YWCA Doings

Fall is here and the club activities are beginning to work at the regular tempo. Already the Industrial Club has met and planned an interesting and attractive program, which will cover a three month period including both educational and social phases. Tuesday, Sept. 19, the first social for the month was given. Informal dancing and games were enjoyed by the club members and their guests. Tuesday Sept. 26th an interesting discussion on "The Present European Situation and How it affects us" will be carried on by the members and a visiting discussion leader.

The Jolly Girls Club, which is composed of the high school group is brimming with enthusiastic ideas brought from the Sedalia Girls' conference. This conference was held under the supervision of secretaries and advisers of the Southeastern area, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

ALL JUNIOR GIRL RESERVE CLUBS will be ready to begin regular work Oct. 1.

THE POLLYANNA CLUB

which meets at the Y has already met and organized.

The following are the officers of that club:

Jaunita Harris, President
Eva McLaurin, Vice-Pres.
Doris Watkins, Secretary
Jessie Pulley, Asst-Sec'y.
Flora Townsend, chairman of music committee
Ernestine Faucet, Chairman of Program Committee
Other officers will be elected later.

GOES TO SANATORIUM

Friends and members of the Union Baptist Church and Usher Board as well as of the Durham Ushers passed a resolution of regret of the sickness of a faithful member and friend, Mrs. Lela Quick of 1112 Juniper St. who was carried to the State Sanatorium Saturday Sept. 16th where she will remain for a period of time. We trust that her condition will soon improve.

Fels Davis left Saturday night for Reddington Pen, where he will make his home.

Games were played and enjoyed after which a course of refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Rosella John, Mrs. Lillie Rogers, Miss Judeva Tapp, Edward Brodie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bolding, Mr. and Mrs. James Garrett and Miss Margie Pettiford.

WILL BE MADE DEACON

Rev. J. H. Peppers, pastor of the St. Paul Baptist Church announces that on Sunday Sept. 24th at three o'clock Johnson Milican will be ordained as a deacon, Rev. Wilson, pastor of the Olivet Baptist Church will deliver the sermon. This program will convene at the Saint Paul Baptist Church.

BACK TO SCHOOL

This week finds Durham full of students returning, almost six hundred strong to North Carolina College, and in the mean time numerous Durhamites are joining the trek out of town to school. Benjamin Lowe left for Talladega College in Alabama, while his brother James went to Virginia State; Mary Cotten went to Bennett in Greensboro; Billy Kennedy returned to Virginia State as well as Willie Baucum and Dick Dunlap.

Of course there are others whose names were not available and others who will be leaving next week. All of Durham's college eligibles who didn't get out of town this fall will be found on the roads at Dear Old North Carolina State.

Fashion Review

For something really dicerent for a dinner down this model on the left is just THE thing. The back apron effect comes around to the front on the hips with just enough shirring to give the new bustle motif. The yoke is also shirred below the bust and should be in the same shade of material as the apron tunic. The under shade should be very contrasting and would go well in black taffeta.

This simple little sports dress would do very well for the fall season worn with a short bolero cardigan of beaver. Note the simple scalloped neckline and wide skirt. The belt is the piece de resistance. It should be done in two toned swede very wide at the end to allow for two pockets with a zipper opening. Very smart, indeed.

Miss Freeland Autumn Bride

In an atmosphere of simple solemnity, that was beautifully touching, Miss Marie Freeland, charming daughter of Mrs. Lorena Freeland of Dupree Street, became the bride of Greenville Harris, instructor at the Winterville High School, Thursday evening, Sept. 14, at the home of Rev. T. C. Graham on Kowan Street.

A few intimate friends of the couple witnessed the impressive wedding ceremony; namely, Mrs. Lucille Hancock, Mrs. Marie Lottis, Miss Mattie Eaton, Miss Elizabeth Freeland and William A. Tuck.

Mrs. Harris is a former student of Hillside Park High School as well as of North Carolina College. Mr. Harris, a native of Cary, Indiana, is graduate of North Carolina College and is at present instructor and director of athletics at the Winterville High School near Goldsboro. He is a good member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.
