DEMOCRATIC PURPOSE.

That the Democratic party is desperate cannot be denied. That it will resort to the most desperate expedients to regain control of the State government and its patronage cannot be doubted.

The following taken from the "Hayseed" shows that the Populists fully understand the situation. It says:

On January 12th Louisiana held a general election on the question of holding a constitutional convention for the purpose of amending the constitution so that all negroes and objectionable whites will be disfranchised.

Leading lights of the D. O. P. in this State no longer conceal their purpose to effectually put a stop to the negroes voting as soon as they again have the power to do so.

Less than two months ago we heard a prominent member of the General Assembly of 1895 say that he opposed such a measure at that time, but now he advocates the measure and all this time he has been in the State.

How to prevent this scheme from reaching its full fruition is a question that should engage the earnest attention of every liberty loving citizen.

Whatever is necessary to preserve liberty should be done, and the "Hayseed" will ever battle for a free ballot and a fair count, and will advocate co-operation with any party against such an injustice.

It is better to bear the evils we have than to fly to those we know not of. Winston Republican.

Some time back, while the appointment of District Attorney for this district was pending, the "News and Observer" took occasion to say of C. M. Bernard, one of the applicants for the place something belittling him in point of ability.

The appointment of Henry C. Thompson to the chief clerkship in the Internal Revenue office of this District by Collector Duncan gives assurance that the affairs of his office are to be conducted on the strictest business principles.

In our last we noted entirely correct. Instead of Thomas C. Miller, Sr., being a candidate for legislative honors, he is seriously a candidate for Sheriff of New Hanover. He hopes to have the support of the "Big" Aldermen Green and Walker.

HON. GEO. H. WHITE'S SPEECH.

(CONCLUDED.) I have in mind another instance, of a young man employed in this House some years ago. He went down and made application for a position under the "merit system," underwent an examination and utterly failed.

It is a pleasure to any negro citizen to visit the Register of Deeds office of New Hanover county, over which the capable and efficient Chas. W. Norwood presides. A man possessing great force of character, a fine personality, and from one of the leading families of the State.

The establishing by Hon. George H. White of a law office in Wilmington, and his phenomenal success has been such an inspiration that the city is now the "mecca" of southeastern Carolina for negro members of the profession.

The Wilmington Record is a well equipped office. Press, type and other fixtures place its outfit at a cost of $1,600. Fifty dollars per week is their expense account. Thus you see that there are some hustling young men in this Commonwealth.

All the schools in an around Tarboro are full to overflowing. Five rooms at the Prinoville Graded are full and it is thought that the sixth will be opened next week. The parochial school under Rev. Perry and wife have their hands full, and the private schools are well supplied.

First Annual Session will begin Tuesday, July 27th, 1897, and continue three weeks. A competent corps of professional teachers representing many of the leading schools and colleges of the State, has been engaged. Terms very low. Write for circulars. Address: PRESIDENT DUDLEY, A. & M. COLLEGE, Greensboro, N. C.

ously applauded, until this festering cancer was cut away with a lance of fratricidal war of four years' duration, which left the body politic well-nigh dead.

"All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

And while Congressmen are distributed among the several Congressional districts, presumably in proportion to the electors in each and their respective populations, the several Representatives upon the floor of this chamber from Mississippi, South Carolina and other Southern States where the aggregate vote cast in 1896 ranges all the way from 5,000 to 11,000, and who are elected from the East, West, and some few of the Southern States, had an aggregate vote cast anywhere from 80,000 to 50,000.

How long, Mr. Chairman, will this increased representation, brought about by the disfranchisement of the negro, can citizens, be permitted to go on unrebuked? Will the American Congress sit idly by and declare its inability to supply by and declare its inability to interfere and castigate say that these things are delegated to the respective States while the organic law, the Constitution of the United States, is being openly violated?

Once more: We have the sickening spectacle of a few serious and very religious, and of certain white men of the South, who are visiting the Hawaiian Islands, presumably to civilize and Christianize the inhabitants thereof.

