The mid-day meal is now in session at the Daisy E. Scarborough Nursery and the children are in a happy frame of mind as they clean their plates, not realizing the careful planning that has gone into this well balanced meal. At each table is one of the instructors; namely, Mrs. J. C. Scarborough, Mrs. Lillian Buchanan, and Miss Eva Patterson.

PLAYTIME

Supervised play is another feature of the Daisy E. Scarborough Nursery and Kindergarten and in the home under the supervision of Mrs. J. C. Scarborough, St. and Miss Eva Patterson.

Shaw U. Prexy Speaks To N.C. Ministers Unit

RALEIGH, March 3, (Special)—Dean John L. Tilley and Pres. Robert Daniel of Shaw University were principal speakers at Lumberton and Etowah Friday, February 17, at exercises closing the first units of an intensive minister training program sponsored by Shaw for the purpose of offering North Carolina Ministers instruction in phases of religion for which their previous training had not allowed. The institutes of which seven units have been provided have been held in various North Carolina communities under the instruction of outstanding ministers and professors of theology in theological schools.

Shaw University

RALEIGH, March 4th—The Rev. Marshall Shepard, pastor of the Mount Olivet Tabernacle Baptist Church, Philadelphia, will conduct the services of the Shaw University Religious Dedication week to be held at the Raleigh school March 8, 9, and 10. The Rev. Shepard received his formal training at Virginia Union University, Richmond, Philadelphia. The week of religious emphasis at Shaw is program designed to direct the minds of students and the community to need of religion in life adjustments. It will include special sermons as well as group and private conferences in which personal or general problems of religion will be discussed.

Negro Higher Education As I Have Known It

whites to bow to Baal; to yield to the racial policies of the South and more especially to the racial and educational policies of the big educational foundations. That great institution, like Socrates of Athens and Jesus of Nazareth, is of greater force and value dead than alive.

Schools Supported Wholly Or Largely By Negroes

In the course of the past twenty years I have come to know most of these colleges first hand. There is hardly any limit to the number of them. And the smaller the institution is, the bigger is the name. Some of the funniest little things imaginable stagger under the heavy burden of "University." One would think at times that the raison d'etre of these caricature "Universities" is the giving of the biggest possible degree in the largest possible volume. The true significance of the Negro supported college must be sought however in its origin rather than in the thing itself. There were many sections which were untouched by the New England pioneer. The people were in darkness. They were deeper yet in poverty. A preacher or two in the area had attended college some parts of a year or so. They attempted to found a "college" or "university." Half finished buildings, a sprinkling of loyal but primitive students, a few stiff, hungry, half-trained "professors"; a sight too often repeated from Florida through Texas, from Louisiana to the Mason and Dixon. But now can one laugh in the face of such tragedy aspiring Negroes attempting the impossible, criminal Southern neglect and federal indifference!

The Negro State College Of The South

The Southern Negro state college is indeed a southern institution. Just the name it bears reflects the Southerner's attitude toward the race—"Agricultural," "Mechanical," Industrial, Normal, Institute. The Southern white man will call the Negro by any name excepting "Miss," "Mrs," or "Mr." Likewise he refused for a long time to allow the state school for Negroes to bear the name, "College." Only in recent years did a state so far northward as Virginia allow the use of the name "State College." And of course Florida, Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina still forbid the use of "College" unless it is preceded by several qualifying words sufficient to carry the message that colored people are made to plow, cut wood, and shoe horses. The Calhoun idea of the Negro's place still prevails among

Confidential TO MEN ONLY

GEORGE: What the heck happened to your Uncle John's hair? For years it was gray; he looked old. Now it is jet black and he looks 15 years younger. I can't understand it!

HENRY: It's supposed to be a secret, George, but I'll tell you. He colored his hair with Lari's Hair Color. Yep!—and "jauged" a little on his age—got himself a good job. Better watch out, George; Uncle John might steal your girlfriend!

Is your hair peppered with gray? Are you out of a job? Have you lost your love—romance—just times—because you look too old to join in the fun of the younger set? Then do what thousands of men have done—use Lari's Hair Color. The hair coloring that makes hair soft, glossy, uniformly colored and takes years off your looks.
