will make strong efforts to keep the brick-workers at work on his new church in a course of erection until it is completed. The work is progressing very rapidly.

Mr. Pui, in his speech at the court house on Friday night two weeks ago, made a strong and pitiful plea to the colored people for their votes. The boys say, "Nay, we have a candidate of our own, in the person of the Hon. W. F. Stroud, whom we will cast our votes for."

Shame! shame! on the set of colored men here in the city who are trying to defeat the only man who has the right to the county ticket for the Legislature—James H. Young. These gentlemen must know that if they could succeed in defeating Young, a Democrat would come in.

Sheriff Rigby, of Durham County, has made an excellent and very capable officer. He has served his people (the whole people) faithfully during the two years. Sheriff Rigby is fair and square and deals justly to every man. No crooked clever man has ever been elected Sheriff in the State. His deputies are all clerical and nice. The good people of all Durham County will not turn loose a good thing, but will reelect Sheriff Rigby.

Dr. P. A. Hubert, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is connected with Livingstone College as its Financial Secretary, arrived in our city a few days ago—sent here by the National Republican Committee to give Republican lectures through our State. He was sent by Chairman Holton to begin his work at Concord. Dr. Hubert is a man of fine address, highly cultured, and is a ready and able speaker. He is a gentleman of high distinction.

The News and Observer of two Sundays ago said at the head of an editorial, "Shall we stand idly by and see Mr. Russell LEGALLY elected Governor of this State?" No; but the Democrats will stand quietly by and see Judge Russell inaugurated after he has been LEGALLY elected. And they will also have the pleasure to live for four years under Governor Russell's administration and see duties performed and executed legally.

The Baptist State Educational and Missionary Convention in its twenty-ninth annual session met in Providence Baptist Church, Greensboro, Oct. 20th. The business of this body was of very great importance, and a large number of prominent Baptists from all over the State were present. Dr. N. F. Roberts, the President, with his usual ease and dignity, presided over this grand body. The Convention will meet in 1897 in Charlotte.

The Colored State Fair will be open on the 10th of November and will run to the 14th. Let everybody prepare their exhibits.

The premium list of the Eighteenth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Industrial Association is out and being distributed.

The All-Star Dramatic Concert Troupe will render their great play, "A Pair of Spectacles," very soon. Let everybody turn out.

Capt. C. A. Cook, Col. R. M. Douglass, Mr. D. H. Gill, Rev. W. R. Slade and Hon. A. M. Middleton were in the city last Monday.

Prof. A. B. Vincent returned here Monday of this week from Rockingham, where he has been attending the Pee Dee Association.

Rev. Spruill passed through the city Monday of this week, accompanied by Mr. C. D. Young, en route to the District Conference at Fayetteville.

Rev. A. P. Eaton passed through the city Monday for Henderson, N. C., in the interest of White Rock Baptist Church, of Durham, of which he is pastor.

Miss Louisa Mitchell arrived in the city last week to spend the winter with her son, W. S. Mitchell, Master Pearley Heibay, her grandson, came with her.

Miss Lovie Thomas, who has been residing at Aberdeen, died Sunday. Her remains were brought to Raleigh Monday for interment. May she rest in peace.

Every colored man, woman and child should be interested in their State Fair. It should have the hearty co-operation of the entire race in the State in order to have success.

We know of some colored men in the city who are using Democratic money to try to defeat J. H. Young. Isn't it a shame! You would be surprised to know who they are.

Prof. F. W. Dixon was in the city Monday en route to Henderson, where he spoke Tuesday night of this week. He was recalled to Vance county by Chairman Holton to re-advise the county.

Prof. J. H. M. Butler said to us one day last week, while we were visiting the A. and M. College at Greensboro, that the school was in a splendid condition, that its attendance had improved nearly a hundred per cent.

The colored people of the State could have one of the grandest Fairs here this year if they would unite and every one take an interest in it. It is to the race's interest to show up what it can do along this line.

Certainly the men who expect to make their living off the negroes here in town by their practice as professional men are trying hard to beat Jim Young and turn a Democrat in. Jim is the only colored man on the ticket, too.

