INAUGURATION OF GOVERNOR.

Pending the official canvassing of the votes cast for Governor and other State officers, by the proper officer required by law to perform that task, we refrained from saying anything on the subject of own with Guthrie. gubernatorial ir auguration, as we did not care to be advising previous to the announcement of the result. Now that the vote has been officially canvassed, and the returns; show that Hon. Daniel L. Russell has been elected Governor of the State for the next four years, we can, without any impropriety whatever, speak of the inaugural ceremonies. That Judge Russell will be inaugurated Governor in January is a settled fact, but upon what date seems to be a matter of legal controversy. The Constitution says: "The the term of office of Governor and other S ate officers shall commence on the first day of January next after their election." It also provides that the votes for the Executive officers shall be opened and published by the Speaker of the House of Representatives in the presence of a mathe General Assembly. The Election law provides that this work shall be done on. the first Tuesday after the General Assembly organizes. Hence, the inauguration cannot take place the first day of January, owing to the fact of the latter General Assembly under another provision of the same instrument does not meet until the 6th day of January.

and make a certainty of the time, the General Assembly at its session of 1893 passed an act providing that the Governor and other State officers should be inaugurated on the second Wednesday after the Legislature meets, which this time would be the 23d day of January. But it is contended by some of the legal fraternity that that act was repealed by the last Legislature in enacting the election law, and that there is now no law upon the statute books fixing the date of inauguration, and that the Governor must be inaugurated as soon as the Speaker, in the presence of a majority of the members of the two Houses, opens the returns and declares the result. But let all of that be as it will or may, the date can readily and easily be determined by those interested in a short time after the result is declared.

What we started out to say was, that we hope that there will be no great or unnecessary demonstration upon the part of Republicans and Populists on whatever date the new officers take charge of the reigns of government. As there is so much uncertainty as to the date of inauguration, it would be unwise for people to come to Raleigh in great numbers to witness the event as they might either be too early or too late, as the exact date may not be decided upon until after the Speaker of the House of Representatives performs his duty in the premises.

We would suggest, and we hope it will meet the approval of all of our political friends, that after the result is announced by the Speaker that the Governor-elect then and there in the presence of the two houses take the oath of office and submit such remarks as he may desire to make then, and at a later date communicate with the two houses in writing.

Again, we would suggest that the inaugural ball, which, under the Democratic party, has usually cost the State the snug sum of five hundred dollars, be dispensed with, and that that sum of money be left in the State Treasury to help swell the educational fund for the benefit of the children who attend the public schools. Our people were elected for business and not for fun, and we hope that they will begin the business of looking after the people's interests and removing Democrats at once.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE OF NORTH

CAROLINA. In another column will be found the official result of the votes cast in North Carolina on the 3d day of November for of the election returns .- New York Tri-President, Governor and other State offi- bune. cers, Justices of the Supreme Court. Judge of the Superior Court and Congressmen, as canvassed by the Secretary of State as required by law. The Ga-ZETTE is the first newspaper in the State to give the vote for President and State officers in the same issue. This has been cemparisons of the votes cast for these candidates that they might feel inclined this matter will duly be appreciated by those who so generously favor us with their patronage. The greatest number of votes ever polled in the history of the State was cast this year, the next greatest being in the Presidential election of 1888, when 285,000 were cast. The vote of this year exceeds that by 45,000, and the vote of 1892, another Presidential year, by 51,000, and exceeds the vote of two years ago by 56,000. This was a year indeed in which the people of the State voted as never before without fear of molestation, and it was all because of the just, fair and honest election law passed by the fusion Legislature of two years ago. In analyzing the vote cast to determine the relative strength of the three political parties, you cannot take the vote of McKinley nor Russell to represent the Republicans, for while McKinley received the entire Bepublican vote he also received the votes of many sound money Democrats, as in the case of Russell while receiving the solid Republican vote he also received the votes of many Populists who would not vote for Guthrie. The vote of Reynolds will show the ty. Taking his vote as a basis, it will be | man and a protectionist, they advised seen that McKinley received 2,307 more votes than Reynolds, this must represent the number of sound money Democrats who voted for McKinley. As Russell received 1,137 more votes than Reynolds, this shows the number of Populists who voted for him against Guthrie. There were doubtless Populists who scratched Guthrie but did not vote for Russell. The Bryan vote will not give you the Democratic strength, because of the fact that Bryan received thousands of Populists votes. The nearest that you can come to their strength is to take the Watson vote, which is 7,699 less than the Reynolds vote. It must be borne in mind, that the sound money Democrats voted solidly for Watson, so when you take his vote as a basis you give his party the benefit of every vote which they can possibly call their own. The Dockery vote more nearly represents the strength of the Populist party than does that of Guthie. Dockery ran about 2,000 votes ahead of Guthrie, but it comes from the fac:s before stated that about 1,200 Populists voted for Russell instead of Guthrie, and about 800 refused to vote for either Russell or Guthrie. The vote does not show that Dockery was able to carry a single Republican with him, and in the c unus in the Pee Dee section where it was supposed he would make great inroads if anywhere, he barely holds his

