Wendell Happenings

BY MRS. RUTH H. MORGAN

Many members of the Wendell Home Demonstration Club attended the Farmers meeting at Riley Hill last Thursday and were greatly benefited from the speeches made by E. Y. Floyd, A. A. Anderson and Miss Ruth Curren, all State Farm and Home Workers.

About 300 were present and had a Tobacco picture painted that was mighty dark. Mr. Floyd advised us to try to forget tobacco, said the speaker, "even when peace is declared in Europe, the people there will have cultivated a taste for other kinds and will be content to do without American Tobacco." Three prizes were awarded. The youngest married couple, the oldest married couple with the largest number of children. One couple reported having 22 children. Mrs. R. M. Edwards, Home Demonstration agent for Wake County, introduced Miss Curren. Guyan Perry spoke for the Farmers and Mrs. Ruth H. Morgan led the songs. J. W. Mitchell, State Agent urged us to live at home, and forget about the "money crop" what we?

The Pleasant Grove Baptist Sunday School held its Shaw Day Services Sunday and had a its guest speaker, Dr. Robert P. Daniels, President of Shaw University.

We are happy to have Misses Morgan and Miss Swann back in their class rooms after being on the sick list.

Our barber, Mr. Perry, who recently married, was not in the shop last Saturday. We wonder why. We are sorry that Miss Irene Lee is still confined in St. Agnes Hospital.

$31,684.00 worth of WPA work for Wendell is good news for us.

The East Wake Ushers Union will meet at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church Sunday, March 17 at 1:30.

BY LYNWOOD BLOUNT

Mrs. Margaret Leonard Richardson of Chicago and Washington is visiting her relatives and friend here in the city.

The ministers and educators of Louisburg, namely: Rev. H. T. McFadden, C. A. Harris, E. Wilson, Z. Hill, Rev. G. C. Pollard are organizing a Boy Scout troop here.

T. E. Conway, C. A. Harris and G. V. Holder visited friends in Greensboro over the weekend.

Bazaar

Continued from page three. From the youngsters the only outlet that some of them have had since the last tournament. The programs of many N. C. Schools are built so as to climax with tournament play, but with no tournament to look forward to basketball is going to drop out of the picture at some of the High schools. One important result of such will be that in many seasons, all of the N. C. college teams will be made up of players from other states because North Carolina high schools will have ceased to encourage promising athletic ability without tournaments. The "ROSES" of North Carolina high schools will continue to go unheralded and will be forced to "waste their fragrance on the desert air."

NCC-Union

Continued from page three. Called time out just as Coach Burghardt sent Dick Mack into the game to give Ennis a rest. Anders followed Ennis to the bench soon after when the fourth foul was called on him. The end of the first half found both of the Mack brothers in the game for NCC with the Eagles leading 25-17.

After both teams had given a speedy passing exhibition of several minutes Glover of Union began the scoring in the second half with a crisp shot and Downing tallied from center court minutes later. He followed this by placing another in the basket after a desperate scramble.
