MR. SKINNER GIVES THE REASON FOR THE FAITH IN HIM.

Col. Harry Skinner, in answer to enquiries as to what would be his defence against the add ess of Senator Butler, gave out the following reply :

The public is entitled to a truthful review of the facts preceding and surrounding the recent Senatorial election in North Carolina. I will undertake to make this without unnecessary prejudice or passion; and as far as possible, without retaliation. I am willing personally to bear any cross my enemies may choose to fix upon me, if out of the present conditions I can still further serve silver as I have ever heretofore done at a greater sacrifice than any man in the State.

As initatory to the great reforms contemplated by the Alliance as an educator to the Populist party as the moving political party to secure them, the North Carolina Senatorial election has been unduly magnified. This has been done on lines that are deceiving to the plam, honest voter, whether he be Democrat, Republican or Populist, and for the potent purpose of making the leading factor, Senator Butler, attain his ultimate selfish ends in wrecking or causing to be absorbed or dissolved the Populist party. Let us lift the veil and let the truth in. A silver Senator is not necessary at this hour to save either the cause of financial reform or the Populist party, and it is so great a public injury to so grossly deceive the people as almost to constitute a public crime.

denials of this charge were made, a great If honorably we could have elected a many openly admitted So far as the Populist Senator he could not have been First District is concerned, co-operation potent or effective during the next four between the Republicans and Populists years in advancing the cause of the Popuwas perfected upon this basis by resolution list party, or the cause of financial repassed by the Republican and Populist Congressional Convention. Mr. Skinner form of which silver is only initiatory. I challenge any Populist in the nation to demonstrate wherein. When the public had met at his appointments this open charge, and as far as that district is confully realizes this truth, then the natural cerned, both as to himself and to meminquiry arises, Why magnify this North bers of the Legislature, the matter was Carolina Senatorial contest? The answer is irresistible that it is done either for the purpose of serving the ambition of Senator Butler or else to serve his ends in showing to the country that he absolutely owns and controls the Populist party in North Carolina and, on failure, his ultimate purpose to disintegrate it. We must presume that Senator Butler is possessed of ordinary intelligence, and knows the consequence of certain actions notwithstanding his talk in caucus or private to the contrary In the election of Senator Pritchard we have secured a free silver and financial reform Senator. One who can and will be more potent and effective than any Populist could possibly be in the next four years, and we have secured this result upon the high plane of maintaining principle with the respect of all parties and classes of people by preserving our integrity and good faith. Behind this action we have the leading Populists of the nation, nine tenths of the reform press, a large portion of the Knights of Labor, and in North Carolina nearly all of the original prominent Populisto, T could mention and give a list of several hundred names but for space. brazenly inconsistent method in this Senatorial contest was the public declaration by him that no self respecting Populist would accept Republican patronage. But strange to say (and this is novel in North Carolina) that Mark Hanna and the entire Republican party wanted Dubois defeated and punished because he that he was attempting to get gold-bugs in disguise upon the ticket. If we have each member of the minority faction, for silver above his party action, and in the contest we find Senator Butler the offer of patronage to induce them to ally and confederate of Mark Hanna to defeat a national champion of silver. all the people all the time." His last address only shows what I have predicted is about to take place; that, failing in his antifions, he would use his power to disintegrate or dissolve the party not possessing the courage to change political fronts.

The country should know in the beginning of this fight I tried to bring about harmony, going so far as to pledge Senator Butler to support him in his national fight or to succeed himself, if he would only disclose his hand and let me know his policies, and if they met my approval, and so long as I thought him a sincere friend of silver, I would stand by him. The Situation.

I desire a parting word relative to the scism now existing in the People's

Mr. Butler, in a speech immediately after he and Mr. Pritchard had been elected to the United States Senate, remarked to the effect that Mr. Pritchard will have the long term, six years. In other words, that he would, after the expiration of the two year term, succeed himself.

