The heaviest offee than I can buy in stores at 30 cents a guns on each side were brought into action. Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Mr. Johnson, of Iudiana, each made exhaustive speeches and kept their respective sides in a constant furore. The interest in the debate was lively. The crowded galleries, which were plainly in sympathy with the opponents of the law, became so noisy in their demonstrations of approval at one juncture that the chair was compelled to call them to order. Johnson de fended the civil service and opposed the evils of the spoils system. Grosve nor scored the National Civil Service

Three Hanged in Louisiana.

Three murderers died on the scaffold at Hahnville, a small town in St. Charles parish, Louisiana. Louis Richards, alias Pierre, alias Creole, by the latter name being notorious, was one of the trio. Together with George Washington and Foxli Morris, he was sentenced to death for murdering and robbing a Jewish peddler named Louis Zeigler, last June, on the Ellington plantation, near Hahnville.

Creole confessed, implicating the other two and with the assistance of his statament, the authorities obtained conclusive evidence of their guilt. Creole also confessed that since 1884 he had murdered at least nine men and one colored woman on various plantations, and that not for a single one was he ever arrested. His victims were principally Italians and Jews who made a living by peddling among plantation negroes. Close investigation revealed that his confession was entirely correct amining teachers at any time. The law and it cleared numerous murder mys-
