Donovan Out As Louis Baer Referee For Second Fight

Washington — The District of Columbia Boxing Commission has been notified by Mike Jacobs that the Capital City will be the scene of the next Buddy Baer vs. Joe Louis encounter, during the first week of October. Also the commission has decided that the third man in the ring will not be Arthur Donovan who was the only one who believed that Joe Louis hit Buddy Baer at the bell and not after the bell. Donovan was to have appeared before the commission and answer certain questions about the fight, which he failed to do when his plane was grounded by a fog and he could not get a train which could get him in Washington in time for the meeting.

None the less, Chairman C. W. Owen announced that the verdict in favor of Joe Louis would remain unchanged. This was merely for the record as Baer's manager, Ansel Hoeman had already been told that there wasn't a chance for giving his Buddy the heavyweight crown.

Southern University Sets Record; Wins Crowns In Football, Track, Tennis, and National Cage Laurels

Barnard Director Athletics

Greensboro — Archie Harris, senior at Indiana university, holder of the American discus record, and all-American football end, has just been appointed assistant director of athletics at A and T College, it was announced last week by President F. D. Blufford. The new assistant will probably assume his duties August 15.

Roland K. Barnard, assistant athletic director, becomes athletic and head coach of football succeeding Homer Harris Jr. who has resigned to study medicine, it was further announced. Homer's resignation becomes effective July 1.

The resigning coach took over the coaching reins at the Aggie institution in the fall of 1939, succeeding Inman A. Breau. He graduated from the University of Iowa in 1939 where he was an outstanding football end and track star, gaining the distinction of being the only Negro captain of a Big Ten football team and being voted Iowa's most valuable Scotlandville, La. — A new record in Negro inter-collegiate athletics has just been established by Southern University, Louisiana's Land-Grant college for Negroes, in its winning within a single session conference crowns in football, track, tennis—both singles and doubles, and the national championship in basketball.

Responsible for the feat is not concerted emphasis on athletics but a comprehensive ideal of education which the school calls "The Southern Idea." Southern believes in a balanced education, that it should include all desirable activities, and that each one engaged in them should do his best. Southerners readily admit that the thought is a part of the thinking of their comparatively youthful president, Dr. Felton G. Clark who himself was a college athlete, but whose balance is revealed in this attribute plus the possession of a Ph.D. degree, a Phi Beta Kappa key, a listing in "Who's Who in American," and an earnest desire to make Southern's students "the friendliest students in the country."

Another index of "The Southern Idea" is physical plant costing $3,000,000.00, a faculty of 107 persons, including Arnett Mumford who is directly responsible for Southern's athletic and physical education program and his assistants, "Gil" Gruter, world's champion high jumper, Dr. J. "Skip" Hazard, Russell Blunt, and "Cliff" Purnell, all of whom carry full teaching loads in the academic program of the university.

Asked if there would be another series of championships next year, Coach Mumford said, "You know we don't plan them; if they come we're happy, but if they don't we have no regrets. As long as the boys do their best, we're satisfied."

Mrs. McCrorey Is Anti-Crime Speaker

Continued from page One or eight or sometimes nine o'clock in the evening, leaving the children to care for themselves in preparing for school and also unattended after school hours up until bed time. In many of these homes, the fathers have either deserted the mothers or have been sent to prison. The Welfare Department had to furnish some of the mothers adequate funds so that they could remain at home with their children instead of working for the meager wages that are being paid.

2. There are a number of Negro boys and girls in the city between fourteen and sixteen years of age who are idle. They are too old to be compelled to go to school and are too young to be employed. Consequently they move about the community with no direction at all. The Civitan Club recently became interested in this problem and has established at the Bethlehem Center a boys' worker whose duty it will be to try and round up and direct the lives of boys of this age.

3. During 1940-41, there are enrolled 5,875 Negro pupils in the schools of the city. These schools will close on June 11th. After this date these 5,875 young people will be left in our communities with no direction, no playground facilities or any other worthwhile endeavors to occupy their time between now and the opening of school in September. The lack of recreational facilities is responsible for some of the crime.

4. Indifference on the part of the people in the community contributes also to the crime situation.

5. There is no outstanding civic organization that seems to be interested in the problem enough to give a careful study of the situation. There are many factors which contributed to the crime situation that can only be discovered through a systematic and scientific study of our local situation. This has not yet been undertaken. The people here in Charlotte are no different from people in other communities. There are certain situations which affect our problem that have not been brought to light or given sufficient emphasis.

ARCHIE HARRIS

player in 1935. Roland Bernard has served as assistant coach of football and basketball coach since the fall of 1939. He was a leading athlete at Boston university.

In addition to his duties as assistant athletic director, Archie Harris will serve as assistant coach of football and head coach of track. He will also teach courses in physical education and hygiene.

The new assistant is a candidate for graduation from Indiana university this June. He has climaxed a great collegiate career marking him as the greatest athlete in the history of the institution. This fall he was selected a member of Indiana's all-time football team, and also won honors on the All-State, All-Conference and several All-American teams. He is also a member of the All-American track team and holds two all-time Indiana records in the weight events, plus two state, two Big Ten conference, and one national record.

Just last week at Minneapolis, Harris hurled the discus 174 feet and one inch for a new American record in the qualifying trials of the forty first annual Big Ten track and field meet.

The new discus mark set Harris was only one and a half inches short of the world mark set six years ago by Willi Schroeder of Germany. Harris also won the shot put at this meet with a toss of 50 feet even.

Harris is also an exceptional student, graduating eleventh best in his high school class and stand in the upper quartile of June class at Indiana.

A Good Habit:

It's a good habit to have the proper amount of light for reading—and the proper placement of the reading lamp is important, too. The light should come over the left shoulder.

And an excellent habit to cultivate in your home is to use Bamby Home-Made Style Bread for making toast. For here's a new-invented, tender-crust loaf that was made for toasting purposes. Delicious in flavor, uniform in quality, Bamby Home-Made Style Bread is always fresh at your grocer's.
