THE SAME OLD GANG-WATCH THEM.

Sometime ago Dr. A. M. Moore, of Durham and party of forty-seven other colored men of unsavory political records issued a circular which was full of misrepresentations calling a convention of colored | ognition. Republicans to meet in this city on No. vember 3rd. Prior to this writing we did not write a line about this "Democratic Aid Society" (as it was properly dubbed by Mr. G. T. Foster, of Granville county.) from the fact that we tion. wanted to see if the colored voters of North Carolina could be deceived by these conspirators against their liberties us.' and rights. Notwithstanding the reduced railroad rates on account of the colored fair, and after the druming of the town by a brass band, only about from Wake county) assembled in the Court House in obedience to the call. of the rebellion of the many negroes but they soon found out that the promised great numbers, would no more materialize than did the thirty thousand pledged against Russell last year, hence they soon got disgusted and lost interest in the meeting. But to the proceedings. The meeting was called to order by Dr. A. M. Moore, who asked Rev. C. H. King (the only other signer of the call besides himself present, except one othdid, and rewarded Moore by requesting other things said : him to act as secretary. The long paper, misnamed the "Call," which had been drawn by some designing lawyer, was party read by the secretary. Regardless of the fact that the Call invited all of the negro around here whooping up the boys all race to come together, yet a committee night long and voting all day. The on credentials, consisting of Nelson O'Kelly, David Pulaski Lane, both of Wake, and R. B. Fitzgerald, of Durham, was appointed to decide who should be permitted to take part in the meeting.

This was a good beginning toward let ting the people find out something about the plans of the meeting. Nelson O'Kelly is the bolter who ran independently you are lick-spittles.' against Jim Young in Wake last year in order to elect a Democrat, and David Pulaski Lane was the general manager "But as sure as you are born, if you put of O Kelly's campaign and treasurer of up inferior men in future, I'll strike the fund that they had with which to them. There's been too much selling defeat Young. The committee retired and out. soon returned with a list of names, very few of whom were present as delegates. but many present repudiated the meeting and asked to have their names dropped from the roll. Among this number were, Messrs. Ed. Smith. Dempsey Smith. L. M. Mason, C. H. Williamson, J. T. Howe, C. C. Roach and others. For a few minutes it looked as if the bottom would drop out of the whole thing, but the chief conspirator, R. H. W. Leak, in order to stop the stampede, got the floor and made the same speech that he made just two years ago in a similar convention, and moved to appoint a committee on resolutions. The motion was adopted and Leak, D. P. Lane and H. R. Goodson, all of Wake, was appointed the committee. You all know Leak and Lane, and the people of Wake are well acquainted with Goodson, but by way of introduction to those who do not know him, we will say that it was three of a kind. Mr. Scotland Harris, of Halifax, was called on for a speech, and he made an old time Republican one, which was as much out of place in that gathering as a speech endorsing Democracy would be in a National Republican Convention. It did not set well with either the white or colored Democrats present.

All of these things had taken place before a permanent charmain had been elected, and Ed. Johnson, who had been slated for that dishonor, and who had been anxiously awaiting an opportunity to deliver his prepared speech of acceptance, was becoming so nervous and restless and jogging the memory of the temporary chairman who seemed disposed to hold on as long as possible in whispered conversations that the spectators noticed his discomfiture. However, Mr. G. T. Foster, of Granville, came to the rescue of Johnson and moved that he be made permanent chairman. This was done, and Johnson at once ascended the judge's stand and began that speech which had been troubling him for two long weary hours. Of course as it had been only two weeks since Johnson had attended and took part in the Young Men's Republican League and had sought and been given office in it, he could not enjoy his dual position and was forced to own. However, the results in Ohio and make a rambling-feel-your-way-speech so as to try to ride the two horses which are going in the opposite directions at one and the same time. Among other things, he said that the McKinley administration had refused to appoint a negro some other loyal Republican will succeed postmaster of some little eastern town (presumably Kinston) because the white Republicans said it would hurt the party. and that the colored people had only one more place now in all the State than they had heretofore held, and that was the place given Jim Young as fertilizer inspector. He made many other statements about on a par with these, the falsity of which was known to all present. The report of the resolution commit- attempts.

tee was now read by R. H. W. Lak, as

"1. Resolved, that this organization be known as the Lincoln Republican League. "2. That the object of this organization is to promote the interests of the Republican party and secure to colored Republicans their just and proper recognition.

"3. That any Republican voter may become a member of this organization $1.50 by subscribing to the by-laws, rules and SOAP! 75 regulations thereof-no color-line to be

"4. That this organization will not vote for any man or set of men who are

Then follow the by-laws and rules, which provide for a president; nine vicepresidents (one from each Congressional district); a secretary and two assistants; a treasurer, and an executive committee of twenty-seven (three from each Congressional district) and the other officers. The executive committe is to be appointed by the president.

Any officer may be removed by the executive committee. Provision is made for the organization of subordinate leagues of women to co-operate with the State League.

