

School Days Again

AS OUR CHILDREN ENTER SCHOOL, THE QUESTION UP-PERMOST IN EVERY PARENT'S MIND IS, "WHAT WILL MY SONS AND DAUGHTERS DO AFTER THEY HAVE COMPLE-TED THEIR EDUCATION?"

FOR YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN, NORTH CAROLINA MU-TUAL OFFERS A DOUBLE DUTY SERVICE.

FIRST—IT PROTECTS THE FAMILY AND OFFERS A PLAN THROUGH ITS CHILD'S EDUCATIONAL POLICIES TO COM-PLETE THE CHILD'S EDUCATION AND EQUIP HIM OR HER FOR A LIFE OF USEFULNESS.

SECOND—AND JUST AS IMPORTANT, IT OFFERS UNEX-CELLED OPPORTUNITIES FOR EMPLOYMENT AS AGENTS, MANAGERS, ASSISTANT MANAGERS, ACTUARIES, STENO-GRAPHERS, BOOKKEEPERS, AND VARIOUS OFFICIAL PO-SITIONS—TO THOSE WHO ARE QUALIFIED.

SINCE YOU ARE EDUCATING YOUR CHILDREN FOR SER-VICE, WHY NOT PLACE YOUR INSURANCE WITH A COM-PANY THAT OFFERS YOU THIS DOUBLE DUTY SERVICE?

N. C. MUTUAL HEADS PLEADS FOR TEACHERS—

pecially is in need of trained artisans. So many of the jobs formerly held by members of our race are being taken away, such as cooks, bell boys, carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, plumbers, painters, decorators, centerers, farmers etc., solely because our group has not been taught to handle these assignments, efficiently and well.

I am sometimes led to believe if the schools were to lay more emphasis on vocational guidance and training, and less preparation for academic degrees, the future generations of our race would be better off. One reason for the widespread unemployment among our group today is the lack of practical training.

The far-seeing parents will recognize this fact and will impress upon their children the importance of specializing in some form of skilled labor. The desire to develop one's skill along with his mental ability can best be accomplished by teaching our children the dignity of doing a job well.

In making the above suggestions, I am not unmindful of the necessity of higher training for those who are adapted for such training: We must have teachers business men and women and persons trained in the professions. The field of endeavor is almost unlimited. It is essential however that we find the ambition of the student and develop and coach him along proper channels.