The "tall" man from East Raleigh is trying to employ men (colored men) to scratch Republicans on the county ticket. The only pay he offers is beer and whiskey. This man is very officious in trying to defeat Jim Young. Watch this man on the day of election.

Misses Lou Mitchell, Minnie Witherston, Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Jones, Messrs. Wm. Wallace, H. Hunter and S. H. Towns left here last Monday for Newbern to attend the meeting of Grand Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F. G. S. and D. of S. in America, which convened on Tuesday.

Among the visitors in the city last week were: Profs. H. E. Hagans, J. B. Dudley, Messrs. J. A. Cheek, Rob. Z. Rankin, G. F. Lewis, M. L. Mott, Z. V. Wall, R. A. Williams, B. W. Lanford, G. F. Smith, W. H. Long, Robt. W. Williamson, J. S. McAllister, J. A. Savage, P. W. Pearce and others.

Deaths.

Mrs. Martha Collins died Monday of last week at the residence of her parents, on South Blount St. Her funeral took place from the Congregational Church, of which she was for quite a number of years a constant member. Rev. Dr. A. W. Curtis officiated. Mrs. Collins leaves a father, mother, two brothers, and a little babe to mourn their loss.

Mrs. Sarah Perry died on Tuesday night of last week at 9:30 o'clock at the age of 73 years. Her funeral took place on Thursday following at 3:30 o'clock from the Presbyterian Church, Rev. A. G. Davis officiating. Mrs. Perry was always a Christian lady and was, all through her life time, held in high esteem by all who knew her.

Durham Colored Fair—Magnificent Exhibits.

We visited the Fair at Durham and were delighted to find the numerous exhibits so nicely arranged in their different departments.

Among the exhibits we mention the work done in the manual training department of Durham Graded School, which was a great credit indeed. Miss N. C. O'Daniels was in charge of this exhibit. A magnificent silk quilt by Miss Nannie Faucette attracted attention. The display of the Durham Drug Co. was quite creditable. The silk quilt by Mrs. Lindsay Faucette was a "beauty."

The farm products exhibited by Dr. A. M. Moore proved him a farmer of experience. The Alamance County exhibit was splendid. A McKinley hat, made by Miss Mary L. Fitzgerald. Mrs. Dr. A. Moore, some very fine hand-work. Miss Mamie Macklin, a handsome table-spread. A beautiful silk quilt, by Miss Bonnie Williamson, of Lenoir, N. C. Mrs. Allen Eaton, a fine hand-painted photo of her husband, Dr. A. Eaton; also some other fine paintings.

A collection of African relics, presented to the Durham Graded School three years ago by Mr. James Trice when he visited this country. This exhibit was also under Miss O'Daniels' care.

We were informed that the Fair was a grand success. We were pleased to see the white people take such an interest in the Fair. It was also largely attended by the colored people.

Messrs. Merrick, Moore, Macklin, and the rest of the officers, and also their aids, deserve great credit for their grand effort to have a Fair.

W. S. MITCHELL.

Rocky Mount Grits.

Editor Scott, of the Wilmington Sentinel, was in town last Saturday in the interest of his paper. He secured a goodly number of subscribers.

Prof. R. H. Hackney, of the National Protective Association of the United States, lectured to a goodly number of our people last Wednesday night. Mr. Caldwell is working up quite an interest in our town.

Rev. J. B. Smith visited his family in Newbern last week.

Quaker Drill, given by Mr. William Cook last Tuesday night, was very entertaining indeed. The Cooks think of repeating it Fair week.

Mrs. Martha Dancy and Mrs. Catharine Matthews, of Tarboro, passed through last week en route to Durham.

Hon. J. C. Dancy, of Petersburg, made a rousing speech to our people last Saturday. Much good was done.

We are glad to know that Mr. Carter Burwell is able to be out again after a severe illness.

We are glad to know that Miss Ara Coble is improving from her recent attack.

What about the Parochial School this year in our town? Is it possible we are to be without any school whatever?

Mr. Haywood Mills went to Wilson last week. Of course it was lonely to Little Raleigh.

