RFB—I am very worried over the mistake I have made in life. Are things bad for me? Should I never have anything to say to the boy that I kept company with for so many years?

Ans: There is no need for you to "grieve over spilt milk"—the mistake has been made and you will have to make the best of it. Profit by your mistakes—but it isn't necessary for you to hold a grudge against the young man you have been going with.

HML—I am writing to ask you for your opinion of my husband. Is he mindless? What on earth is Ans: His mind is not affected—the chief cause of his indifferent attitude is that he is selfish. He would like for you to think him unbalanced, but he has more sense than he shows. He is going to change when he finds out he can't upset you.

ABC—Will I be successful if I try the treatment I was consulted about a month ago?

Ans: Any treatment that you should take ought to be from a Medical Doctor. This is the only way for you to completely recover and do not put any confidence in those "here-say Remedies."

LEW—I have been living with this man three years. Tell me if I should stay on with this brute or do what I have in mind?
Ans: Why waste your life with some man you do not love? You are a very young woman and if you went through life as unhappy as you are now, then it is your own fault. Don't jump into a bargain of this kind—look for a husband. In the meantime get you a job.

SLG—Does my sister mean me any good. She just won't treat me right about the property our daddy left when he died?

Ans: There are some people who have to have the "whole cheese" or none—and this is the way your sister feels. She does not mean you any harm although she is not going to treat you fair about this property unless you have it settled legally.

WL—My only ambition is to become an aviator and would like any information that you could give me along that line and also my future.

Ans: You know what you want—then young fellow you must go right after it. Your education comes first—then enter college where you can take up aeronautics. The profession is a very exciting one.

BJ—I have taken a liking to a man and want you to tell me if he is too young?

Ans: Let him decide this question. There isn't any reason why you and he couldn't find happiness together provided you took an interest in the things he likes.

CITIZENS ARE ASKED TO REGISTER AND VOTE

OLDSTERS FLEE FLOOR, FORGET CHILD WHO ALMOST DIES OF EXPOSURE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 9.—(AP)—Found last Monday in an abandoned house flooded by waters from the Coldwater river, Wesley Yates, only five years old, is in a hospital here suffering from hunger and exposure, both feet and legs frozen and facing the amputation of both legs in an effort to save his life. Physicians at John Gaston hospital call it one of the most pitiful cases ever coming to their notice.

Don't allow yourself to grow old—keep yourself young and fit.

IC Do you think that my husband is going to have to leave again this summer in order to find a job? I am in love with another man and can't help it. Will he give me any money?

Ans: If your husband find about this other man he will leave and won't ever return. You aren't trying very hard to make your early marriage a success—don't gamble with your husband's heart. Leave this other fellow alone.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Without making any open threats or disclosing any immediate plans of action, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today issued a statement urging all citizens who are qualified to vote to register and be ready for the coming elections.

"We have important tasks ahead of us," the statement said, "in the 1938, 1940 and later elections and we cannot perform those tasks unless Negroes are qualified to vote."
The association emphasized that it is not interested in what political parties Negro citizens join, but in their registration so that they can vote when the time comes.

In reply to a question as to whether or not the NAACP will direct any political action as an aftermath of the anti-lynching bill failure, association executives avoided giving any comment. It was learned from other quarters, however, that the NAACP is by no means taking the anti-lynching defeat lying down. It has merely retired to perfect a strategy which is certain to be announced and to be followed up in the spring and fall.

Some hint of the attitude of the association may be secured from the comment of Walter Winchell, widely syndicated columnist, who declared in his column of February 28: "The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is taking the defeat of the anti-lynching bill grimly, but patiently. The abrogation of the two-thirds rule (for nomination in the Democratic National Convention) breaks the hold of the Solid South. The Negro vote, they believe, controls the destiny of 17 states."

