MOOD taste is not confined to a fga tourse but rather is the swing of things and you not that grace and charm in the rolled fur front of this simple modeled coat. It gives that some-thing that you used to dream about but now you can wear about and like it. It seems as though it is swing from the head to foot aided by that streamlined appearance on every thing. These new turban styles hats just invite your look and those tiny shoes with extreme heels that decorate Missy's feet are just the thing to finish off a well dressed woman.

Married 20 Years

Durham—On Monday evening November 20, Mr. and Mrs. Macon Hester of 1035 Cornell Street celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary at their home with the help of around forty friends who gathered to make it a lively occasion.

Chrysanthemums and other beautiful fall flowers were prominent in the fall setting which featured in the special interior decorations.

A farcical wedding ceremony was the feature of the evening and Roy Currey took charge as the presiding minister. The Dame of Honor was Mrs. Helen McDade while G. W. White was best man. Miss Katie Tapp took charge at the piano, playing Mendelssohn's immortal wedding march.

When the fun was over, the 40 guests dined in the dining room where they were given a delicious service consisting of a Bridal Cocktail, chicken salad, salted sandwiches, pickles, Cocoa, ice cream, and cake. The centerpiece for the table was an artistic three deck bridal cake.

The honored couple received many gifts including a great deal of china, linen, cut glass etc.

Student Recital

DURHAM—Sunday, November 26, is the date set for the next monthly student recital at North Carolina College. It will be held in B. N. Duke Auditorium and will begin at 6:00 p. m. it was announced by Miss Thomasina W. Talley, director of the department.

The Women's trio, men's glee club, and the following voices students will take part in this, the last recital for 1939: Misses Geraldine Crews, Alma Finney, Bessie Joyner, Dorothy Judkins, Edna Walker Amey Mills, Sarah Tuck, Maude Brandon, Leona Wilkins, Harriett Amey, Clementine Amey, and Allen Brown.

Interest in these monthly student recitals has increased so greatly that it has been necessary for B. N. Duke Auditorium to be used this week because the facilities of the Music assembly have been taxed by the unusually large audiences.

Attend Confab

A. MARSH and Alex Rivera mothered to Southern Pines on last Wednesday to attend the annual conference of the AME Zion Church.

Presents Program

THE 9-3 CLASS OF HILLSIDE PARK SCHOOL presented a program in the auditorium Tuesday November 21st. The program began with the audience singing "The Star Spangled Banner." After chanting the Lord's Prayer they sang "Santa Lucia" followed by the 23rd Psalm. Miss Morjine Dixon recited two poems entitled "The Tea" and "Jim Hit the Jack Pot," an original poem. A melodrama portraying a typical high school boy and girl in love was the main feature. Isadore B. Ogleby then sang a spiritual, "The Crucifixion."
