

CHARLOTTE SOCIAL NOTES

By Mrs. Bessie Hardy

Misses Louella Mae Blake, Norma Jean Slade, W. Cotril and Caesar B. Blake, entertained in honor of the birthday anniversary of their mother Mrs. Sallie Mae Blake Slade at their home on E. Fifth St. last Monday evening from 7:00 to 10:00 o'clock. The affair was one of the most delightful social events of the season. The home was beautifully decorated throughout with roses, primroses, gladioli and palm. The dining room table was covered with a lace table cloth and in the center was an attractively arranged bowl of narcissi, sweetheart roses, and fern. Tea was poured by Mesdames T. E. McKinney, F. L. Wylie, L. A. Yancey, S. H. Adams and Miss K. L. Stewart. Mrs. Aurelia Tate Smith assisted the host and hostesses and introduced the guest to the receiving line. In the receiving line were: Mesdames Sallie Mae Slade, very charming in her gown of powder blue silk jersey, with the full accordion pleated skirt. Wm. Vunderburke, of Lancaster, S. C. D. H. Sanson, D. Grecian Donowa of Asbury Park, N. J., J. S. N. Tooss, S. W. Hamilton, W. R. Lovell, and Miss Louella Mae Blake.

Mrs. Slade received many beautiful gifts. Around one hundred guests were present.

Fred Carter, of Pittsburgh, a student at North Carolina State College was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Malone at their home on Davis Street.

Members of the Colored Chamber of Commerce held their meeting Wednesday at 1 o'clock at the College Union of Johnson C. Smith University. This was the first meeting of the Chamber for the New Year.

Mrs. H. L. McCrorey, of Johnson C. Smith University is ill at her home.

Members of the Young Women's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Bessie Moten Wednesday evening at her home on East 8th Street.

LaRoy Grier of Grier Town, able to be out again after being confined to his home for several weeks with an attack of influenza. WING OVER JORDAN, the famous choir of Radio and Concert stage appeared at Little Rock church Sunday morning. The choir was enroute to points South and stopped over in the city Sunday morning to render a few selections at the request of Rev. H. E. Wilson, pastor of Little Rock church.

Robert Johnson of E. Seventh street left the city last week for Wilson, Mr. Johnson has been in the city since the Christmas holidays.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Medical Society of Charlotte met with Mrs. Robert Green Thursday evening at her home on Oak-lawn Avenue. The main feature for the evening was a talk by Dr. S. C. Pyle. The talk was not only interesting but challenging. The members pledge themselves to the full support of the Negro Day Nursery. After the business part of the meeting was over the hostess served a delightful shrimp salad course and an iced course for desert.

North Carolina and especially in Greensboro, according to latest reports received as this paper goes to press.

Following the suggestion of the college physician, Dr. George H. Evans, students have been requested to refrain from large gatherings and chapel exercises have been temporarily discontinued.

The fact that no halt has come in class activities at the local institution is due in large measure to the efforts of Dr. Evans, Miss Frances Stenson, resident nurse, and her assistant, Miss Grace Brownlee.

In a recent chapel talk, Doctor Evans gave the following suggestions for combating an epidemic of influenza: Isolation, a varied diet included fruit juices and an abundance of water, rest, regular elimination, proper and sufficient clothing, and ventilation.

Bennett Gathering Hears Of Art From H. Clinton Taylor

GREENSBORO — H. Clinton Taylor, head of the art department, A and T College, was the speaker at an informal tea which opened the George Elmer Browne exhibition of contemporary American paintings in the Thomas F. Holgate Library, Bennett College on Sunday evening. He was introduced by Mrs. Ewa Hamlin Miller, head of the art department, Bennett College, who also served with Mr. Taylor as discussion leader.

The exhibition, which includes 30 oil paintings, representative of realism and impressionism, circulated by the American Federation of Arts, Washington, D. C., will continue through January 26. The public is invited to view it daily between the hours of 8 A. M. and 9:30 p. m., and from 7 to 9 on Sundays.

Bennett Faculty Members Talk Dramatic Art

GREENSBORO — "The Negro is still at the backdoor in dramatics" declared Miss Ernestine Coles, when she was presented on Friday by the Bennett College Little Theatre Guild, of which she is director.

Although cognizant of the Negro's contribution in the area of dramatics, Miss Coles expressed regret that the race has been "exploited" by the white writer and producer. "We want to see the Negro portrayed not as he who carves his neighbor into bits, but one who aspires to lofty ideals." Then she reminded her audience that even before the emancipation of the Negro, his ability as a dramatist was recognized in Europe. Miss Coles was followed by Mrs. Charles G. Green, '37, who reviewed "Cabin in the Sky," current Broadway production starring Ethel Waters and Todd Duncan. Miss Betha Joyner, '39 read "The Creation" by James Weldon Johnson. Both Mrs. Green and Miss Joyner are members of the Bennett College staff.

CHAPLAIN'S DAILY MESSAGE - The Bible -

The Bible consists of sixty-six books, thirty-nine in the Old Testament, and twenty-seven in the New. It was written the three different languages, Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek. It was fifteen centuries in writing (1500 B. C. 100 A. D.) Yet the Bible is a unity. While it is many books it is one book. One thread and theme runs throughout. The eneness of the Bible is the eneness of a Person. Its master theme is Christ. The Bible flames with universality from cover to cover. It knows no east nor west. Its appeal is to all races and nations. Christ is the universal Savior. The story of the Prodigal Son is true to the life of all people. Human brotherhood should be sought by all. The Golden Rule is a rule for all people.

The Bible gives us, the cure for three great ill—sin, suffering, and death. The remedy for sin is the Cross. The remedy for suffering, the Love of God. The remedy for death is everlasting life. The Bible gives us three great blessings—life, peace, and love. The Psalmist says: "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and light to my pathway." (Psa. 119:105).

The Bible breaks at dawn with God's voice saying: "Let there be light." It sets at dusk with God's truth proclaiming: "Let there be life." Between the two speak all voices that can breathe a prayer, a need, confess a sin, utter a warning, sob a sorrow, or sigh a peitent's tear. Between the two are the tragedies of hate, the follies of fear, the stain and shame of sin, the paralysis of doubt, the torment of despair, and the choke of the fog that ends it all. Between the two are the stories of nations, the acclaim of orators, the fall of empire, the rise of kingdoms, the decline of dynasties, the tramp of armies, the crack and crash of civilizations, and the coming of Him who is "THE BRIGHT AND MORNING STAR."

The Bible presents us a WAY OF LIFE. It does not set itself up as a source of scientific information. Living truths are presented, stories of the lives of great men are told, the history of nations is given, not with the idea of elating carefully analyzed facts, but for the purpose of pointing out the good and the bad in human hearts, and a way of overcoming the bad.

The world widens as you enter the Bible. The land of promise is found. Its mysteries puzzle the wisest sages.

Its visions waken the dead. Its hopes slay hell, Its love builds heaven.

To appreciate it, you must see "IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE".