Now, it is evident that the Populist and Republican members, who had jointly voted Mr. Butler into the Senate, believed that at the expiration of two years Mr. Pritchard was to be returned to the Senate-as a Republican-with the expectation that he would adhere to Re-

We have the legislature and the legislature has the power to change the city charters where timely notice has been given. In the name of simple justice this should be

Are They Right ?

Mr. Editor :- Will you allow me space n your waluable columns to say a few words in relation to a revolution, which is now taking place at South Creek, N. C. Some time since quite a number of white people came from Virginia, Maryland and Delaware on floats or arks. They claim to be sanctified and holy, both soul and body, saying that they do not sin, and are saved every moment of their lives, and do not ask God to forgive their trespasses, but only thank Him for what He has done, which doctrine they boldly advocate, declaring that they do God's biddings, and are always happy. They are causing quite a sensation. A number of colored people have left their churches, and there were about twenty-five white people excluded from one church on the same theory It is said that they do not baptize nor participate in the Lord's Supper.

In 1892 the middle-of-the-road fight with Republican encouragement and local support resulted in seven members | to name a Populist, and he (Skinner) of the Legislature and about 40,000 votes. In 1894 co-operation was perfected under a construct that a Populist should succeed Senator Ransom and a Republican Senator Vance and his successor; fair election laws and a non-partisan judiciary and a practical distribution of local patronage resulted in an overwhelming defeat of Democracy, a non-partisan judiciary, and through the Legislature the election of Senator Butler to the long date. All thinking people knew that term Senatorship and Senator Pritchard to the short term Senatorship, with the understanding that he should be his own successor, and atterwards the establishment of our present election law. The time meant his retirement in 1900; and contract was reaffirmed by Senator But- consequently he would not name a Popler in his speech of acceptance. He has done so repeatedly in public or private Democrats because he wanted to be cersince. If Senator Butler had had the tain that his nominee could not possibly short term he would never have attempted to violate this contract; and further, the good faith that the Republicans have Dr. Cyrus Thompson, who was commitshown in all matters of co-operation convinces us that Senator Butler in standing for re-election under the terms of co-operation would have been elected without any opposition."

Some facts concerning the election of Senator Butler should be known. Senator Pritchard could have made a combination, and have secured the long term, but he was too honorable to do so and rejected the proposition. Mr. Skinner was invited into a combination whereby he could have defeated both Senalicly, through the press and otherwise, that this Senatorship, under the contract of co-operation and under obligations raised for favors received, belonged to a Republican, but he contended that it should be some other Republican than Senator Pritchard. Opposition to Senator Pritchard, so far as the world knows, was based entirely on personal grounds. In the caucus, held at Raleigh about the time the Legislature convened, Senator Butler took the position that a Republican should be nominated. He was asked if Senator Pritchard declared for silver did he believe that he would keep faith. He replied that he thought Senator Pritchard would do whatever he promised to do. He was then asked in open caucus to name what Republican he would desire to nominate. This he refused to do. However, it was understood on the outside that he was playing Dr. Mott and Oliver Dockery, as Republicans, not for the purpose of electing them, but to divert Republican strength. platform. It was even suggested that in order to destroy and humiliate Senator sell, and he even went to the extent of saying that he would support any other Republican regardless of his financial reasons for the election of Senator Pritchard, saying at the same time, that Senator Pritchard was the caucus and conpublican party, and had made such a he would then and there challenge him would assist him to secure his election. This challenge Senator Butler refused to accept. If Butler was sincere in wanting a Populist Senator he should have accepted this challenge when made when all were present in the caucus, and would have been bound by its action. Please allow us to say through your valuable paper that Sir F. C. Sadgwar, G. K. of R. and S., paid Damon Lodge of P. an official visit on January 30. He spoke both eloquently and earnestly to the Sir Knights of Charlotte in their Castle Hali, Saturday night. His encouraging words stirred much interest and enthusiasm in Pythianism among the brethren in the Queen City. They infused new life and vigor.