For the present, the association is urging a heavy registration of colored voters throughout the North and West and in all those southern states where they have the least chance of voting.—The

U. G. E. WINS $250,000 WAGE INCREASE

WASHINGTON (C)—Victory in the fight for a $250,000 wage increase for 3,000 low-paid government workers was won Monday when the Senate passed the Treasury-Post Office appropriation bill, which means a $50 a year increase for each worker. Congressman Taylor of Colorado, Congressman Ludlow of Indiana, Congressman O'Neal of Kentucky, Senator Glass of Virginia, Senator McKellar of Tennessee, Senator Hayden of Arizona, and letter sent today to NAACP branches by Walter White, secretary, in urging registration states:

"Stress that the NAACP is not interested in what party ticket or candidates are voted for, but in the registration of every qualified Negro. Get ministers, civic groups, women's organizations, labor groups and others to stress unceasingly this important matter. Particularly important is this in states where the Negro vote potentially holds the balance of power, and in southern states. There are several of the latter like Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee—where many more Negroes could register and vote if they would only do so. It will mean a sacrifice for some to pay accumulated poll taxes but that sacrifice should be urged. We have important tasks ahead of us in the 1938, 1940 and later elections and we cannot perform those tasks unless Negroes are qualified to vote. Obtain from the secretary of state of your state election laws and a statement of qualifications, required and the procedure to be followed in registering."

The association also issued a statement pointing out that as a result of the publicity on the anti-lynching bill fight "it is certain that efforts will be made to suppress news of lynchings. In a great many instances the subterfuge will be used of declaring that persons lynched were 'killed by posess'. Secretary White asked all branches of the association and other individuals and organizations to keep sharp watch for lynchings in their localities and to report same to the national office of the association at 69 Fifth avenue. Persons are asked also, wherever possible, to secure photographs of the lynching, or the body of the victim, or a portion of the crowd, and forward same to the NAACP in New York.

Everyday Cooking Miracles

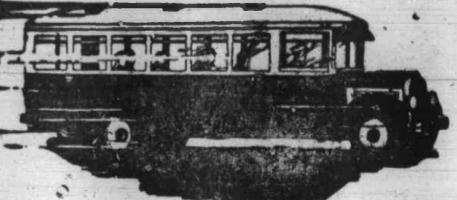

BY VIRGINIA FRANCIS
Director Hotpoint Electric Cookery Institute
Once upon a time the broiler was "the seldom-used department" of the kitchen range, but those were the days when a pall of smoke and odor surrounded most every broiler venture. But now that the miracle smokeless broiler of the Hotpoint electric range has banished these twin "unpleasantries," this healthful method of cookery that coaxes out hidden food flavors has come into a desert to complete its eye and appetite appeal—Ham Stuffed Acorn Squash and Cinnamon Apple Rings.
Ham Stuffed Acorn Squash (Serves 6)
1. Parboil 3 acorn squash until tender. Cut in half and remove seeds.
2. Brush inside generously with melted butter, season, and fill shells

Here's a broiler meal "quickie" produced with the help of the smokeless broiler of the modern electric range.

its own. Along with the vanishing smoke n' odor has gone the splattering that made broiling a risky and hard-to-clean-up-after job, too, alas through which the fat drips into the broiler pan and is protected from the heat unit. You can broil steaks, chops and fish under "company" noses and no tell-tale odors will wait their way to other parts of the house.
Broiler Meal "Quickie"
The wise homemaker gets acquainted with her broiler because it can turn out many a good meal in double-quick time and is a real "wife saver" on days when you rush home from a prolonged club meeting or a hectic day of shopping. Dinner can be on the table in less time than it takes to tell—and on time, too. Here, for example, is a luscious broiler meal that only needs a cottage cheese salad, heated rolls and with cubed left-over baked or boiled ham; sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter.
3. Place on broiler rack along with Cinnamon Apple Rings.
4. Turn oven switch for broiling and set oven control to 350°.
5. Place broiler pan under broiling unit. Leave oven door ajar and broil until sizzling hot and golden brown.
Time: Approximately 15 minutes.
Cinnamon Apple Rings
1. Wash apples and slice in rings about 1/2 inch thick.
2. Place on broiler rack and broil approximately 8 minutes.
3. Turn and dot other side with red cinnamon candies and broil approximately 8 minutes. These make specially delicious and colorful rings that are eagerly welcomed by October appetites.

MAN ORDERED OUT OF RELIEF OFFICE

NORFOLK, Va., March 2.—(AP)—An unidentified man was literally kicked out of the welfare office by the office girl here last Monday.

He entered the office and seated himself, awaiting to receive relief. Hardly had he been seated when the office girl walked in and yelled angrily: "This is no colored waiting room; this is a white waiting room. The office is closed." The hungry Negro hastened out.

A white man was seated also
