

FASHION PREVIEW

This evening dress of Crown Tested rayon, narrow and black with gold-striped jacket, draws its inspiration from the polished lines of the Studebaker President Cruiser Sedan, which Harper's Bazaar features in its automobile-dress section in the November issue. It was at the invitation of Harper's that motor-men turned for a moment from driving to designing dresses.

Grain Mixtures For Dairy Cattle Given

Increasing numbers of Tar Heel dairy farmers are mixing their own grain rations for cows, reports John A. Arey, Extension dairyman of N. C. State College. He says numerous requests for mixtures have been received recently. To answer requests, he has prepared a list of five different mixtures.

"But first," he says, "it should be understood that balance in the grain mixture indicates its relation in protein content to that of the roughage. For instance, if the roughage to be used is high in protein content, such as legume hay, the grain mixture should contain around 16 per cent crude protein. If a mixed hay is to be used, then the grain mixture should contain around 20 per cent crude protein. When a grass hay is fed, the mixture should contain 24 per cent crude protein."

Here are his grain recommendations:

Mixture A 16 percent protein, 500 pounds of corn or cob meal, 100 pounds of soybean meal, 100 pounds of cotton seed meal, 100 pounds of wheat bran, 8 pounds of salt, and 8 pounds of steamed bone meal.

Mixture B 20 percent protein, 250 pounds of corn or cob meal, 150 pounds of cottonseed meal, 100 pounds of soybean meal, 100 pounds of ground oats, 6 pounds of salt, and 6 pounds of steamed bone meal.

Mixture C, 24 percent protein, 300 pounds of corn or cob meal, 150 pounds of soybean meal, 100 pounds of cottonseed meal, 100 pounds of peanut meal, 100 pounds of wheat bran, 7 pounds of salt, and 7 pounds of steamed bone meal.

Mixture D, 16 percent protein, 300 pounds of corn or cob meal, 300 pounds of wheat bran, 300 pounds of soybean meal, 200 pounds of ground oats, 200 pounds of cottonseed meal, 140 pounds of cane molasses, 20 pounds of salt, 20 pounds of calcium carbonate, and 20 pound of steamed bone meal.

Mixture E, 20 percent protein 500 pounds of corn or cob meal, 350 pounds of wheat bran, 300 pounds of soybean meal, 250 pounds of ground oats, 240 pounds of cane molasses, 20 pounds of calcium carbonate, and 20 pounds of steamed bone meal.

In Town for the Day

By VERA WINSTON

DO RIGHT by your wardrobe with the aid of a smart town suit. The right suit fits into the luncheon picture, and with the aid of luxurious accessories is prepared to make quite a splurge after dark. For this reason, some of the best town suits are unfurled, as in this model. Heavy quilted satin makes the double collar and epaulettes of this suit which is buttoned high under the collar. The seaming slants out over the hips to form two slit pockets. With the suit is worn a black quilted satin blouse and a matching beret.

Good Coffee Comes From a Clean Pot

YOUR coffee pot may not be as clean as you think, and a clean pot is essential for good coffee. Always use a brush to thoroughly clean inaccessible percolator parts.

Use plenty of hot water to wash your coffee makers. After washing with soapy water, scald it thoroughly to remove all traces of suds and wash as soon as possible after use.

Aluminum coffee makers should be scoured with steel wool and soap once a week. Never use soda, and don't forget that the cleaner your coffee pot—the better is your brew.

Household Hint

Roll, instead of kneading, yeast dough. Without cutting down or kneading the raised dough, turn it out onto a floured board, or magic cover and roll to desired shape. It will roll out beautifully without snapping back and forth, as it does if the raised dough is kneaded before rolling. You will find that if the dough is well beaten and well kneaded before it is put to rise, it doesn't need any more working.

Surprise Meat Pie

—and watch it keep 'em passing back for more!

QUESTS usually look politely baffled when this pie arrives on the table as the meat course. You see, the pie is not a deep dish affair filled with chunks of meat. It is a flat two-crust pie, like an apple pie. When cut into smoking hot and fresh from the oven, each wedge shows brown and crumbly and glistening.

The secret of its fatness is ground meat. This is cannily seasoned with onion and condensed tomato soup, and topped by a crust rich, short and flaky as you can make it.

Cauliflower, broccoli, carrots or peas are suggested as suitable vegetables to serve with it.

The pie is put together this way:
4 tablespoons minced onion
1 pound ground beef
1 can condensed tomato soup
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
Pie pastry for two-crust pie
Cook the onions in a little butter until soft. Add the ground beef and cook until barely brown. Blend in the soup. Sprinkle with the salt and pepper and mix. Line a nine inch pie plate with short pastry, rolled 1/8 inch thick. Moisten the edges of the crust with egg water. Fill the pie shell with the meat mixture. Cover with the top crust, pinch top, brush with melted butter, and bake in a 375° oven for 1 hour, or bake in a hot oven (450°) for 15 minutes and then decrease heat to 350° and bake 15 minutes longer.

'BUNDLES' FILM BENEFIT PROVES SOCIAL TRIUMPH

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Bundles for Britain, Inc., last week stole a march on the Metropolitan Opera by arranging an opening that became a major social event in advance of the Opera debut, drew over 400 Blue Book names, yielded $1,500 for charity, and presented, in addition, the unusual spectacle of a potential king watching the last years of his dynasty flash across a movie screen.
To raise funds for a mobile kitchen to be sent to England, Bundles for Britain sponsored the American premiere of "Mayerling to Sarajevo," a French film dealing with the declining years of the House of Hapsburg. The picture was shown in an exclusive cinema house before a brilliant invited audience from the best social, literary and artistic circles. H.I.R.H. Archduke Otto of Hapsburg, pretender to the Austrian throne, headed the list of patrons and patronesses and graced the premiere with his presence.
Film Smuggled Out
"Mayerling to Sarajevo," with John Lodge and Edwige Fenech in the feature roles, was one of the last films made in free France. It was smuggled out of the country just as the Nazis marched in. As an added treat, Warner Brothers' film, "London Can Take It," was shown by special permission. A print of the latter was made especially for the Bundles for Britain benefit.

Mrs. John Lodge

Mrs. John Lodge, the former Miss Francesca Braggiotti, whose husband portrays the Archduke Francis Ferdinand in the Mayerling picture, headed the Bundles for Britain committee which arranged and directed the benefit.
Col. W. Stewart-Roddie, C.V.O., recently returned from London, presented the Archduke Otto to the premiere audience. Constance Collier, beloved star of the English stage, acted as mistress of ceremonies. A debutante and junior society group lent further color to the assemblage, acting as program, flower, cigarette girls and ushers.

Otto Gets Attention
Crowds gathered outside the theatre for the spectacle. Photographers snapped scores of pictures in the lobby. The Archduke was the cynosure of all eyes as he walked about during the intermission.
Private dinner parties for the distinguished titled patron were given both before and after the performance. Mr. Harry Bull, editor of "Towns and Country," entertained the Archduke at dinner in his New York home before the show. After the theatre, Mrs. Clark Williams, with Mrs. Lodge, gave a reception and supper in the Rainbow Room of Rockefeller Center.
