Two Hours Was Enough.

That some men require only a few hours' sleep out of the twenty-four is certain, but Alexander von Humboldt must have been a marvel in this respect, as he was in others. He told Max Muller that, as a young man, two hours' sleep was all he wanted, "but as I grow older I need four. When I was your age," he said to Muller, "I simply lay down on the sofs, turned down my lamp, and after two hours' sleep I was as fresh as ever. It is a mistake to think that we want seven or eight hours of sleep." Humboldt died at the ripe old age of 81.

Osman Digma a Scot. Osman Digma, who for years has been giving the British trouble on the Upper Nile, is, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, really a Scotchman named George Nisbet. He was born in Rouen of a Glasgow father, who in 1848 emigrated to Egypt, where he died. His widow married a Turk named Osman, who adopted her son and made him heir to his slave business. George Nishet took the name of Osman Ali, and after being educated atthe military academy, where he was the intimate friend of the late Arabi Pasha, became a slave trader. The harm done to his business by the English and French interference in Egypt, and the fall of Arabi Pasha, turned him against his former countrymen. He must be over 60 years of age now.

ENCOURAGING TO THE NEGRO

Prof. Hoffman Invited to Deliver an Address Before the

ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Of England, on the Subject, "The Condition of the American Negro Along Agricultural Lines."

The Charleston, (S. C.) News and Courier says editorially: "Prof. J. W. Hoffman, of the State Colored College, Orangeburg, S. C., has been invited by the National Cheese and Butter Makers' Association to deliver an address before them on 'The Future of Dairying Among the Negroes of the South' at their annual meeting to be held in February at Topeka, Kansas. He has also received an invitation to address the Royal Agricultural Society of England on the subject 'The condition of the American Negroes Along Agricultural Lines,' at their next annual meeting to be held in Liverpool next June. While these invitations are highly compli-mentary to Prof. Hoffman they are encouraging to the Negro, and the kind and quality of instruction he is receivpractical lines at the Colored College in Orangeburg. These are the lines upon which he must achieve success-his road to independence and fortune is through industrial pursuits and not by political and 'professional' ways. Hal' a dozen expert Negro cheese and butter makers would be worth to the State and to the colored race a cowpen full of Negro politicians. Greek and Latin are taught in a permissive way at the colored college, but the life of the institution is in the training which it gives in practical affairs. We have not heard that any of the Greek and Latin teachers at Orangeburg have been invited to make addresses before any distinguished body anywhere. Apparently, no one cares to know as to 'The Future of the Dead Languages Among the Negroes of the South,' but all who are really interested in their welfare would like to know how they are getting along in material things. Not Able to Push the Charges. It appears that there is a new turn in the case of Miss Abbott against Robert Hancock, at Newbern, Mrs. Abbott, her mother, withdrawing with the statement that she is not able to push the charges. A kinsman of all the parties has effected this change in the status, it is said. It is further said that Miss Abbott does not withdraw her most sensational charges. As Mr. Abbott is a Mason, there is a hint that the Masons may take up the matter of aiding in the prosecution. It is natural to expects the grand jury to take it up. -- Charlotte Observer.

Many People Killed in the Storm at Fort Smith.

PEOPLE BURIED IN THE RUINS.

The Mansion Where Albert Pike Lived Demolished .- Churches Reduced to Kindling Wood.

A special from Fort Smith, Ark., of the 12th, says: Two score of human lives and upwards of $1,000,000 worth of property were destroyed by a tornado which burst upon this city a few minutes past 11 o'clock last night. The storm struck near the National cemetery, and tore its way through the entire city, leaving its path marked by death and desolation. Men, women, moment's warning to meet death by 1898, was accepted in the following falling walls, or in the flames which engulfed many of the wrecked build-

> The scene following the first terrific crash of the storm was one of awful grandeur. Business blocks, handsome mansions, hotels and humble cottages were razed and scattered in shapeless masses. Several of the wrecks caught fire and the inflammable timbers burned furiously. The city was crowded with rural visitors, many of whom were sleeping at boarding houses and unregistered. For this reason the number of victims who perished in Fort Smith last night, may never be definitely known. The tornado struck Garrison avenue, at the corner of Ninth street, and made a clean sweep from there to the Texas corner.

