REV. VALENTINE WINDS UP SERIES OF SERMONS

The Rev. J. A. Valentine, pastor of St. Joseph A.M.E. Church delivered the last of his series of sermons Sunday, January 23rd, at the eleven o'clock hour. His theme was "With Our Enemies". Rev. Valentine's sermon was very spectacular and illustrative. He stressed the fact that there are four types of enemies, namely: The "meeting" type of enemy who when someone says a commendable something concerning another says, "He's all right but—"

The smiling type is the one that displays a sunny countenance continuously thus leaving you in the dark as to whether he is for you or against you.

The silent type is the type of enemy that doesn't speak for you or against you. He doesn't utter a sound when a good word from him would mean your chance for a better position, or even chance for the highest opportunity that life holds for you.

The last is the type of enemy that broadcasts his feelings over a "coast to coast hook-up." He is the type that makes no effort whatsoever to conceal his feelings.

The Rev. Valentine illustrated these four types of enemies perfectly. We could see ourselves in the light that others see us. It caused us to ask ourselves the question, "Which type of enemy am I? Does my character contain any or all of these characteristics?"

The members of St. Joseph are very proud of their pastor Rev. Valentine for his popular, original CAMSO program.

Frequently during his lecture Dr. Wesley made mention of the fact that "we are Americans among Americans."

Durham Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance

Miles Mark Fisher, pastor of White Rock Baptist Church was the speaker Monday January 24, 1933. Rev. Fisher chose as his theme, "Participation of the ministry in affairs of public life." The speaker referred to history to illustrate what was done in the Early Ancient Church, the Medieval church, in the period of the Reformation, and in closing, the speaker gave his personal views on the subject. This was indeed a helpful treatise.

Where Will They Be

By Ruth Buchanan
QUESTION—Where will the harvest of Negro students graduating from Negro schools and colleges be five years from now?

ANSWER—by a professor and assistant principal of one of our prominent Negro schools. Quote, "They will be taking the jobs of less prepared." Is he right? Some of us say that the majority of the graduates five years from now will be among the host of unprepared, unemployed. Will the less prepared man's job be taken from him after he has served faithfully, efficiently, and willingly for a number of years, and be given to a man who has the education but lacks the experience? We wonder.

The regular meeting of the Shubert-Shakespeareans Literary Club was held January 26th at the residence of J. W. Davidson, president of the club.

Different phases of the subject included. The phase of music and its importance 2. Musical appreciation of the German people and a comparison with the United States.

The speaker showed complete knowledge of the subject. It was pointed out in the general discussion that followed that operas are now within the reach of everyone and that we are also more familiar with the personalities connected with them. No other source has made it possible for so many people to know and enjoy music as the radio.

During the informal discussion refreshments were served by the charming and petite Cecilia Davidson, daughter of the host. The club adjourned to meet Feb. 8 at the residence of Mrs. G. A. Edwards. Members present included: Mrs. C. T. Jordan, Rev. J. A. Valentine, J. M. Schoeller, Miss A. E. Catlett, Miss Katherine A. Champney, J. W. Davidson, and Thomas Mann.

Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

Now that all the festivity of Christmas and the gaiety of New Year's are things of the past, we are inclined to find ourselves in a bit of a slump with nothing more exciting in view than the fog and the winter. The skies seem even grayer. It's just this time of year, when our personalities seem to have reached a new low. We are sick and tired of our winter clothes, of the same old hair dress, of looking at the same few stars shining in the night. We do the same things day after day, and with less enthusiasm than the day before. We are fast sinking into a hideous rut, and don't quite know how to get out.

Of course, a bright new dress would be the ideal solution, but lacking that, here are a few tried-and-true remedies which are guaranteed to put the sparkle back in your eyes and give you a new zest for living. I have tried them all at one time or another and invariably, in my own mind at least, have singled a comb.

Get out that old black dress; change the trimming. Give it a new collar, a contrasting belt, or just stick a colored handkerchief in the pocket, and presto—it is as good as a new one. Change the band on your hat. Put in a new feather to match your accessories. You can get one for practically nothing and it is well worth your small investment. Vary the shade of your nail polish. If you have been using a bright polish, try being demure and use a pale one. If you have been using a natural color, you have no idea the effect a brighter shade will give you.

Try changing the part in your hair. Get a facial. It will go far towards erasing those tired lines and removing that drab look, whether real or imaginary. The yolk of an egg, spread on your face and allowed to remain there until dry, has a fine tonic effect, and leaves your skin smoother and clearer than you would have believed possible. Remove it with lukewarm water—hot water will cause it to set—and be sure that your skin is scrupulously clean before you begin the process.

Everyday Cooking Miracles

BY VIRGINIA FRANCIS
Director, Experiment Electric Cookery Institute

Every day finds us developing grand recipes in our Institute kitchen. Here, for instance, are two deliciously different ones that I'd dash out—and all to give you over the back fence, if I were your neighbor. But inasmuch as I can't talk to you in person I needs must do the next best thing and write you about them.

And in connection with these two recipes I have a surprise for you. Although one recipe is for Green Bean Stew and the other for Apple Snow Balls, you can cook them both in your Thrift Cooker, together with some excellent ones of our own—and call it a meal!

Perhaps it isn't news to you that your modern electric range can perform so cleverly, but if it is let me explain how this miracle is accomplished. The Green Bean Stew is placed in the bottom of the Thrift Cooker, which stays right in its deep insulated well in the back of the range; then the long-legged rack is placed over the mixture and on this rack you put the "miraculous." Then you cover the food and turn the switch to HIGH heat. When steam appears from the vent, switch to LOW heat and let it steam for about 45 minutes. By that time the snowballs will be done, so they will turn the heat over to the oven which will steam for about 30 minutes; at which time the stew will be cooked to a savory selectability.

Last year's thinking this three-dish meal will taste the stew, more stew and then some more stew, let me assure you that this economical cookery unit has a way of keeping each food flavor intact and where it belongs. New it's recipe time.

Apple Snow Balls (Serves 6)
1 cup washed rice
2 cups water
6 apples
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup raisins
Cinnamon

1. Cook rice in 2 cups of water in covered saucepan 45 minutes. 2. Spread rice on individual squares of white cheesecloth and place one peeled and cored apple in the center of the rice in each square. 3. Fill cavity of apple with sugar, a dot of butter, and a few raisins. Sprinkle with cinnamon. 4. Bring up ends of cloth so that rice will stick on all sides of the apple and tie on top, thus cutting a round ball. 5. Steam these balls until apples are soft. Remove cloth of each. Serve with a cream. Time: About 25 minutes (exact time depends on variety of apples.)

Green Bean Stew (Serves 6)
1 1/2 lbs. beef (cut in small cubes)
1 onion (sliced)
1 1/2 quarts green beans (cut in 1/2-inch pieces)
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
2 bay leaves
Salt and pepper to taste
1. Melt fat in frying pan, add meat and brown over HI-speed Calrod unit. 2. Add sliced onion and brown. 3. Place in Thrift Cooker
