Reception and Banquet Complimentary to the Colored Members of the General Assembly.

The reception and banquet tendered the colored members of the General Assembly of 1897, on Thursday evening, the 14th inst., at Odd Fellows' Hall, by the citizens of Raleigh, was a splendid affair in every detail. It brought together a magnificent array of representative characters in all the walks of life. Youth and beauty in all its loveliness was there. being confined to her room with a case of la grippe. We hope she will soon be out again in wonted health.

High intellectuality shone out on all sides. The dignity of maturer years graced the occasion, which has taken its place among the historic social events of the "City of Oaks."

The banquetting hall on the second floor was tastefully decorated in the tri colored emblem of our National Union, the pictures of McKinley and Hobart being conspicuously displayed upon a back-ground of stars and stripes. Here were arranged three long tables, which were ladened with all the good things of the season. On the third floor was the reof ladies and gentlemen, who did not fail to render such service as made all feel happy. Haywood's fine orchestra lent the charms of its sweet strains to the evening's enjoyment. After introductions and pleasant social chats, Rev. Jos. Perry, master of ceremonies, introduced the members of the General Assembly, who made short speeches. This part of the program concluded, the large assemblage repaired to the hall below where the bountiful tables were discussed for an hour and a half. Among those present we note the follow-

Col. James E. Boyd of Greensboro, N. C. Col. James E. Boyd came down from Greensboro Sunday and returned home Monday afternoon. We were glad to meet him and exchange a word or two. Col. Boyd is one of the most able Republicans in the State; yes, in the South. He is a representative man of the truest type; one that every man, woman and child can approach. The Colonel is an able jurist and a fine campaigner. The Republican party in this State has had a faithful friend in Col. Boyd. He is an original KcKinley man. At many Na-tional Conventions back Col. Boyd has always said McKinley—McKinley for President. It is said that Maj. McKinley will handsomely reward this faithful friend of his with a good appointment. Col. Boyd is a man who is full of appreciation, and he never forgets an act of kindness done him, nor neither does he ever fail to remember a friend. We would like to see Col. Boyd honored with a place in President McKinley's cabinet.

Eastern Snap Shots.

Hon. Geo. H. White was on the streets Saturday returning from Washington, D. C., as were Representatives E. E. Bryan and J. H. Dancy, who ran from "grip germs" to let their 'stituents see them. Well, our Populist allies nominated Cy.

Thompson for United States Senator expecting, of course, the Democrats to aid them in electing him, which they will do | Meal, 15 cents per peck; 95 cts. per sack. even though the pill is nauseating to them ere this is in type. We hope Jeter C. Pritchard, the Republican nominee, will be chosen senator. Grant it.

Well, many a man nas searned that it's better to be cautious when dealing with the political leopard.

Congressman White purchased the Clayton residence for $1,200 and gets immediate possession.

Rev. M. D. Matthewson, the beloved pastor of St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church, lies very ill at this writing with pneumonia and la grippe. It is safe to say that this servant of God is only wrest-ling with the disease that has him, for he has his baggage checked should the Mas-ter call. He is truly an exemplary character, practicing what he preaches. If Tarboro had about a dozen earnest Christian men like him and the venerable Cain we should have no fears of what the batties for Christ would accomplish. Our hope and prayer is for his recovery.

Madame White, of Connecticut, made an excellent impression at the A. M. E. Zion Church last Friday night and at Odd Fellows' Hall Monday night. Her address on Sunday was a gem. She was emphatic in her declaration "that the South is not as black as she is painted."

District supervision or county supervision. Which? No man can surpass this writer in doing honor to such a noble, broad guaged, unselfish race man as the late inimitable Price. We lost sight of the Spartanburg College honor to him, which we now recall and stand corrected, even though the writer of the editorial squib in the Star of Zion needs to be trained in the school of Christian culture and refinement. Price first, Washington second, to address a Southern college, eh?

This humble writer is, to some, more conservative than he should be, yet I am radical enough to urge that our political leaders should stop creating fat places for white men, and yet no lean ones even for themselves. Now is the time to make de-mands, and I would say to black men, whether friend or foe, seek a place to stand or else keep your peace in future.

Mrs. H. H. Falkner nee Madgie Mitchell is expected in the "Boro" at this writing. She has been spending some time at the national capital. She is a genial lady of Dr. W. J. Lawrence, a rugged, good man is dead. He was a friend of education and a Populist.

Will North Carolina colored men be as far apart under the McKinley administration as they were under Harrison.

W. E. Fountain, Esq., has been elected
Chairman of the Populist party Executive Committee. The Republicans elected him by a large majority, and now he works harder to defeat Pritchard than he did to secure his own election. Well, this is honorable, and a man is a good Republican who does this. ESSE QUAM VIDERI.

Old Ladies' Dinner.

A handsome and very beautiful table of very choice food was set at the Royal Knight's Hall last Friday, December 25, knight's Hall last Friday, December 25, 1896. This dinner was, in the main, given by Mr. John T. Pullen, a true Christian-hearted gentleman as well as a tried friend to everybody, especially the poor and needy. His donation was supplemented by that of others.

At 2:30 o'clock Prof. E. A. Johnson interest Mr. Pullen to the ladies after troduced Mr. Pullen to the ladies, after which Mr. Pullen led in prayer. He also talked a few minutes from 1st Chronicles. Everybody in the house appeared to enjoy his timely remarks. Mr. Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer, being present as a spectator, was next introduced. He gave a touching talk of his love for the aged. Several old ladies were seen shedding and Robert Wright, Capt. P. C. Cobb and wife, A. W. Ingram, Mr. C. L. Gary and alss Rachel Alston, Mr. R. H. There were sixty old ladies served at the table and twelve old men. Forty dinners were sent to afflicted old ladies, who were unable to come. After all the aged were bountifully supplied, the committee, friends and all the little children standing around the building, forty-five in number, were plentifully served. The committee extend thanks to the Royal Knights for the hall, also to all persons who helped in anyway. Total number served, one hundred and fifty-seven (157); amount given by Mr. Pullen, $26 and 100 boxes of candy. Many thanks to Mr. Pullen for his liberal

Free Dispensary.

A free dispensary is to be opened shortly in the Pharmacy Building at Shaw University. This will supply a long-felt want. At stated hours members of the medical faculty will be present and can be consulted by poor colored people who otherwise would be deprived of medical attendance. Medicines will be furnished when the patients are unable to purchase when the patients are unable to purchase them. The opening of this free dispensary has been made possible by General Morgan, of New York, presenting to President Meserve his personal check of $100 for this purpose. It will be remembered that during the late war General Morgan commanded a brigade of colored troops. His interest in the colored race still apprives in time of peace. still survives in time of peace.

To the Members of the North Carolina Legislature:

We (representing a part of the teachers of Wake county) earnes ly feel that it would be a great improvement to our schools if you would grant us a County Superintendent instead of a County Examiner. Should you at any time grant us a County Superintendent, please in-vest him with the power of looking after the improvement of country schools. In most districts the schools are suffering for the want of good teachers; and we would like to know whether the School Committee have power to set the teachers' salary lower than that stated by law? Yours truly,
