

NOTICE—Subscribers whose time has expired, will please come forward and renew their subscriptions, or their names will be dropped, as the new management requires it.

Marriage and funeral notices, in advance, fifty cents. Standing and transient notices, per line, five cents each insertion.

RALEIGH, N. C., APRIL 10, 1897.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW.

Mr. S. C. Nixon paid us a pleasant visit last week.

Rev. S. S. Henderson, of Greensboro, is in the city.

Mr. D. J. Emerson is taking a few days rest in this city.

Mr. N. B. Buchanan, of Sanford, is in the city on business.

The Independent movement is gathering force in Raleigh.

Hon. J. H. Dancy, of Edgecombe, was in the city this week.

Picnic hams $2c per pound, grits 2c per pound, at Woolcott & Sons.

Mr. William Rogers favored us with a cash renewal last week. Thanks.

We will speak of the "boys" that we met in Washington at a later period.

Dr. D. A. Lane took a day off last Friday, and spent the day with his editor.

The Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Masons are now ready for distribution.

Mr. S. C. Dixon, just closed a successful term of school at Holly Springs.

Go to J. L. Alston's, corner McDowell and South streets, to buy your groceries.

We greet Messrs. Murray and Badger find that it is hard to "down the ring."

Thanks to Miss Ella Higgs for a cash subscription, through Mr. G. A. Mial last week.

Mr. John H. Foreman, of Norfolk, was last week called to the bedside of his sick mother.

The Excelsior Club gave a well attended banquet last Wednesday evening at True Reformers' Hall.

"New Era Institute," at Piney Grove Church, Granville county, near Greensboro, has just closed its term.

The most of the court-house rings were broken up in 1896, and now the city rings must be destroyed.

W. C. Stronach & Sons, the well-known grocery men, will do you right. Call and see them.

Don't forget that the Richardson restaurant is the place to get good fare. Meals at all hours.

Mr. Alfred Winston, a successful farmer of Franklin county, was in the city a few days last week.

Messrs. Mills, Clay and others, of the Medical Department of Shaw University, left the city Tuesday last week.

Mrs. Lizzie Smith, of West Raleigh, is just very ill. Mrs. Lizzie has been sick quite a while. We trust she may be up soon.

Miss Ella Higgs, formerly of this city, but now of Norfolk, Va., spent a few days visiting friends in Washington City last week.

Tex. Collector Hutchings was sacrificed to save others. We greet you, Mr. Hutchings, as the man slain that the ring might be saved.

Mrs. Primus Haywood was called to the bedside of her sick daughter, Mrs. W. A. Dunn, at Youngsville, but has returned, and glad to say she is much better.

Miss Sarah A. Thomas has closed her school at Eagle Rock, and was in the city attending the medical commencement at Shaw last week.

Rev. W. H. A. Williams, of Washington, N. C., passed through the city last Friday, returning home from a visit to his old home in Durham.

The beautiful little town of Lumberton has again been visited by a disastrous fire, destroying a large portion of the business part of the town.

Mr. J. W. McCulloch, one of Shaw's promising pharmaceutical students, left the city Saturday last week for his home in Lancaster, S. C., where he will resume his former position in the drug-store.

Mr. Thomas Rogers and Mr. B. M. Montague favored us with cash renewals. Mr. Rogers is teaching in Cedar Fork Township, near Polkville. Mr. Montague closed his school near Six Forks on Friday.

A grand social was given by Mr. and Mrs. Gregory out of respect to those who took part in the concert Friday evening of last week, at the Methodist church. The affair was a brilliant one and highly appreciated by the guests.

The Democrats of the Third Ward nominated bark-per for Alderman. Did Wilson Donaldson and the three other negro voters cause this to be done? There is demand for some more sermons on the liquor men in certain quarters.

The Republicans and Populists control the rural districts of every county in North Carolina, and they should now capture the cities and towns. With judicious management this can be done in nearly every place in the State this spring.

Mr. Stead Lumsden should remember that history repeats itself and if his son, who has been nominated, should be defeated by an independent, it should be to him as a gentle reminder of the days of 1888, when he himself posed as an independent.

One of the most progressive men on the present Board of Aldermen was defeated for re-nomination Monday night, because he was supposed to be friendly to the liquor men, but then he lived in the First instead of the Third Ward. We advise him to change wards.

The Republicans of Charlotte now have the opportunity of their lives, and we hope that they will avail themselves of it by defeating the "Wedding Ring." If nothing else is accomplished, you have driven from power one of the most arrogant rings that infest our State.

Mrs. Agnes Evans died Monday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. Her last words in regard to her future home was consoling to her many friends. Funeral exercises took place at the Fayetteville Street Baptist Church Tuesday evening at 4 o'clock, Rev. T. B. Edwards officiating.

