After the morning session is over, the grand polemarch is scheduled to deliver a radio address and immediately following he will lay a wreath with appropriate ceremony at the "shrine of Texas liberty" the Alamo.

This event will indeed make history, for all in the years that the Alamo has stood as a monument to heroic sacrifice by those who sought liberty and freedom from oppression, never before has any group of Afro-Americans paid tribute to the men who gave their lives for the cause of Texas' liberation from the tyranny of a despotic Mexican ruler. And it may well be noted that in the trying days of Texas revolution their services rendered by Negroes was invaluable.

NEGROES IN ALAMO INCIDENT

When the Alamo fell there black hands with in the walls of the doomed walls to protect its falling. A Negro woman nursed the "Babe of the Alamo" a child who was spared by the Mexican general, Santa Anna. Col. William B. Travis, the leader of the brave band that defended the fort, had his Negro manservant at his side. There were others there, too, but history, as we know it, fails to give account of them.

Friday will bring more business with no interference for the men folk but the ladies will have to don afternoon frocks and attend a reception given by the Silhouettes women's auxiliary of the Kappas.

PRIZE WINNERS

The photo at the left is Mrs. Lottie Revis, 618 Canal Street, winner of the first prize of $10 as the first customer of the D'Orsay Beauty shop when it opened its doors December 19, 1934. Miss Revis is still a customer of the shop. The second prize of $2.50 worth of cosmetics went to Mrs. Julia Herndon, 121

S. Mangum Street who was the second customer. At the right is Mrs. Beatie Horton of 507 Mobile Street who won a prize of $6 for sending more customers to the D'Orsay Beauty Shop than any other old customer. Mrs. Malinda Steward of Adams Court took the second prize of $2.50 worth of cosmetics.

marriage to Dr. Felix B. Martin of Tallahassee Florida. She invited all of us to her reception which will be given at her home in Tuskegee, Ala., Dec. 27. When she returns from her Christmas holiday we must get accustomed to calling her Mrs. Martin.

Naomi McLean, President of the Sorority acted in the capacity of Santa Claus in the distribution of gifts. Santa Claus himself brought us the best gift when he promised all pledges that they would become Sorors by the end of the third quarter. And we do believe in Santa Claus.

ON SUNDAY the usual Vesper Service was cast aside for a Service rendered entirely by the College Choir and the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs. The velvet draperies were drawn and the only lighting effect was that of diagonally arranged candles on the platform of the B. N. Duke Auditorium. Christmas bells with huge red cellophane ribbons attached to green pine made light leaves. Short Pine trees adorned both sides of the platform, this decoration made a beautiful setting for the white robed songsters and songstresses. French, Italian and Spanish Carols and Songs of Praise and of Thanksgiving were sung in English. Miss Thousina Talley, Piano Instructor and popular Pianist was at the organ; Mrs. C. Ruth Edwards, Voice Instructor directed the Choir and Girls Glee Club; Isadore Oglesby, Economics Professor directed the Men's Glee Club.
