

NEGRO BUTLER REFUSES KIDNAP BRIBE

Saves Child From Two Kidnappers

NEW YORK, (UNP)—Thomas Wilson, race butler in the home of Bishop William T. Manning, last Friday evening, saved from two kidnapers, the Bishop's three year old granddaughter.

The Coale child is the daughter of Griffith Coale, prominent landscape artist, and resident of Greenwich Village. Mrs. Coale, the child's mother is the former Elizabeth Manning, daughter of Bishop, who is leader of the Diocese of New York and rector of the mammoth cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Calling at the home while the child and her nurse were on the third floor of the building, and the parents out at dinner, Thomas states that upon answering the door, two men inquired as to whether or not the residence was that of Bishop Manning. Upon being answered in the affirmative one of the two men is alleged by Wilson, to have lowered his tones, showed a bill fold and said to Thomas "If you play ball with me there is $1,000 in it, if we can get the child."

Ordering the pair, "to get out or I will call the police," Wilson slammed the door; the intruders escaped in an automobile.

Student Confab At Shaw

RALEIGH—Fresh from a close up inspection of the seething situation in Europe and lecture tour of outstanding colleges and universities Doctor S. Sherwood of New York, international speaker on the World's social and religious problems will be the featured speaker at the College student Christian Conference to be held at Shaw University, April 2.

Doctor Eddy, who shortly before the Munich Conference discussed intimately with Cabinet members in Czechoslovakia the nation's future, will address the several hundred students expected to attend the conference on the effect of the political upheaval on youth's attitude toward the religious and social problems confronting them.

During the present year Mr. Eddy has made in leading European countries a special study on the outlook for war and peace. He has visited Spanish battlefronts and observed Japanese military operations in Manchuria. His Berlin challenge of Nazi treatment of the Jews has received international attention. Among the persons with whom he has talked intimately are included European prime ministers, Mahatma Gandhi, and Chiang Kai-Shek.

Jones Assumes Partnership With Woodard

Beginning April the first William H. Jones assumes partnership with Russell A. Woodard to form what will be known as the Woodard and Jones Funeral Home.

Mr. Jones is well known here in Durham having been associated with the Carolina Funeral Home since its inception in 1935. Prior to that time, he was connected with other morticians making a total of ten years experience in the business.

This partnership will not be an experiment, for Mr. Jones and Mr. Woodard were associated in business several years ago. Now that they are joining forces again the funeral home will be in position to render even greater service than in the past.

NEW YORK—American Negro citizens may now travel freely in Mexico without being subjected to discriminatory practices of customs officials at the border of the country.

Trouble Starts When Prexy Is Appointed

COLUMBIA, S. C., (ANP) Claiming that the presiding elders' council of the South Carolina AME church had no authority to elect a president, acting or permanent, to any other group or individual.

Another trustee, W. Bowman, said, however, that Bishop Flipper was unanimously appointed chancellor of Allen by the board of trustees, and this "gives him the authority to appoint during any vacancy or vacancies any person on the faculty without the consent of any board connected with Allen."

Mr. Dent, said to be an opponent of Rev. McGill, was named acting president March 8, just three days after Doctor McGill, ill for several days, was taken to John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore. The president underwent an operation March 9 and died March 13.

Beginning last Sunday morning, March 19, the majority of the student body refused to attend compulsory religious services in protest against Mr. Dent, and next day refused to go to classes. Members of the faculty and other persons were permitted to go and come at will, but students not in sympathy with the strike were not permitted to do so.

Doctor A. W. Mance of Columbia, a member of the trustee board, backed the demonstrators by quoting the original charter and amendments which has no

C. C. Spaulding Heard Over CBS Net Work

ATLANTA, (Special)—Speaking from the subject, "The Negro in Business," C. C. Spaulding, head of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance company of Durham, masterfully cited the definite part the Negro has played in America's business life since the time of his introduction to this country up to the present.

The occasion affording Mr. Spaulding this opportunity being the "Wings Over Jordan" program, a weekly feature heard every Sunday morning over the Columbia Broadcasting System's nation wide hook up, and of which Rev. Glenn T. Settle is organizer.

With his characteristic fervor, Mr. Spaulding said in part: "Throughout the country there is hardly a city that does not have an appreciable number of business enterprises owned and operated by Negroes.

Mr. Spaulding spoke from Atlanta, Georgia, the program originating at a radio station WGST.

St. Matthew In Palm Sunday Program

A special Palm Sunday program will greet those who attending morning service on April 1 at 11:00. The pastor will preach from the very appropriate subject, "The Tears of Jesus." As a feature attraction, the choir will render the beautiful and meridian anthem entitled "The Palms."
