J. B. What must I do about property of my father's which is in Virginia?

Ans: About the only thing you can do is to arrange to sell it so that you can clear up the indebtedness. Have it appraised and if you like, put it into the hands of some good reliable Real Estate Agency down there.

T. M. H. For the past five years I have been out of work and all of my friends seem to have forgotten me even my boy friend that once seemed to care enough to marry me. I stay worried all the time and I want to know what to do?

Ans: Enter suit for divorce immediately and when you are granted same which should take more than sixty days in your State, then accept the attention of other friends. In all probability he has filed suit for divorce...but that won't necessarily divorce you and you must talk this thing over with your lawyer.

A. V. R. I have tried for nine years to have something and I am now thoroughly tired and disgusted. Would it help any if I packed my bags and "lit-out" for the city I have in mind?

Ans: A sensible idea. You have worried continuously for the past few years about making your home in PHILADELPHIA and I honestly feel that you would be using good judgement to carry out this plan you have in mind.

A. B. Is there any way that I can change him as he doesn't care for church, picture shows, dancing or any kind of entertainment?

Ans: Not a possible chance of changing him and don't enter marriage with the thought that you can make him like the kind of life that you do. He is a quiet type and will never be able to frolic in the fashion you desire.

L. S. There is an attachment run on my car for a bill of my husband's but understand the car is in my name. Will I be able to get it back?

Ans: Laws in different states vary...the thing for you to do is consult a good lawyer and take his advice on the matter. I do think that some adjustment will have to be made about the bill before you are able to get your car.

M. M. I do want your opinion about my farm as I feel that you will help me if possible?

Ans: Put it up for sale and if you are offered a nice bargain of profit then sell, otherwise hold it for a while. You really do not wish to go back there to live and if you can't get something worthwhile from it, then do so.

E. S. Please tell me why my people pick at me and what really is my trouble?

Ans: You have a swell disposition and they take advantage of it to try to arouse your bad points. The less you have to do with them the happier you will be. Make friends among the people who do not live near you.

important session Wednesday, July 20. The past officers who have served their term with a clean spirit and have maintained the by-laws they received as their guides were declared vacant. With the election of new officers the club is looking forward to a bigger and better things in the future. The club is now in the midst of a great civic work and plans have been made to send representatives to the City Council of Durham to discuss measures which will prove of vital importance to every member of the race. The Three C's club originated this project but they have received excellent cooperation from the other clubs of the city.

The new officers elected were: John Long, President; Parham Donnell, Vice-President; James Reeves, Secretary; and reporter Robert Minor Assistant Secretary; Graham Lyons, Treasurer; David Gilmore, Auditor; Marvin Dick, Business Manager; Samuel Nance, Membership committee; David Gilmore, Social and program committee; Preston Edwards, Sick and look out committee; William McCloud, Sergeant at arms.

With these officers at the helm the club expects the coming fiscal year to be a banner year.

The Three C's club led in the organization of a Council of Clubs in Durham. Mainly responsible for the organization of this council was David Gilmore, former president of the 3 C's and Samuel Nance, a member of the same club is the present president of the council.

The purpose of this organization is to promote a greater and more wholesome relationship among the eight clubs of the city through the discussion and exchange of ideas for the betterment of community life among the Negroes of Durham.

The Three C's club has set out or new, big and better business. And are looking forward to a more sunshiny success. The past officers who have served with clean sport. And are of good repute.

exceedingly beautiful background. After the business session tables were spread and a delicious repast was served consisting of fried chicken, hot buttered rolls, creamed potatoes, green peas, a course of tomato salad. A course of refreshments were also served with hot doughnuts and a course of sweets. During the repast a program was presented by Miss Annie Dunn chairman of program committee.

DOINGS AT THE Y

Acting Secretary Our Community Night was a cut short of attendance last week on account of the rain. However, we had a very enthusiastic bunch of young folk who did come. We were very grateful for their presence because we know they are interested in our efforts to get every one to come to the 'Y' at some time. We played games and were refreshed with ice cream. One such effort is a part of our program every month. Please watch our August Community Night which will be announced through the paper and from our churches.

The Industrial Girl's Club gave a party. Everything was included to have a good time—music, dancing, games and punch and everybody seemed to have had a real good time. They are planning some other entertainments that you other industrial girls out there who haven't joined this club might be interested in. They will be proud to have you join with them every Tuesday evening at 7.

HOUSEWIVES and bees via with each other in business these summer days — and for the same reason. For like the busy little creature storing up honey, women are engaged in storing up a cupboardful of sweet-ness for the winter months. And how easy it is to do nowadays — with the modern short-bolt method and bottled fruit pectin — and how economical, with none of the good juice boiled away! And when winter comes how comforting it is, in a domestic emergency, to shelf groaning under the weight of rows of rhubarb jam and jelly glasses.

Red Raspberry and Currant Jam
4 1/2 cups (2 1/2 lbs.) prepared fruit; 7 cups (8 lbs.) sugar; 1/2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, crush about 1 1/2 pounds fully ripe currants. Remove seeds and skins by sieving. Crush about 1 quart fully ripe raspberries. Combine fruits.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water; if necessary. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Skim; pour quickly. Fill hot jam at once. Makes about 17 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Silk Boycott Proposal An Economic Fallacy

Cost of Silk is Only Eight to Twelve Percent of Stocking Price

Dear to the hearts of American women of all ages are their silk stockings. To give them up means serious harm to American industry. An American worker weaving the raw silk into fabric. Japan breeds the silkworms and sends us the raw silk from the cocoons. Our workers, manufacturers and sellers do the rest.

By LATTIMER SHAW

WHEN an American woman "boycotts" a $1.00 pair of silk stockings she does 92 cents worth of economic damage to the United States in order to do perhaps 8 cents worth of damage to Japan, China and Italy.

A few minutes of research spent in verifying this important fact will reveal graphically that any widespread boycott of silk because we do not like the antics of certain members of the Japanese army would be a boomerang bringing calamity to 120,000 workers in the American silk hosiery industry.

Here's the way it is summed up by George Urlaub, executive director of the Throwsters' Research Institute, concerning the silk used in making silk stockings in this country: "Thirty million pounds of raw silk worth about $50,000,000 produce approximately 37,000,000 dozen pairs of silk hosiery having a retail value of around $320,000,000 which represents about $275,000,000 in wages, taxes, materials and earnings to American industry and its workers."

The whole thing is a matter of simple arithmetic. The spot price of raw silk, only about 80 percent of which comes from Japan, paid by our manufacturers of stockings, underwear, shirts, dresses and scarfs, is from $1.50 to $2.00 per pound. One pound of silk is sufficient to make from one to two dozen pairs of silk stockings. Silk stockings of the better grades range from 75 cents to $2.00 per pair. The average retail price is around $1.00. Therefore, at the highest price of silk, the silk in a dollar pair of stockings represents only about 8 to 15 cents. The rest is paid for workers' wages, administrative salaries, factory equipment and overhead, distribution, advertising, selling expense, wholesale and retail profits and, sometimes, an occasional dividend for stockholders. And practically the same story is true about silk underwear.

Lisle stockings cost about the same as those gleaned from the silkworm cocoons and they are made mostly of British long fiber cotton