It will soon be McKinley day. Have you done your duty? If not, why not?

We are glad to know that Mrs. I. D. Hargett is much improved.

Edgemoor, that the Democrat try to do this year. Let the watchword be "Victory."

We heard a Democrat say last Monday that unless they could capture Edgemoor, Halifax and Northampton counties they could not carry North Carolina. The Republicans should take warning.

Tarboro Flashes.

TARBORO, N. C., Oct. 13th, 1896.

After a protracted illness, the many friends of Mrs. Geo. H. White are glad to see her out again.

Mrs. Wm. Williams took in the centennial of the D. C. Democrat, and to visit her sister, Mrs. Frontis Williams.

Miss Georgia A. Mathewson left for Durham on the 10th, on a visit to her cousin, Mrs. Dr. A. M. Moore. A pleasant surprise awaited her on her arrival in the shape of an unexpected visit from another very dear relative of this place. Mr. George Mathewson is doomed to keep bachelor's hall for a few days.

Prof. H. M. Butler is in a "Boro" with his graphophone. Coining silver. Snap Shots will turn up next week if the writer is well enough.

Miss Mamie D. Faithful is spending a few days in Greensboro.

Rev. J. W. Perry has been confined to his room for several days. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Esther B. Estor is on the sick list.

Mrs. C. C. Forbes was called home on account of the illness of a friend, to the regret of her many friends here.

It was reported on the streets of Tarboro Friday, that the Democrat candidate for Governor, Cy. Watson, had been taken down, and the Democrat vote pledged for Guthrie. If it is true, it has not been given to the public, but this writer will be surprised to hear of a combination that the Democrats make or attempt to make. They will do anything to beat Russell. Notwithstanding, Russell will be the next Governor of North Carolina. But we must say that politics make strange bed fellows nowadays.

Don't forget in whooping up McKinley for President, to whom up all the Republican candidates for President. Don't forget that Congress makes the laws; the President only executes them. For that reason Bryan asks the Democrats not to tie his hands with a Republican Congress in the next session.

Snap-Shots is sick this week.

Mrs. Caesar Forbes is quite sick at this writing.

Mr. Mathew J. Bryan, the erstwhile gallant of the "Boro," has but one girl on hand now. The other has gone to school.

Every father should vote for the school tax on the 3d. We must educate or be slaves for those who are educating the intelligent mind is the controlling force in this world of ours. Educate, and we need have no fears of election laws. Educate and the race problem will settle itself. That is the conclusion of our watchword, and our people were never more hopeful and determined.

The registration of our forces is larger than ever before, and has surprised the enemy so, that confusion reigns in their camp. Hon. Harry Skinner, the fusion candidate for Congress, will be elected by a large majority, while everything points to Republican success. I do not mean to say that the battle is over; it is fought and the victory won—we are now in the midst of the fray and the victory will depend on our labors through the campaign and our loyalty to the polls.

Yours for success,

L. R. RANDOLPH.

Washington, N. C.

Death of Mrs. Jordan Crump.

At Kittrell, N. C., October 7th, 1896, Sister Jennie Crump, the wife of Mr. Jordan Crump, of Kittrell, and the mother of J. D. Crump, of this city, passed away peacefully. She was faithful and true to her husband and a true worker in the Woman's Home Mission Society. On Friday before her death, the members of said Society met in the residence of Sister Crump, and after singing some beautiful hymns, prayer was offered up by Sister Malicia Tharrington. Sister Jennie got very happy. She said she would never meet her husband again, but she would meet him in heaven. She died in her 51st year, and leaves a devoted mother, husband, six boys and four girls. The community has lost one of its best neighbors, which will be a good lamentation. She was buried with the honors of the W. H. M. Society, of which she was a member.

All her children were under her bedside when she passed away, except her married daughter Lizzie, and her eldest son, J. D. Crump, who were telegraphed for; but they arrived just a few hours too late to bid her good-bye. May she rest in peace.

The Second Annual Holiness Convocation of North Carolina, Held at Oxford, Sep. 27th to Oct. 4th, 1896.

