NAACP Holds Up Appeal In U. Of Tenn. Case

New York, June 4.—The N. A. A. C. P. announced today that in view of the fact that the state of Tennessee has enacted a scholarship law providing for the graduate and professional education of Negroes it would not appeal the William B. Redmond case, but would wait to see whether the scholarship law is fairly administered.

Redmond filed suit in 1936 to compel the University of Tennessee to accept his application for the school of pharmacy after the officials of the university had rejected his application solely on the ground he was a Negro. The suit was tried before the Chancery court in Memphis in March 1937, and a decision sustaining the officials of the university handed down in April by the Chancellor. The Association noted an appeal, but the Tennessee legislature rushed through a scholarship bill which was signed by the Governor May 22.

The N. A. A. C. P. statement said that the Association does not accept the scholarship act as the constitutional equivalent of the admission of a Negro citizen into the state university, and will continue to contend for the admission of Negroes to all publicly supported schools.

But its funds are so limited that as a practical matter it believes the best interests of the greatest number of Negro students in the South will be served by spending the money which would have to be spent in the Tennessee appeal in the states which now do nothing at all for the graduate and professional education of its Negro citizens.

The Association further announced that it did not consider its work in Tennessee completed, and that it was notifying the Tennessee students who had written to the Association before the scholarship act was passed that if the scholarship money was exhausted and any qualified Negro student left unprovided for, the Association would give him every assistance to force the state to provide him adequate professional or graduate training.

A suit in Missouri, similar to the Redmond case, wherein Lloyd L. Gaines sought mandamus against the University of Missouri to compel the university to accept him as a student in the school of law was argued by the N. A. A. C. P. before the supreme court of Missouri May 18, and a decision is expected in the near future.

THE DURHAM INTERDENOMINATIONAL MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE CLOSING EXERCISE

The Durham Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance spent a happy day last Monday at the Efland home. The occasion marked the closing of the Alliance for the summer months. The girls of the Efland home rendered a very interesting program. Following the program the ministers and the entire group at the home marched out into the grove for the open air service.

Dr. R. O. Langford after a period of devotion presented Dr. I. Thomas to deliver the message for the occasion. Dr. Thomas with telling effect proved himself to be a great pulpiteer. Following the message, Dr. A. S. Croom installed the newly elected officers. The time having arrived for dinner a very sumptuous table was spread in the old fashioned way. It was ended a great day to those present.

While Dean Klugh is on leave of absence, Mr. W. J. Tren, Jr., who has been absent on leave for study at the University of Pennsylvania during the school year which is just ending, will serve as Acting Dean.

Rev. J. H. Pepper, pastor of St. Paul Baptist church is celebrating his first anniversary beginning Monday, June 14th.

Young Peoples Congress Gathers In Raleigh For First Time In North Carolina

Final plans are being completed for the National Baptist Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. Congress, meeting for the first time in North Carolina, Tuesday June 22, on through Sunday 27th, inclusive. The State organized Baptist groups of North Carolina are joining with the First Baptist church of this city to entertain this great Congress which, on account of its size, has always had to hold its meetings in the larger cities of the country.

The Memorial Auditorium has been engaged from Tuesday thru Sunday evening for the general headquarters of the Congress and there will be a continuation of programs going on at this place both night and day. Departmental meetings will be conducted at the First Baptist church, at Shaw University, and at the Washington High School. The Congress program consists of more than 40 departments or seminaries which will be in constant session at these several places of meeting, under the leadership of the most outstanding instructors in the field of Religion throughout the country.

Among them are such men as Dr. E. L. Harrison, pastor of Great Shiloh Baptist church of Washington, D. C.; Dr. L. K. Williams, of Chicago, Ill.; Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, dean of Religion of Howard University; Dr. J. M. Nabrit of Nashville, Tenn., president of National Baptist Theological Seminary; Dr. Noble Y. Beall of Atlanta, Ga., field worker of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. E. W. Perry, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Dr. C. C. Adams of Philadelphia.

North Carolina College Alumni Hold Meet

DURHAM—The general alumni association of North Carolina College for Negroes met in the Memorial Auditorium at 6:30 p. m. on Monday, May 31st for its annual Commencement Meeting. In the absence of the president and vice-president, J. T. Taylor, general secretary, presided.

The meeting was well attended by a large number of enthusiastic alumni and the class of '37 was heartily welcomed into the Association.

