RECORD ENROLLMENT EXPECTED AT LOCAL COLLEGE THIS YEAR

Durham, Sept. 10.—The largest enrollment in the history of North Carolina College for Negroes was expected here next week when the local institution opens its doors for the 1941-42 session. According to advanced reports more applications for the entrance of Freshmen are in the registrars office than ever before and college officials were being put to a task to find housing space for those desiring entrance.

A well planned program for the Freshmen class has been set and new students will find a hearty welcome awaiting them from both faculty members and student body. Freshmen week will begin on Wednesday, September 17th with two days being allotted for their registration. Friday, Sept. 19 has been set aside as registration day for advanced students.

Last year's enrollment at the college showed a student body of approximately 800, and it is expected to reach near the one-thousand mark this year.

During the school term last year college officials found it necessary to serve six meals a day, the dining room which was built only a few years ago to accommodate around 300 being too small to serve all the boarding students at one time. This year the dining room has been enlarged to almost three times its original size, and will be able to take care of any anticipated growth of the college for the next several years to come—it is hoped.

Added to courses already established at the North Carolina College is a library science department which will offer a degree in that field. Many students are expected to avail themselves of the opportunity of this course.

THE HERITAGE OF HISTORY

By Dr. Charles Stelzle

Historians are familiar with what happened thousands of years ago. They know that even at that time there was almost a complete framework for all our present-day experiments in politics, economics, literature, drama and government.

But the average man of today has an idea that the ancients were simply "a bunch of heathen", ignorant and depraved, unmindful of the fact that however limited they may have been in some respects, without the use and enjoyment of the telephone, the radio, the motion picture, the automobile and the airplane, they were really very similar to ourselves.

"History repeats itself" only in the application or the results of certain fundamental principles of human behavior. It does not mean that the world is going on like the endless swinging of a pendulum, getting nowhere in particular. The whole character and life of the people as a whole have gone steadily upward, whatever may have been the outward form of culture and manner of living. What is of greatest interest and value today is not so much the actions of particular individuals in history, as it is the movement and trends of the people as a whole, as humanity kept marching on.

Just what historians 5,000 years hence will think of our present civilization, no man can tell. It would probably be a confusing picture if they should deal exclusively with what many of us regard as the most important events of the day. Some of our leaders in journalism, politics and industry are saying that the second world war will be "the end of civilization". There have been many such "ends", but the world has gone on, because beneath these "catastrophes" there has been a basis for progress which could not be halted.

On the whole, Democracy has steadily made progress—in religion, in education, in industry, in politics, in class distinctions, in the democracy of sexes. These were all part of the same movement. History has simply been repeating itself. In every case the people have won, although the progress of Democracy must

Gov. Stassen Denies Discriminating Against Negroes

Minneapolis, Minn., — White and Negro citizens of the twin cities rubbed elbows at a mass meeting sponsored by the Minnesota Negro Defense committee recently, in the Hallie Q. Brown Community house, to hear Gov. Harold E. Stassen defend himself against charges of discriminating against Negroes in Minnesota Home Defense force.

Rev. Clarence T. R. Nelson, pastor of the Camphor Memorial Methodist church and publicity chairman of the defense committee, gave a brief review of the committee's fight to have Negroes enlisted in Minnesota's home defense program. Following this, Frank L. Alsop, chairman of the committee, in his introductory remarks, told the governor that the people would not be interested in his speech if it were on any other subject than that which they had gathered together to hear. Gov. Stassen's address for the most part was given over to the citing of instances to show that he is not and never has been prejudiced nor ever done anything in his public career that could be labeled discriminatory to the Negro.

In answer to the governor's statement that he would work with the committee to make a

Three New Men Added To N. C. Law Faculty

According to advanced information the incoming law class at the North Carolina College for this year will exceed in numbers by far that of last year which was the first since the establishment of the law school two years ago.

Added to the law faculty this year are three new members all Negroes. They are as follows: James Young Carter, A. B., A. M., LL. B.; Charles W. Quick, A. B., LL. B.; Albert L. Turner, A. B., A. M., LL. B.

test case of the discriminatory army code, Cecil Newman, editor and publisher of the St. Paul Recorder and Spokesman in Minneapolis, challenged the governor to strike the first blow in the fight by the issuance of an order to the effect that Negroes be inculcated in Minnesota's home defense, to which the governor replied that he could not do that.

Archie B. Brown, proprietor of the Big Four Shoe Shop has recently returned from attending the funeral of his brother, William Brown.

Funeral services for the deceased were held at the Mt. Zion Baptist church of which the Rev. Elijah Benton is pastor. Interment was at the Forest cemetery of that city.
