IN CHARGE OF MUSIC

MISS CARRIE E. ROBINSON

BENEFIT FROM TUBERCULAR HOSPITAL PROJECT

These inmates of the Wake County Sanatorium are shown enjoying the recently installed radio set with ear phone attachments which were made possible by the civic organizations of Raleigh. (See story on Page One).

Raleigh Road Resident Dies

Funeral services for Emmett Mason, 25 year old son of Rev. and Mrs. James Mason of the Raleigh Road, were held Sunday afternoon, June 9, from the Northeast Baptist Church with Rev. J. E. Stewart of Gethemane Church in charge. Rev. Stewart was assisted by Rev. M. K. Hill, pastor of Northeast church. Music came from the choir of the Shiloh Baptist Church. Mr. Mason was born in Wake

County and moved to Durham with his parents at a very early age. It was around Christmas of 1936 that he became seriously ill and he was taken to the State Sanatorium in December, 1937. While at the sanatorium he became active as teacher and assistant Superintendent of the Sunday school. He returned home, apparently on the road to recovery, in March of this year.