Taking the Reynolds vote as the Republican basis, there are 152,000 Republicans in the State. Taking the Walson vote as the Democratic basis, there are 145,000 Democratic voters in the State. Taking the Dockery vote as the Populist basis, there are 33,000 Populisis in the

Now add the Republican and Populist vote together to represent the fusion on State officers, except Governor and Lieut. Governor, which exi-ted between them, and you have 185,000 which, in round numbers, is the Worth vote for State Treasurer. And if you will add the Democratic and Populist vote together, you will get 178 000, which is about 3,500 more votes than the Bryan vote upon which they fused, and shows that about that number of Democrats for one reason or another failed to vote the electoral ticket. Of course the sound money Democrats must be taken from that number. We shall keep our election figures standing for several weeks in order to enable those who may desire to do so to analyze jority of the members of both houses of | the votes fully and make such comparisons as they may desire.

Bryan's Popular Support.

Political pessimists-and they are not confined to Wall Street-who are murmuring because Bryan's popular vote was so large, will do well to ponder the article requirement of the Constitution, as the of our Washington correspondent on this subject in The Tribune of Tuesday. No more interesting analysis of the election returns has yet been set forth. It is a The occasion brought forth one of the powerful battery of facts and figures, and largest crowds that has ever gathered in In order to avoid these conflicting dates one that makes sad havor of Bryan's Ruth Hall, and from all points it proved claims of overwhelming popular support | a most gratifying success. for free silver and anarchy.

The examination made was for the purpose of ascertaining the actual character of the foundation upon which rests the Popocratic contention that the masses of the people were really with Bryan in the late election. To this end a comparison has been made between the official election returns that have been received thus far from Southern States with the census figures from those same States, and the result contrasted with a similar result in Northern S. ates. For example, the eleven h census showed that there were 325,-000 voters in Alabama, of which 141,000 were colored men; but in the late Presidential election the total number of votes cast was only 195,000, or about 130,000 less than the total voting population in 1890. In Minnesota the total voting population in 1890 was about 376,000; the total number of wotes returned this year was about 341,000, or only 35,000 less than the total number of men of voting age, according to the last census. In other words, less than 60 per cent. of Alabama's voting population took part in the election, while over 90 per cent. of Minnesota's voters cast their ballots. Of the total vote in Alabama, By yan received 131,000, a plurality of 76,000, or about 39 per cent. of the total number of votes cast; in Minnesota, McKinley received about 193,-000, a plurarity of about 54 000, or less than 16 per cent. of the total votes cast. Thus, while Alabama's total "popular" vote was 146,090, or 40 per cent. less than in Minnesota, yet the plurality returned for Bryan in Alabama was 22,000 (or 46 per cent.) more than McKinley's plurality in Minnesota. And yet, in the face of such figures the Bryanites have the au-voters, and the "popular" vote for their Suppose the 141,000 colored Republican voters of Alabama had been permitted to exercise their constitutional rights with the same freedom that was allowed the 139.000 Popocratic voters in Minnesota; to them. does any one doubt that Bryan would have been repudiated there? The South is the stronghold or Popocracy, as it was of Bourbon Democracy, only by that exercise of force and lawlessness which has made elections in the Southern States | oft-repeated phrase that "the horse that a disgrace to the good name of the na-