The following address to the colored voters of the State was also issued: "We call upon all Republicans in North Carolina to observe the following rules in their voting hereafter:

"1. To vote for no man who is opposed to giving the negro his full and due rec-·2. That before any man is nominated to an office we should exact from him a written pl.dge that he will give one half of his clerical force to colored Re-

"3. That all nominees to office shall give a pledge in favor of negro educa

"4. That we see to it that those colored men who are willing to trade their race off for office, are not nominated by APEX NORMAL AND COLLEGIATE

After the reading of the resolutions, and Leak's second delivery of his same old speech, John Williamson, of State fame, and who had the day before pubthirty men (ten from abroad and twenty | licly declared himself a Democrat, arose and attempted to speak. Messrs. G. T. Foster and Fletcher Lockhart, of Wake, The Democratic newspaper men were on objected, but after all Williamson was hand, early to print glowing accounts allowed to proceed, and while making against the grand old Republican party, an old scoundrel. This was more than Lockhart could stand, and he at once went across the room and let loose on Williamson, and for a while blows rained thick and heavy. The tumult was great, and the band that was in the house played, "There's a hot time in the old town to-night." When order was restored the resolutions were adopted, as was also the address.

After that Leak arose and delivered er) to take the chair, which he promptly for the third time his speech, and among

"I'm done with them-unless there's something in it for me. If you don't put up good men in the future, I'll not vote for them. I've never voted a Demcratic ticket. But I tell you now that unless you put up better men than you've been putting up since 1876, I'il not vo e for them. I'il vote for a dog first. I know some of you don't like it, because Sam Hill said he had never got any thing from the Republican party-he had been a Republican from principle.

"The trouble," said Chas. Cardwell, 'is that we have been led along by the nose too long. You may hold your conventions and put up as many bad men as you please, but I'm going to hold my convention at the bellot box and cut

At the conclusion of these speeches, the following additional officers were elected, and the convention, naving been in session four hours, adjourned: R. H. W. Leak, of Raleigh, was elected chairman of the executive committee. Grant Foster, of Granville, was chosen

R. B. Fitzgerald, of Durham, was made first vice president. The chairman was author zed to appoint the eight remailing vice-presi-

It was apparent to all present that it was the same old gang who, headed by Leak & Co., had, in 1895, attempted to organize the colored voters by just such methods so as to defeat the Republican party in the campaign of 1896. They made a signal failure in the efforts then, and they will do so now. These men should have no standing among loyal Republicans. They are wolves in sheep's clothing and emesuries of the Democratic party. Keep your eyes on them.

As a rule the columns of the Charlotte 'Observer" have been free from that venom and hatred of the negro and his rights that characterizes the "News and Observer" and Wilmington "Messenger," but we notice for the past few weeks a letter in the Sunday edition of that paper written from Raleigh and signed by a skunk who calls himself "Ithuriel," which smacks very much of the Joe Daniels gang of writers. This venomous old reptile insinuates that the Colored Fair is an endurance which the white people of Raleigh ought not to submit to. He is forty years behind the times but shows his good sense by concealing his identity behind the nom de plume. His column is the only dirty one in that otherwise clean and progressive paper.

eral States last week can better be sized up by the remark of President McKinley, who said he "was well pleased with them," than by any observations of our Maryland are especially gratifying to Republicans, because in the former form: er State that able exponent of Republicanism, Senator Hanna, will be re-elected to the Senate, while in the latter State to the Senatorial toga so long worn by that blatant demagogic Senator, A. P. Gorman, who, as the leader of the Democrats in that body was a great barrier to the progress and prosperity of this country. The solid South remains broken.

The Colored Fair this year was a decided success. All the old officers were elected, which means, of course, that next year's Fair will eclipse all former

Change in the Business

OF THE BIG STORE JANUARY 1st.

Raleigh's Biggest Store would not be worthy of its name or reputation as an unto date, wide-awake, progressive store if it stood still. It has not stood still a single day since we opened the doors, nearly two years ago. We have always tried to make it a helpful store to its friends and patrons. Our constant aim is to make to day's best better to morrow. We want to give you a better store-the best store-better service-better room-better stocks-better everything, except prices, and they must be the very lowest named by any house at all times.

An Important Change.

January 1st we expect to make a very considerable change in the business. It will be a very important change in more ways than one to people who have to buy goods, and who want best returns.

A Clean Sweep.

Beginning to day, we reduce prices on every article in the house, that we may reduce present stock to the lowest possible point by January 1st. It is absolutely necessary that we have every foot of space possible in January.

Entire Stock Must Move.

We want to state as a pointer, that this is no humbug, catch-penny sale, but a straight, open, honest, cut-price sale. We need room, and we must sell out the stock to get it; and the quickest, surest and best way to do it is to put prices on them that no economical person can resist. This we have done. Don't fool yourself by thinking that we are just going to sell a few odds and ends. We have the freshest, newest stock in the city. The entire stock is on sale. No reserve. We mean business. All prices are cut in pieces. It's a real harvest-time for prudent, economical, wide-awake

DRESS-GOODS, MILLINERY, NOTIONS, LININGS, SHOES, DOMESTICS, FURNISHINGS, CLOTHING, HATS AND CAPS, TRUNKS, CARPETS, RUGS, CROCKERY, LINENS, CURTAINS, UNDERWEAR, COATS AND CAPES.

Many lines will go quickly. We shall have no re-orders from now on. No goods can be sent out on approval, exchanged or taken back, except we will exchange articles of one size for another size. Every sale is to be a positive cash sale. One price, and but one, to all.

Our stock is bright, new, clean goods, bought this season and at regular prices, under the usual, but at sacrifice prices now asked, it is beyond all doubt the greatest money saving opportunity offered by any house in a decade.