The first service was held at the Second Baptist Church Sunday at 5 A. M. At that early hour there was a good attendance. At eleven o'clock the introductory sermon was preached to a large number of attentive hearers. Text, John x. 10. The sermon was an able one, and was listened to with much interest. The 3 o'clock service was devoted to Bible reading, showing the Bible order of sanctification and holiness, and how to obtain it. The Convocation was a surprise to many, as it had been so badly misrepresented, but finding it made up of noble-hearted Christian men and women, occupying every position in the churches of the various denominations, from the layman to the pastor, the people willingly fell in line. "It has seldom been seen so harmoniously together as in this case." Acts iv. 31, 33.

The object of the Convocation is to build up and strengthen Christianity and not to tear down or injure any church or people. We had some very able sermons preached. The singing was good and captivating. The songs were in perfect harmony with the several denominations, working together for the promotion of holiness. Not a jar, no God seem to have been anything in his heart but perfect love to toward both God and man.

We inform Mr. F. B. Arendell of the News and Observer, that if it be true that 20,000 more negroes have registered than ever before, it is due to the fact that the election law passed by the Republican and Populist Legislature made it possible for every honest and legal elector to register, and they have registered. Under your rotten Democratic election law you were unable to prevent the registering of a great number of colored voters. By other and various methods your party was able, under that election law, to prevent from voting and to count out and under a thousand of negro voters on voting day.

Your weak effort, Mr. Arendell, and the weakens of other Democrats and Democratic newspapers, to raise the color line, is simply an attempt to prevent you from having the laboring class of white men stumbling and falling over for eighteen or twenty years. The working and farming whites came to the conclusion that they would support the Republican party, but finding that the Populist party had been fooling them long enough with that old, played-out stuff. It's a "boom erang" you and your party are trying to play now, since you failed to perfect your party with the Populist after your State Committee's two months' prayer and begging them to fuse with you.

Hon. Oscar J. Spears.

Editor of The Gazette.

Hon. Oscar J. Spears, a Republican Elector State-at-Large, held an audience of 2,000 spectators in the Grand Court house, October 23d. The gentleman was ably introduced by Mr. J. L. Hahn, chairman of Republican Executive Committee, and also the Republican nominee for Sheriff. The speaker grew eloquent for two long hours, and during this entire time Republicans were fed on Republican plaudits of applause.

The speaker reviewed the record of the Democratic party and compared it with the brilliant record of the Republican party. Eight hours the speaker grew eloquent and the crowd went wild over the beauty of language and his matchless force of argument for sound money and good government, a free ballot and a fair count.

Here he mentioned the name of the nation's choice for President, and at once the house went wild in applause for several minutes. He then mentioned the name of the nation's choice for Vice-President, and the audience gave vent to their feelings in a manner to guarantee and warrant the election of Mr. Russell Governor of North Carolina.

At the close of one of the most logical and unanswerable speeches ever delivered in our spacious court house, Capt. Robt. Hancock, nominee of the party for the Legislature, stepped forward and proposed that the Nation for the Nation's choice, ex-Governor Wm. McKinley, for President; ex-Judge Russell for Governor; Senator J. C. Pritchard to succeed himself, and for a general Republican landslide hereafter. This proposal was concurred in by the waving of four thousand hands going up and two thousand hats and handkerchiefs.

At Echo from Beaufort County—Hon. Zeb. Vance Walsler at Washington, N. C.

The East is aglow with political fire. Old Beaufort county will out do herself in the coming election. Never was the Republican party in better trim for battle. The speech of that grand statesman, Hon. Zeb. Vance Walsler, Republican, Hon. Zeb. Vance Walsler, filled every one with political enthusiasm, and its influence is seen and felt everywhere. Mr. Walsler went on and showed it up with his gloves on, and showed it up as the party of broken promises, etc.

That great Republican leader and prince of politicians of North Carolina, Hon. D. L. Russell, is the most popular man here, and Beaufort county will do what she has not done in many years—give him and the rest of the State and National ticket a handsome majority.

Hon. D. L. Russell, in his popular speech here, said Beaufort county will do what she has not done in many years—give him and the rest of the State and National ticket a handsome majority.