Tentative plans were made for a more expansive program that University; Dr. J. M. Nabrit of Nashville, Tenn., president of National Baptist Theological Seminary; Dr. Noble Y. Beall of Atlanta, Ga., field worker of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. E. W. Perry, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Dr. C. C. Adams of Philadelphia. A feature of unusual interest to the people of Raleigh and North Carolina generally, will be the double testimonial honoring two sons of North Carolina, Dr. S. N. Vass, retiring secretary of the Religious Education of the National Baptist Convention and his successor, Dr. M. A. Tally. Dr. Vass was born and reared in Raleigh and Dr. Tally was born in the state and pastored in the city several years ago.

It is expected that this will be the greatest session in the history of this Congress on account of the fact that it brings to a close a five year program which was initiated at the meeting in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1932.

Reservations are being made by delegates from all over the country as far as the Pacific coast.

Appearing on the program will be such internationally known persons as Dr. Mordecai Johnson, of Washington, D. C., president of Howard University; Dr. Patterson, president of Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.

NAACP Protests Action Taken Against Race By Scout Heads

N. C. C. COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

DR. STEPHEN S. WISE, internationally known Jewish leader who delivered the address to the graduating class of N. C. College last week. Dr. Wise flayed the Fascists country of Italy and the German Nazi, and called upon the race to not whine but protest injustices.

New York, June 4.—A protest has been lodged with the Boy Scouts of America, Inc., by the N. A. A. C. P. upon the reported barring of a colored first-class scout in Rhode Island from the National Jamboree which is to be held in Washington, D. C., beginning June 26.

The Newport, Rhode Island, branch of the N. A. A. C. P. reports that the leader of Troop 1, a colored troop of the city, had been chosen to go to the Jamboree and his expenses had been raised and all arrangements made when the Boy Scout leaders of Rhode Island informed his parents not to send him as the would not be responsible for him because the Rhode Island delegation would be stationed with delegations from the southern states. The Rhode Island officials told the parents that they felt the southern white scouts would be "very unkind" to the colored boy from Rhode Island. The officials absolutely refused to assume any responsibility in the situation and would promise no protection for the lad whatsoever.

The national office of the N. A. A. C. P. has written to James E. West, chief scout executive, in the national headquarters here asking whether in planning the Jamboree, the Boy Scouts of America had adopted a policy discouraging the attendance of Negro scouts or barring them altogether. The association stated that the scouts should be quartered with their state delegations.

"This association," the letter says, "wishes to protest any other arrangement as unfair and as cruelly humiliating to the impressionable and expectant young colored American who are Boy Scouts. We do not know how this situation will impress you but it strikes us that to tell a young colored American boy that he cannot attend a national celebration in the capital of his country because of his color is the height—or the depth—of humiliation and hurt. It is all the more so when the celebration is that of the Boy Scouts of America which is devoted to character building and education for citizenship through directed recreation."

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

A STEP FORWARD

The announcement this week by Superintendent L. H. Barbour that a committee composed of three Negroes would be appointed to work as an advisory board to assist in the appointment of teachers is a step forward. Whoever is responsible for such a move should be commended.

The Carolina Times has for a number of years called attention to the fact that the practice of taxing Negroes without giving them representation in the expenditure of their taxes was unfair and contrary to a democratic form of government. The action of the educational department of the county is fair to Negroes and will greatly aid in the selection of teachers for the county schools. Negroes know more about the type of teachers they would like to have teach their children than white people can know. While the appointment of the special committee does not give the race representation on the county board of education it is a step forward.

The city board of education would do well to follow the example of the county, and appoint a committee of Negroes to assist in the appointment of teachers for the city schools. Assistance in this particular work is needed more in the city school system than in the county.

will be in keeping with the advancement of the college. L. E. Austin, Editor of the Carolina Times, proposed that a tribute to the President, Dr. James E. Shepard, in the form of a bronze bust in front of the Administration Building be erected to his memory while he is living rather than a posthumous recognition which he wouldn't be able to appreciate. This suggestion was cordially received by the group.

New officers were elected to carry out the program of a bigger and better association. Dr. J. M. Hubbard of Durham, was elected president; T. Raymond Hocutt of New York City, First President; Gertha Trotter of Roxboro, Second Vice-president; Ronald Brown of Gary, Indiana, Third Vice-president; J. T. Taylor of Durham, General Secretary.
