Willkie Meets Special Campaign Committee

WASHINGTON — Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Nominee for President of the United States, sometime ago announced that he was "riding the crest of a trend," said trend being the apparent desire of the American people to banish the New Deal from control of the Government. This trend was accelerated here in Washington when the Nominee met with a Special Committee of the Republican National Committee to select the personnel to conduct the campaign.

Organization plans contemplate that Joseph W. Martin Jr., Republican leader in the House of Representatives, as National Chairman, will conduct the campaign, with the assistance of John Hamilton, former National Chairman, as Executive Director of the National Committee. A group of 14 members was selected to comprise the Executive Committee.

In New York City, Mr. Willkie named a Campaign Advisory Committee composed of 12 members.

In Washington, he named 10 additional members, including two outstanding Republicans of the Negro group, T. G. Nutter of Charleston, West Virginia and William E. King of Chicago.

These able representatives are wholly acceptable to the Colored people. It has been indicated authoritatively that "the Nominee is conscious of the need for new faces to represent the Negro viewpoint."

SEEKS NEW BLOOD IN NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

The other additions to the Campaign Advisory Committee are of a kind and type similar to the appointments of Messrs. Nutter and King, Mr. Willkie having declared that he wishes to bring "some new blood" into the organization.

For many years, Mr. Nutter has been an outstanding citizen of West Virginia. He was a member of the Glenn Frank Program Committee which prepared the Report entitled "A Program For A Dynamic America," a statement on Republican principles.

Mr. Nutter is a practicing attorney; has served as president of the local branch, NAACP; was a member of the West Virginia House of Delegates for four years; was Land Clerk of the State Auditor's Office of West Virginia for six years; Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of West Virginia; Supreme Master of Exchequer, Knights of Pythias; and Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks Organization. He is also a member of the Masonic Fraternity, of Kappa Alpha Psi, and of the Greek Letter Fraternity, Sigma Pi Phi.

During his term as a member of the House of Delegates, West Virginia Legislature he was author of a number of Bills, including one which led to the establishment of the West Virginia Colored Insane Asylum. For many years he has held places of leadership in the affairs of the race.

The other Colored member of the Campaign Advisory Committee is William E. King, also a practicing attorney. Mr. King has served as an Assistant Corporation Counsel, and as Assistant States Attorney, Cook County, Chicago, Illinois; as an Assemblyman, State of Illinois; as State Senator, and is, at this time, the Republican candidate for Congress from the First Congressional District of Illinois, and Republican Committeeman of the Second Ward, largest political unit of the State of Illinois.

Mr. King is a forceful speaker and is one of those who seconded the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey at the recent Republican National Convention. He also was a member of the Glenn Frank Program Committee.

Messrs Nutter and King met with the Campaign Advisory Committee at its first called meeting Thursday, July 11, at the New Willard Hotel, Washington with youthful Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Chairman, presiding.

Mr. Willkie has announced that the Campaign Advisory Committee will serve throughout the the Campaign regardless of the setup of the actual Campaign management.

Trezvant W. Anderson, president; Earl Colston, vice president; Miss Doris Dennis, secretary; Miss Minnie A. Blake, assistant secretary; Harold S. Adams, recording secretary; William L. Campfield, treasurer; Stanley H. Adams, business manager and Earl Colston, tournament chairman.

MINISTER

REV. W. L. MASON
Prominent minister of Rocky Mount, North Carolina and pastor of the St. James Baptist church of that city. Rev. Mason since taking up the pastorate of the Rocky Mount church a little less than two years ago has had an unusual amount of success in building up the membership and reviving its spiritual life.

By way of strengthening existing defects of these services several tentative recommendations were formulated which are to be given careful consideration by those present and are to be reported upon at the next annual meeting.

The Greensboro Jr. Ushers sponsored an eight o'clock tea Tuesday, July 29, at the YMCA.

College Medical Directors Meet At N. C. College

DURHAM — A Conference of Directors of Medical Services in Negro Colleges in North Carolina was held in connection with the course given for teachers at the North Carolina College for Negroes on CHILD WELFARE AND HEALTH EDUCATION, Tuesday, July 9, at the Whitted Elementary School.

The purpose of the conference was to acquaint the teachers with the type of medical service and instruction in health education now being conducted in the colleges and to acquaint the doctors with the efforts of the School Health Coordinating Service of the State.