The results in Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana are even more impressive than in Alabama, and entirely justify the assertion that where the great pluralities for Bryan were not manufactured outright, as in Virginia and Tennessee, they have, throughout the South, been falsified in such a manner as to make every reputable follower of Bryan hang his head in shame and confusion. In the face of all these lying returns the popular vote in favor of the Republican cancitates is still over a million. With hones, elections in every Southern State, McKinley's plurality would have been double that number. The "popular uprising" in behalf of Bryan and free silver is a sham and a delusion, and is fully demonstrated to be so by the figures

What it Cost to Vote for McKinley.

To the Editor of the Tribune. SIR: Passing through the village of Elon I found a great stir in the town. Thinking some horrible deed had been done at a great deal of painstaking effort | committed which had aroused the rightand some additional cost to us in order | eous indignation of its high-toned citito give our readers the benefit of any zens, I asked who was the offender and what was his crime. To my great surprise, I found the party to be no less a to make. We know that our efforts in | personage than the Rev. Dr. J. U. Newman, a professor in the college. I was shocked, because I knew Professor Newman had long been one of the leaders in educational and religious work of his church, long honored as one of the most scholarly men in the faculty, sometimes called "the dynamo of Elon College," and for two years chairman of the faculty. Under him the college had reached the highest success yet attained. What changes one day had brought! From students and citizens I heard such expressions as "No more confidence in his Christianity;" "No Christian would have done as he has."

"What crime has he committed?" I eagerly inquired. Voted for McKinley and Tom Settle," was the muttered answer. "We did him up last night; wonder how he felt this morning when he found one of his buildings down and his place placarded with 'We have no sympathy with such men as McKinley and Dr. J. U. Newman. I learned on further investigation that Professor Newman had a family dep ndent on his salary, and it was confidently predicted that he could not get another position in this section. Also, that to help the college in starting he had borrowed money, and since the election the mortgage had been placed in a lawyer's hands for foreclosure at once. Some think no Popocrat will lend him a cent to prevent foreclosure, and no R publican here is able to help him, and Profes sor Newman's present predicament will put an end to respectable white men puting themselves on a level with the ne-

I have given these facts to show northera readers what moral heroism it requires to break with Bourbon Democracy. Happenings on the Cape Fear.

On Tuesday evening, the 24th ult., the ladies of Japtha Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, held a reception at Gibbon Lodge, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. J. Leak. Both of the ladies are daughters of Mr. John Taylor, the popular porter at the Orton, and members of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Hill having been married on November 18th and Mrs. Leak earlier in the fall. The tables were laden with all the delicacies of the season and were presided over by those princesses of the household, M-s dames Robert McDonaid, J. J. Geyer, Robert Noies, W. B. Collins, Moore, and Miss Carrie Green. It is needless to say that everybody had a delightful time.

Hon. George H. White, Congressmanelect from the Second D strict, was seen on our streets receiving the congratulations of his host of friends, for he is as well known in Wilmington as in Newbern or Tarboro.