But instead of these pious missionaries these canting prelates—and the honest international commerce between the United States and this small Government, what do we behold? The ruling power overthrow, the Queen banished in exile in a foreign land, her property confiscated, the natives overruled, and in many instances murdered, and all this done by American citizens, and this great Government of ours standing by and seeming to say "amen." It reminds me very much of the hypocritical merchant who reaches his hand to the sugar and coffee, and water the whiskey, then gravely said: "Come into the house and let's pray." Last, but not least, we have this commission about which we have had such a lengthy discussion, created by statute of the United States Congress, but, in my opinion, in open violation to our Constitution, daubed with the misnomer of "civil service," and later matriculated as the "merit system," which, if permitted to go on in its mad career, will in the end result in the last few years, will revolutionize the eternal workings of our entire system.

I am loath to believe that it was ever intended by the framers of this great Government that it should be beset by anything that would have the smack of life tenure inheritance, or any other way of acquiring an office except through and by the people, who constitute the Government. If watchmen, drivers, messengers, clerks, heads of divisions, and every species of officials now under the ample folds of this rubber-blanket concern, "the merit system," if you please, can be protected by the seemingly innocent little statute of 1893, how long will it be before the "merit system" discover that this "horde of spoilsmen" have not sufficient sense to elect the President of the United States and the American Congress, and take the whole "merit system" in their own hands?

Mr. Chairman, I think the time has come for us to call a halt, and if we have not the manliness to stand up and destroy this measure before it ruins our body politic, the electors of these United States will on the 4th of November as gloriously elected; and this result will be largely brought about by those who are not expecting to reach Federal pie.

Dr. E. E. Smith, of Wayne, and Prof. S. H. Vick, both able and competent men, are urging the renomination and election of Mr. White.

Now if the beneficiaries in Washington will show their race pride, and do as the white man, come down in the district and give personal and substantial aid, Mr. White will lack to Washington for several terms. Our long range advocates can help us return him if they will. Mr. Douglas says the "negroes of North Carolina have an opportunity for race advancement, and we will support it, State in the Union." Let us improve it, and in the advancement of White, Young, Dancy and Cheatham the way will be blazed for others.

The Second means to do her duty along the lines of race advancement, and in the light of recent events it stands the negro well in hand to have a Representative of force.

Eastern Snap Shots.

Messrs. E. M. Green and Geo. C. Barnett do a first-class grocery business; being gentlemen to the manner born know how to attract trade and do it. They are both earnest church and Sunday School workers.

W. Aug. Moore, attorney at law, Edgecombe County, is a candidate for Solicitor of the Second Judicial District. He urges his claims upon the grounds of fitness and wishes to be Edgewood's candidate.

In our last we noted entirely correct. Instead of Thomas C. Miller, Sr., being a candidate for legislative honors, he is seriously a candidate for Sheriff of New Hanover. He hopes to have the support of the "Big" Aldermen Green and Walker.

Major Douglas, in his letter to the Colored American, says many things that the voters of the Second District of North Carolina should know: 1. That a one-time Congressman never receives the recognition that other Congressmen gain when they are returned for several successive terms. It is gratifying to know that the men who know a good thing when they see it are united in their efforts at convincing the people of the importance of having "White" remain in Congress at least until "1904," if not longer. Congressman White was a positive force when he was a member of the State Senate, and we are sure that his stay in the American Congress will stamp him as the "truly R-representative" negro on this continent. He is not anxious to get away from those who have elevated him by the use of the elective franchise.

Mr. Douglas will further find that Mr. White will not vote on any question until he has given it mature thought. He, unlike ex-Congressman Murray, who was a free silver advocate, is a strong bi-metalist, and, as such, in early spring will be renominated, and in November as gloriously elected; and this result will be largely brought about by those who are not expecting to reach Federal pie.

Dr. E. E. Smith, of Wayne, and Prof. S. H. Vick, both able and competent men, are urging the renomination and election of Mr. White.