All of the physicians responded to the call with the exception of Johnson C. Smith, Charlotte, North Carolina, and Bennett College in Greensboro. A total of 16 physicians were present. In addition to these there were present the President and President elect of the Old North State Medical Society and Dr. B. Taylor who is connected with the City Health Department of Knoxville, Tennessee, assigned to School Health work. Meeting in conference with these were the members of the class now undergoing health training at the summer school of the North Carolina College for Negroes.

The following subjects were presented and subsequently discussed:

1. HEALTH COLLEGE LIVING, Discussion Leader, Dr. E. E. Toney, Oxford, Mary Potter School.

2. NUTRITION OF COLLEGE STUDENTS, Discussion Leader, Dr. Walter E. Wilkins,

Cor-Ordinator, Co Ordinating School Health Service
3. COLLEGE HEALTH SERVICES, Discussion Leader, North Carolina College.

4. What is an adequate program for the control of Tuberculosis and Venereal Diseases in Colleges, Discussion leader Doctor F. E. Davis, A and T College.

5. HEALTH INSTRUCTION, Discussion Leader, Dr. A. H. Ray Winston Salem Teachers College

6. Do Administrative Authorities and faculty members manifest sufficient interest in Health programs and services
Discussion, Leader Dr. W. A. Coleman, Livingstone College.

As a result of these discussions the following facts were revealed:

1. That the Health Education now being conducted in Negro colleges is entirely inadequate for present day needs.

2. That the health services given in these institutions is not only inadequate, but is not sufficiently conducive to healthful living.

3. That the general education program as practiced in the schools at the present time fails to give due emphasis to the importance of health services and health instruction; although this is regarded by these institutions as one of their cardinal educational objectives.

This is the first conference of its kind ever conducted in this State, but a unanimous recommendation was passed advocating that in the future such conferences should be conducted

Marie Downing BEAUTY and ROMANCE
SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION
The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Gidefry Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.
There are beauty and romance in every woman's everyday doings! I'm going to illustrate that by replying to you some of the questions recently asked of me by readers of "Beauty and Romance." The answers are quite obvious.
No woman can afford to be a carbon-copy of another woman. To make yourself different, would you:
Buy a jacket that is most unusual even if it isn't flattering?
Wear black shoes with an otherwise white outfit?
Fashion your hair tightly to your head when most are fluffing it?
Little Nervous Habits
Are you a shoulder-strap grabber, a table-drummer, or a bracelet-fiddler? Small nervous habits can be glamour-robbars.
When you have a date to an important function with one man, would you break it to go with the "chess of the hour" if the hero suddenly asks you?
Are your around-the-house clothes neat, clean and tidy... the same as your street clothes?
What is your social specialty? Is it dancing, card-playing, tennis, business, being a good companion? If you haven't one, get busy and develop one. We all need one especially, at least.
If you are with a group and each orders a cocktail, but all you want is a soft drink... would you order a cocktail or a soft drink?
Would you color your hair to resemble its youthful sheen and beauty,

Trade Association Gives Program

CHARLOTTE— Delivering the principal address Sunday night in the Brandon Presbyterian church here, of which the Rev. Mr. Angus P. Corley is pastor, was Jay Frank Hanley, manager of the new Fairview Homes Project, Low Cost Housing Authority of this city.

This program was one of a series sponsored by the Charlotte Negro Trade association, in the various sections of the city. The theme of the campaign is "Better Service With Confidence in the Negro Race."

The address for the occasion was interesting, helpful and contained facts of truth. Mr. Hanley an excellent orator, used for a subject "The Double D u t y Dollar."

Furnishing music selections for the program was the young and well trained choir of the church and offering prayer was the pastor. The welcome was extended by W. O. Grier, and the response by W. P. Malone. The program's object was stated by H. S. Adams, and the speaker was presented by Eugene S. Potts. Ned Davis, the body's vice president, in his usual inimitable manner, presented members and officers of the trade body to the large audience.

An offering was taken and presented the pastor and next came the joint singing of "Till We Meet Ag'in," and the benediction by Pastor Corley. The trade body is making a fine and definitely encouraging contribution to the community and expectations are that it will continue its outstanding.

Attends Meet

CHARLOTTE — Attorney J. S. Bowser, well-known in legal circles of the city and also prominently identified with civic and church affairs of the city, was away from the city Tuesday on business.

He attended the meeting of the board of directors of the Friendship College at Rock Hill, and reported an interesting session, which was attended by all members of the board. Several important items claimed the attention of the body, he stated.