At the request of the brethren, Sir Sadgwar, G. K. of R. and S. delivered a most interesting and instructive address to the Sir Knights and their friends on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock, with results that will be seen to the benefit of our noble Order.

We congratulate the Grand Lodge for sending among us such a worthy and presentative Grand Officer.

We are proud, also, to know that such distinguished men as Dr. J. D. Sunders, President of Biddle University, the learned Professors of said University, and our most popular and eloquent divine, Rev. C. H. Williamson, took great pleasure in again have risen to its feet as a promi- paying the highest respect to one of our Grand officers.

It should show to others that our great object or aspiration is to elevate the race along all lines of moral, financial and ocial life. Sir F. C. Sadgwar was the guest of Sir J. L. Walker and Dr. Sanders while in our city, and will not be soon forgotten. He left for Fayetteville on the 5:20 train Monday A. M. Yours fraternally, valuable paper. We had a lovely time during the holidays, but nothing to compare with this week. Mme. Marie White and her select company have been through, and given us one of the grandest concerts ever given in this city. The Odd Fellows' Hall was packed to its utmost capacity. I received letters stating that churches and halls in Wilson and Tarboro were packed to overflowing. Her audience here were composed of both white and colored, and everyone thoroughly carried away with her marvelous voice. She is indeed won derful. She excels any singer that I have ever heard. tor Pritchard and Senator Butler. He refused to do so, having been elected to Congress, believing that the people ex-pected that Senator Butler should be returned to the Senate. Everybody knows that Senator Butler will not dare deny that if the Republicans had named the strongest gold-bug in North Carolina as caucus nominee he would have caused and advised, under the terms of cooperation, for the Populists to have voted for the Republican named, in doing so thereby securing his own election. This is too plain when it is known that Senator Butler so managed as to cause the election of Mr. Settie in the Fifth District over a true silver man, such as Judge Graham, and tried to secure the time without my knowledge of their conelection of Cheatham, a colored gold-bug over Dr. Freeman, the Populist nominee

From the best information that I can fied their course as the only one open to obtain, the differences between Senator honorable men, and I will defend their Butler and Senator Pritchard arose on the reorganization of the Senate. Major Grant, the warm personal and political confidant of Senator Butler, by the influence of Senator Pritchard, was nominated Sergeant at Arms in the Senate. For Thompson will be heard from. It was of which material he has constituted a further suggested that there was a concert of action between the Democratic caucus and Senator Butler personally, but this fact he never disclosed to his own caucus, but always entered a disclaimer.

I can name three men who would have been mutually satisfactory to Senator Butler and the Democratic caucus. neither of whom was Dr. Thompson, or either of the Republicans already named. The Populist members who adhered to their campaign pledges, and whose consciences directed independent action in the Senatorial election acted without any previous concert of purpose, and at the templated action, but after knowing the caucus that precipitated the movement, I want to say that I unqualifiedly justiaction at all times, and under all circumstances, whenever vindication requires it, against the wanton abuses and scurrilous attacks, both of the press and Senator Butler.

majority of his Central Committee. As a Poplist I bow to no such unwarranted and arbitrary authority. I plant myself upon the basic principles of the Populist party, and since the majority cancus of Senator Butler have appealed to the country, I want to unqualifiedly meet the challenge, and to say I accept his appeal to the people, and to show good faith on the part of myself and friends. I propose that since there are to divide.

differences arising, why we should continue co-operation with Republicans, and the majority caucus has formally ended this. We propose that Senator Butler, Congressman Shuford, Congressman Skinner, Congressman Strowd, Congressman Martin, and Congressman Fowler and Treasurer Worth, Secretary of State Thompson, Auditor Ayer, Superintendent of Public Instruction Mebane, Judge Montgomery, Judge Clark and all other Populists holding office by Republican support or sufferance in State, district or county, shall send their resignations to take effect when their successors shall be re-appointed or selected, as shall be pro-