The funeral of Rev. H. P. Fryer was preached last Sunday morning at Lincolnville Church, by Rev. J. S. Dorey. Rev. Fryer, when on earth, was a worthy divine and beloved by all who knew him. The church was filled to its utmost capacity with those who came to pay the last tribute of respect to this faithful Christian.

We are sorry to note the death of the little daughter of Mrs. Katie McIntyre, of Portsmouth. She passed away Tuesday night of last week, aged about five months. The remains were brought to Raleigh and buried in Mount Hope cemetery. The bereaved mother, Mrs. McIntyre, has returned to her home in Portsmouth.

Mr. Luther Harris, of Nelson, was in the city Monday.

Roasted coffee 12c and 15c. per pound at Woolcott & Sons.

It is said that the Democratic ticket for Alderman in the Third Ward is a tub thrown to the whiskey men.

Mrs. J. T. Bailey, of Pittsboro, passed through on the train Monday, going to Kinston—her former home on a visit.

Rev. W. H. Horton, of Franklinton, came up and preached Sunday at his church a few miles out from the city.

Bishop C. C. Petty passed through on the train, returning from an extensive trip out west. He was en route to Newbern.

Rev. F. K. Byrd, presiding elder for the district of the A. M. E. Zion Church, will move his family here from Wilson by the 15th. They will occupy the house of Mrs. Martin's on South Blount Street. We are glad to welcome Rev. Byrd and family to our city.

Oh! that we had the skill of an artist that we might present to our readers the picture of Chairman Joe Daniels, listening attentive and approvingly to the remarks of "the gentleman from the Third Ward," Mr. W. H. Donaldson, at the Democratic primary Monday night. Whither is the immortal Democracy drifting?

Quilldriver Christian, of the News and Observer, after being on two tickets, got only 59 votes for Alderman in the Third Ward, while his successful competitor, Mr. J. E. Potter, the saloon-man, received 208. In the name of the fraternity, we protest against such treatment being given to members of the press. Was Christian opposed to the liquor men?

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move," but tell it not in Raleigh nor proclaim it to the people of the State. It is a grand article in the News and Observer, presided last Monday night over the Democratic primary of the Third Ward of the city of Raleigh, and had the righting of wrongs in mind.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

Commencement of the Leonard School of Medicine and Pharmacy and Law Department at Shaw, Friday Evening April 2.

The beautiful college chapel by 8:30 o'clock was filled with one of the most intelligent looking audiences we have seen, to witness the exercises of the evening. Rev. H. L. Wayland, D. D., of Philadelphia, was introduced by President Mead, to deliver the address to the graduates and presented the prize. Haywood's Orchestra furnished some excellent music.

Hon. Walter Clark, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, awarded the diploma. He, in a short speech, congratulated the colored people upon their rapid strides they have made since their emancipation in education. President Mead delivered the parting address to the graduates and presented the prize. Haywood's Orchestra furnished some excellent music.

Graduates in Medicine—David Newton Emanuel Campbell, Jamaica, West Indies; Garland Alphonso Green, North Carolina; Joseph Clifton Hood, Ph. B., North Carolina; William Henry Hughes, Jr., A. B., Virginia; John Quincy McDougald, North Carolina; Nelson Frederick McNeil, Virginia; Allen Atkins Wyche, North Carolina.

Graduates in Pharmacy—Edward Thomas Hasty, North Carolina; John Henry Harris, North Carolina; Walter Louis McNeil, North Carolina; Earnest Clepton Merchant, Virginia; Charles Wesley Morris, Virginia; John Willis Satterwhite, South Carolina; William Henry Vick, A. B., North Carolina; Miss Fannie Rudolph Wasson, B. S., Tennessee.

Graduates in Law—John Alfred Gailard, South Carolina; Frank Marion Kennedy, Tennessee; Mark Anderson Williams, North Carolina.

One of the distinguished features of the commencement exercises was that no speeches were made by the graduates, and all the members of the graduating class were caps and gowns.

Among the distinguished visitors attending the commencement, we noticed Hon. E. E. Smith, Principal of the State Normal School, Fayetteville; Prof. S. H. Cook, of Wilson; Dr. T. Pope, of Charlotte; Dr. George Williams, of Wilson; Rev. P. F. Maloy, of Greensboro.

At the Democratic primary in the Third Ward, Mr. Stead Lumsden said that he lived in Raleigh sixty-five years, and had never lived in a Republican ward, and if the ward went Republican, he would move out. All right, Mr. Lumsden, you might write the election for if you keep your promise you will move after the election. The ward is going Republican by a large majority than ever. By the way, Mr. Lumsden, since you are so much against Mr. Donaldson, why did you not just a little of this opposition in 1888, when you were honoring with Jim Young and other Republicans to get elected Mayor of the city on the independent ticket. You remember that the plans were laid all laid, and you staidly waited their consummation to walk to the Mayor's office from your store, and accept the office to be tendered to you by six Republicans and three Democrats.

"The Sun Do Move