Adelphia Lodge, No. 3930, G. U. O. of O. F., and Free Love, No. 1469, celebrated their joint anniversary on Thanksgiving Day by a parade around the city from the lodge room, up to St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, where a very able and instructive address was delivered by Bro. P. N. F. Rev. W. M. Jackson, of Adelphia, P. N. F. John T. Howe acting as master of ceremoni s. At night a festival was given at Ruth Hall, which was opened by a grand march by the Odd Fellows, and a very fite paper by Miss Lottie Wright of Eureka Household of Ruth,

Mrs. James B. Dudley, held an unique "Thanksgiving Evening" at her pleasant home on North 4th street, complimentary to the members of the Chautauquan Lit erary Society. Some of Wilmington's most clever people were there and enjoyed themselves immensely. Miss Nellie Chesnut's "Calling up of the Ancien s" was highly appreciated. Mr. Charles W. Norwood, Register of Dieds-elect, is ready with his bond, waiting to present it to the County Commissioners on next Monday; meanwhile speculation is rife as to whom he will select as his assistant, and while there are many aspirants in the field and all good and efficient men, rumor has it that Mr. A. L. Manly, of th : Record, has the inside track, which, if true, will certainly give great satisfaction to a large consituency, tecause of Mr. Manly's unselfish work during the late campaign.

Everybody wants to know what the Legislature is going to do relative to the city of Wilmington, which, although a Republican stronghold, has been so gerrymandered by Democratic Leg slatures that for the past twenty-five years that party has completely controlled everything hereabouts.

Our new Board of County Commissioners will enter upon their duties in a few days, and it is noped that there will be additions made to our school facilities, for they are altogether too crowded both for the comfort of the pupils and for the success of the teachers.

The Chestnut Street Presbyterian Church gave a very successful entertainment Wednesday evening at Maria Hall, corner 8.h and Princess streets, and a very prominent widower drew the prize doll. J. E. Taylor, Esq., Assistant City Clerk and Treasurer, spent Thanksgiving in Washington, D. C. St. Stephen's A. M. E. church is highly elated over the return of their beloved pastor, Rev. E. J. Gregg, this being the fifth year that he will have administered Much criticism is given toward the Police Commission for keeping Democrats on the force while the men who labored hardest for the Republican party are doing nothing, notwithstanding the pulls the plow should eat the fodder." T. JOHNSON.

BETHEL, N. C., Nov. 20, 1896. Mr. Editor: Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to report a grand celebration of the McKinley and Russell Club of Parmel e and Bethel, which took place November 19th. The parade took place at Parmelee. At this place an immense crowd assembled and | War waited for the fife band which was to give the club music all the way from Parmelee to Bethel. The club consisted of about 500 persons, men, women and children. They left Parmelee at 11:30, arrived in Bethel at 12:15, and after marching through and around the town we were cheered by a few short speeches, Bru after which we marched to the upper part of the town where a grand dinner of whole shoats barbecued waited our New arrival. Mr. Mack G. Rogers was at the Pen head of the procession and also acted as Rich superintendent of the reception. After Rob dinner the club marched down Main Uni street near the railroad and halted until a photo of the club could be taken. After which we had music and returned to our homes overwhelmed with joy. ARKANSAS BAPTIST COLLEGE, LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 21, 1896. JAS. H. YOUNG, Editor Gazette, Raleigh,

Dear Sir: Having known of your paper for some time, I have wished to subscribe for it and now seize the opportunity. Though not at home, you will please find an order for a year's subscription($1.50). The paper will please be sent to Mrs. Harriette A. Hill, 1006, Love St., Wilmington, N. C. For the past two years I have been engaged as a tutor in this institution, so that I am not at home very much, yet my interests are in North Carolina still.

Perhaps you may remember Johnnie A. Hill of Class of '94, Shaw University? I remember you. Our's is wholly a colored faculty. The school is fostered by the colored Baptists of the State with the assistance of the A. B. H. M. Society. We have connected with our school a paper, the "Baptist Vanguard," an organ both of the denomination and of the school. Pres. Booker is editor and the work is all done in our office by the stu- Jones dents, and we would be glad to exchange | Moore with you if you have no objections. We Onslow will forward you a copy.

Hoping early reply, I am respectfully

JOHNNIE A. HILL.
