Starch Bath Softens Unpleasant Winter Skin
 WINTER skin is a plague which few women escape. Your ankles are chapped; your legs are rough and flaky; your body feels itchy-dry all over. Your case is not unusual, and is traceable in part to our rigorous climate and in part to our addiction to overheated rooms and our devotion to the bathtub.
 What to do? Ruth Murrin, Director of Good Housekeeping's beauty clinic has the answer in the February issue of the magazine. Try a soothing protective body rub — one that smooths and softens, dries quickly, leaves no greasy film. There are new body lotions especially for the purpose; but before you invest in one, try your old reliable hand lotion. Apply it after your bath.
 In extreme cases, the Journal of the American Medical Association recommends that you use soap only on face and hands, feet and body folds, and make your bath with starch, bran or oatmeal. To avoid clogging drains, oatmeal should be tied in a gauze bag and boiled a few minutes. Then both bag and the water in which it was boiled are added to the water in the tub. Water should be tepid, not hot.
 The starch bath is simpler, since it is necessary merely to stir the starch in the water. It makes a delightful, silky-feeling bath.

 MLW—I have seen where you have helped fifty million others and I wish help too. Will the birth of this child cause lots of confusion in the family?
 Ans:—No I don't think it will. There is absolutely no reason for anyone having a thing to say about this child that is to be born and you need have no fear whatever. Everyone will be crazy about the youngster.
 LS—There is a man that I want for my companion and I want to know does he love me as he says? Tell me yes or no for I don't want to get messed up this late in the day.
 Ans:—He admires you greatly but there is also another that e admires too. Due to the fact that he will not keep his promise and come to see you when he promises is reason enough for you not to become too interested in this man.
 LC—I am fixing to make a change and I want to know from you if I will be successful or not?
 Ans: I am sure that you will. You are standing still right where you are now and the time has come for you to do something to try to get ahead, in the world. The change you are contemplating will prove a worthwhile venture—push ahead.
 PH—The boy I used to go with he and his wife quit. Now on Thanksgiving Day he came over to my house so please tell me what he wanted as I am anxious to find out about him?
 Ans:—He didn't come back to begin an affair with you, he came solely because he was blue, and upset about his wife leaving him and thought you might sympathize with him. Now don't go falling in love with him again for he dropped you to marry his wife and if she comes back, he would drop MAB—Will my aunties get the money she is expecting. It is best for me to go home or stay here?

 Ans:—The money is going to be delayed for a few more months. Since you are so dissatisfied where you are now, then it is suggested that you go back home. You could find some kind of work to do.
 An Unseen Friend: I am depending on your advice. It is true that the boy I am going with loves me and do I love him? Do we love each other?
 Ans:—From all indications the feeling seems to be mutual. This young man is sincere he is head over heels in love with you. I don't advise a marriage for you kids at this early age. Wait for at least another year.
 LLA—The boy that I am going with tells me that he has my name on some uncertain papers of his and I feel deeply worried and want you to tell me what to do?
 Ans:—Nothing. He had his own way of trying to win a girl for a sweetheart and he certainly is keeping you guessing. The papers he has is some that he has written himself he would like to get up enough courage to get a marriage license—with your name on it, but hasn't as yet.
 BCN—It is advisable for me to continue to teach this next semester or to quit now?
 Ans:—Hold to your job and finish out this year teaching. This is no time to quit. You might think that you haven't done such a good job but you will find this semester to be much easier than last. The children will respect you more and you can handle them better. The four months experience you have had will make things different.

 SCOUTING STRENGTHENS AND INVIGORATES DEMOCRACY
BOY SCOUT WEEK
 Boy Scouts throughout the country celebrate the 31st anniversary of the movement in America during the week of Feb. 7-13. While the slogan on the poster above emphasizes the fact that "Scouting strengthens and invigorates democracy" all America agrees that Scout membership is in itself the essence of democracy.

SLEEPY HEAD
 Philadelphia. — Bernard J. Degman, 25, spent three months in gaining weight so he could join the army, but today when his big chance finally arrived he failed to hear the alarm clock. Police sped to Degman's home when he didn't appear for induction at 7 a. m. They found him asleep. "It won't happen again," promised Degman. "At least not for a year."