> The ruins caught fire from the night amps. Seven bodies were taken from these ruins. The Burgess Hotel, threestory brick, on Townseau avenue, was demolished. There have been eight bodies already taken from the ruins. Rescue parties are still at work at both places and expect to find several more bodies. George Carter's house was one of the first struck. It was turned completely over and is now supported on its roof. A half rane of glass was driven through Carter's body, almost severing the head from the trunk. M. W. Burk's foundry was demolished. The beautiful National cemetery is a wreck. Fort Smith's $50,000 high school building was badly wrecked. It was one of the few buildings upon which there was tornado insurance. The tornado destroyed two historic buildings. Judge Parker's residence is badly wrecked and the old rector mannounced that the habeas corpus case sion, where Albert Pike passed his arising out of the establishment of an days, is a pile of ashes, the ruins haying caught fire from a lamp. The First only a scattered pile of kinlding wood. The Church of the Immaculate Conception and Brownscombe Memorial Church lost their spires and sustained other damage. > It is now thought all the persons in the wrecked buildings have been accounted for. The citizens relief committee has $10,000 in hand for assisting suffers. President Robinson, of the Frisco Railroad, unsolicited sent his check for $1,000. The Missouri Pacific Railroad also sent $1,000. Business is practically abandoned all over the city, and men of all classes are assisting in clearing the debris.

> News from Crawford county says the storm left nothing but death and desolation in its path. It estimated that 100 head of cattle and horses were killed. At Farmington several buildings were demolished and a number of persons injured.

> Demolished by an Earthquake. The Hague-(By Cable)-An official dispatch from Batavia announces that the capital of Amboyna, one of the Molucias Islands, has been completely demolished by an earthquake. TO MARKET BY TROLLEY. How English Truckers Save Their Horses for Farm Work. An English trolley line, plying be tween Bessbrook and Newry, through a rich farming district, makes a substantial addition to its receipts by hauling farm wagons over its lines attached to the motor car, in the place of the trailer, which is sometimes seen. In order to keep the wagons on the track a second pair of rails is laid inside the working tracks and slightly higher. The towns at either end of the line are both market towns, and the line runs directly to the business centers, where the wagons are drawn aside and run into their places by a half-dozen

It is not an uncommon sight, and always a rather amusing one, to see a lumbering farm wagon loaded with hay or produce flying along behind the motor car on its way to market. The farmers take kindly to this scheme, as it is a saving of money as well as horseflesh.

Cane with a History.

Major M. M. Clotheier, of Whatcom, Wash., has a hickory cane, cut at Plymouth Rock, Mass., in 1621, by Nabaniel Pierce, who came over in the Mayflower. The cane has been passed down to the eldest son or daughter for many generations, and came to Major Clotheler from his grandmother, Barah Mason, who made the 1,700pound cheese which was given to President Jefferson.

This is a portion of an interview clipped from the Daily Herald, of Clinton, Iowa. It might well be taken for the subject of a temperance lecture, but that is not our object in publishing it. Respected Sirs.—"We have found your Liver Medicine very beneficial as an Aperient and Liver Regulator. It does all that it is recommended to do." Bespecifully, Eisterns of Meser.

On the trial of our case against Zeilia & Co. their counsel said: "When himmons' ancesters were cracking hisberty nats with their teeth in the forests of Germany, Zeilia's ancestors were Princes in the House of Israel." While we make no claim to Jewish origin, much less to being "Princes in the House of Israel." we prefer an ancestry of houset Americans to the highest coat in the synagogus of unrighteous Jews.

Beware of any article called "Simmons Liver Medicine" which has out the name of "J. H. Zeilia & Co., " or "A. W. Simmons & Co.," or "T. F. Check & Co.," or "A. W. Simmons & Co.," or "T. F. Check & Co.," and associately beware of any article represented as "the same," or "just as good" as the original Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine.

Be sure you get the original which has the name, pleture and actograph of Dr. M. A. Simmons on the wrapper, counterrigued by O. F. Einmons Medicine.
