YORK MEMORIAL ASSN', Inc. 123 East Fourth Street Charlotte, N. C.

A SPECIAL INVITATION is extended to all Negro residents of Charlotte and elsewhere to view the New York Memorial Cemetery, located 2 1/2 miles from the city limits on the York Road (just across the road from Immanuel Presbyterian church).

This beautiful spot is being developed exclusive for the Negro race and is something they should be proud of. Never before in the history of the South have the Negroes had the opportunity to have a memorial cemetery, which receives perpetual care and all the advantages offered in this beautiful park.

A lot of people say they will be taken home to be buried. That is because they have never had anything else offered them and it was their only burial grounds. Today, they have this beautiful memorial being prepared for them. They will appreciate the advantage of burial in this cemetery rather than being taken to some smaller unkempt burial ground. All we ask is that we be given an opportunity to show you these beautiful burial lots.

The lots in this cemetery are being sold on terms, which are within the reach of all Negro people. If you are unable to purchase family lots, you may purchase single, double or triple graves or just as many as you may need.

A wise person prepares for the burial of their loved ones while they are still in good health and does not wait until the scythe of the reaper does away with members of their families.

be taken to deal with it effectively.

I note with satisfaction that the Office of Production Management has recognized the seriousness of this situation, and that on April 11, 1941, it addressed a letter the subject to all holders of defense contracts. As Chief Executive of the Nation I place the full support of my office behind your statement to the effect that, 'All holders of defense contracts are urged to examine their employment and training policies at once to determine whether or not these policies make ample provision for the full and equal participation of Negro workers. Every available source of labor capable of producing defense materials must be tapped in the present emergency.'

No nation combatting the increasing threat of totalitarianism can afford arbitrarily to exclude large segments of its population from its defense industries. Even more important is it for us to strengthen our unity and morale by refusing at home the very theories which we are fighting abroad.

Our Government cannot countenance discrimination against American citizens in defense production. Industry must take the initiative in opening the doors of employment to all loyal and qualified workers, regardless of race, national origin, religion or color. American workers, both organized and unorganized, must be prepared to welcome the general and much needed employment of fellow workers of all racial and national origins in defense industries.

In the present emergency, it is imperative that we deal effectively and speedily with this problem. I shall expect the Office of Production Management to take immediate steps to facilitate the full utilization of our productive manpower.

Franklin D. Roosevelt.

maintain our morale in face of discriminatory acts on the part of white people." He asked the commission to consider the "personal aspects" of having the Negro entrance on what he termed a "side street."

Attorney Thompson contended that "Dillard Street is a side street." He added that the plans providing for the exit from the kitchen to be used for the disposal of garbage will be near the Negro entrance and said that this was objectionable.

Attorney Thompson cited numerous court precedents dealing with education, transportation and other matters connected with race segregation. He cited particularly the McCabe-Acheson case of 1914 which set the "separate but equal" precedent.

Ernest Marshall, on the staff of the defense training division of the Detroit, Michigan, board of education, will report on the wide training being given there without discrimination.

The important question of labor unions and the part they have played, or can play, in getting jobs for Negroes in industry, or in keeping Negroes out of jobs, will be discussed by Horace B. Cayton, of Chicago, author of the book, "Negro Workers and the New Unions."

Dr. Robert C. Weaver, of OPM in Washington, is expected to reveal what, if anything has been done by OPM on discrimination against Negro workers in defense plants. Dr. Ira DeA. Reid of the U. S. Employment Service, will answer questions and give advice on job placement.

Hastie, civilian aide to the Secretary of War, delegates are aroused over reports, just now seeping out, of the mistreatment of Negro soldiers in several army camps, and the reports that Negro doctors in some camps are being treated as hospital orderlies.

Speakers for Youth night of the conference will be Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of Talladega college, and Madison Jones, director of youth work for the association. A complete program on youth problems will parallel the adult conference, and will be held in Bee Bee Temple church.

The 25th Spingarn medal will be presented to Richard Wright, author of the novel, "Native Son," on Friday night, June 27, by Elmer A. Carter, of New York member of the appeals board of York State Unemployment Insurance Fund.

'Stay On The Right Side, Sister,' Theme Song For Motorists

Raleigh — Do you remember that popular song a few years back titled "Stay on the Right Side, Sister?" If you do, the Highway Safety Division says, you are different from many North Carolina pedestrians and motorists.

Motorists driving on the wrong side of the road and pedestrians walking on the wrong side of the road accounted for 93 of the 349 traffic fatalities in this state the first four months of this year, according to records the Safety Division.

During the four months period from January through April, 19 pedestrians were killed while walking on the right side of the road, with traffic.

"As much as has been written and said about the dangers of walking with traffic, it seems that every North Carolinian should know by now that the State law directs that pedestrians shall walk on the left hand side of the highway, facing traffic," said Ronald Hocutt, director of the Highway Safety Division.

"It also seems," he said, "that every driver should know the simplest and most elementary of all our driving rules, which is that you must drive on the right hand side of the road. Yet 74 persons were killed in this state the first four months of this year because of wrong side driving."

To all North Carolina motorists Hocutt suggests: "Drive on the right, don't straddle the center line, and share the road with the other fellow."

To pedestrians, he says: "For your own protection, walk on the left side of the highway, so that you will be facing traffic and thus will be able to see danger in time to avoid it."

But my friend has changed and doesn't do for me like he once did. My husband has changed to and seems more kind and loving. I don't think I love him so tell me what to do?

Ans.—The friend is tired of you and doesn't care to go with you any more. Stop the relationship altogether. Devote your entire time making yours husband and children happy for your husband realizes now just what you meant to him and will do every thing in his power to make you happy. If you live right and be good wife to him, he will do right himself and will not have to go back to jail.

PH—Dear Sir: I am a news boy and I would like to know know what you could send me to get more customers and to make more money?

Ans.— I can send you some good advice, which if followed, will get you the results you desire. Here it is: You aren't putting the enthusiasm into the job you now have that you could. The secret to getting new customers, an dmaking money for yourself is to get out and hustle and dig up new business. There are plenty of people who would be glad to buy your papers—if you ask them. Salesmanship is what it takes and this is one job you must learn to do yourself.
