Youth Throughout The Country Are Making Application For Training In Army Air Corps for National Defense

TUSKEGEE Institute Alabama — Negro youth throughout the country are making application to the Army Air Corps for training as Flying Cadets. Director G. L. Washington of Tuskegee's School of Mechanical Industries has from the beginning directed and had immediate supervision of Tuskegee aviation program. At the same time he has been closely associated with air corps flying cadet training. Flight training of flying cadets in the army air corps consists of elementary, basic, and advanced. Each phase extends over approximately ten weeks. Applicants passing the physical and educational examinations and who are assigned to training are first given a five weeks initiation period, he is equipped with uniform, flying suit, mechanic's suit, etc. necessary to flight training. Immediately upon acceptance the cadet received $75 per month pay plus allowance for board and lodging.

John Wayne, Helen Westley, and Darby Jones, popular Negro character actor, as they appear in Republic's "Lady From Louisiana," a film story of New Orleans in the 1880's. John Wayne and Ona Munson are the leading characters with such popular players as Roy Middleton, Henry Stephenson, Helen Westley, and Dorothy Dandridge, another colored favorite, in supporting roles.

March Takes Lives Of 14 N. C. Children In Motor Accidents

North Carolina lost fourteen of its future citizens last month when four girls and ten boys—all of them under 16 years of age met untimely deaths under the wheels of trucks and automobiles, it was reported this week by the Highway Safety Division.

Five of these boys and girls were on foot, three were on bicycles, one was on a school bus, and five were in automobiles.

Last month's youthful traffic victims in North Carolina included:

Two boys riding a bicycle on the highway at night without a light.

A 14-year-old boy who ran from behind a parked car into the path of a truck.

A three-year-old girl who was playing on the highway.

An 11-year-old boy who was taking a driving lesson from a 16-year-old boy and stepped on the gas instead of the brake when the car started to run off the road.

A five-year-old boy who started across the street without looking.

Traffic victims in the state during the first three months of this year included 11 boys and girls from 10 to 14 years of age, 12 children from five to nine years old, and six children under five years of age. Fifteen of the twenty-nine were on foot and six were on bicycles.

"I urgently plead with North Carolina motorists to be unusually alert and cautious when they see children ahead of them on foot or on bicycles, and I plead with North Carolina parents to do everything in their power to make their children safety-conscious and careful," said Ronald Hocutt, director of the Highway Safety Division.

annual convention of the North Carolina Negro Teacher Association. Sessions were held from Thursday through Saturday afternoon.

The convention theme was "Educating for the Common Defense" and the general and special sessions were both concerned with how each section of the body might more effectively integrate the educational program into the programs of national defense.

Special sections were held in higher education, foreign language, secondary education, history and English, mathematics and science, elementary education, grammar grade education, primary education, industrial arts, home economics, art, high school administration, physical and health education, and adult education, and addresses at all these sections were used to indicate specifically the role of each in meeting present day emergencies.

Principal speakers at the general sessions were Dr. Raleigh Schorling, professor of education and director of practice teaching at the University of Michigan; N. C. Labor director of the NYA of North Carolina; Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of Guilford college; A. J. Taylor of New York City, Negro Scout executive; Mrs. Mary William, of W. Va., president of the American Teachers Association; Lient H.A. Robinson of Fort Bragg; Dr. N. C. Newbold, state director of the division of Negro education; S. B. Simmons, state supervisor of vocational agriculture; and Dr. N. C. McDowell, president of Lincoln Academy, Kings Mountain.

At the opening session, Dr. Schorling spoke on "Responsibilities of Teachers and Schools in Present Day Emergencies."

Philadelphians To Honor Major R. R. Wright In Celebration Of Progress Of Negroes In Business In That City

Sponsors Expect 20,000 To Attend Affair To Be Held May 16

Philadelphians are planning a huge testimonial celebration for the double purpose of emphasizing the progress of Negro business in the city, and honoring an outstanding business man, Major R. R. Wright, Sr. It is expected that at least 20,000 persons will attend the affair to be held in Convention hall on May 16, Major Wright's birthday.

Southern Attorney-Generals Plan "Jim Crow" Parley

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —Atty. Gen. Thomas S. Lawson has announced that a second conference of southern attorney generals will be held here soon to work out plans for joint action before the United States supreme court in the Arthur W. Mitchell case involving the segregation laws.

At a recent meeting of the southern legal officials preliminary plans were discussed for their intervention in the case brought before the court by Congressman Mitchell who charged that though he had purchased a first class ticket, he was asked to leave a sleeping car in Arkansas. The first meeting was called by Lawson, who said the case was regarded as "a threat to racial segregation laws in general."

DURHAM — Interest among colored voters in the city election to be held here May 6 gain considerable momentum Saturday with the announcement of candidacy of W. Otto Moss, for the City Council; Mayor W. F. Carr candidate for reelection. Mayor Carr, in past elections has always received strong support from Negro voters, and there is no indication that his popularity is on the decline. Mr. Moss, while being new in the political arena, is considered a friend of the masses, and will easily walk off with the lion's share of the Negro vote.

Already there is considerable stir among Negro voters to give Mayor Carr and Mr. Moss heavy support, and a large battery of workers is certain to be on hand when the election comes off. Mr. Moss who is owner of the Moss Bakery is well known among the colored element of the city, having gained many acquaintances among them through the large number of Negroes employed in his baking establishment and through his unusually friendly attitude.

Other candidates in the field are: in the first ward, A. B. Elkins, automobile dealer; W. K. Rand and Ellerbee Poe, Jr. Mr. Rand will doubtless poll the heaviest support among colored voters from the first ward, as he is well liked by them and widely known. The second ward race will between G. E. Isaac, publisher of the News Journal and G. W. Munford the incumbent. (Continued on page six)
