

Carry Your Sunshine

When the sun in the skies of our world is blotted out by the clouds of fear, pessimism, worry and despair, we must depend upon the sun within ourselves. Happiness is an inner-quest. We must generate our own sunshine. We must carry with us wherever we go to light the way through the darkness of defeat, to burn down obstacles, and to kindle the fire of victory.

How create such inner-sunshine? Close your mind to negative thoughts as you would lock the door to robbers. Fill your mind with positive, constructive, cheerful, hopeful thoughts. Associate with men of great faith—men who believe that things can be done and who roll up their sleeves and do them. Tell yourself a thousand times that you can succeed. Act the part of a winner. Dispel the clouds in the lives of others with the sunshine of service. And, finally, keep in tune with the Infinite. He who carries his sunshine with him on the journey of life has learned the master-secret of triumphant living.—Wilfred A. Peterson.

What We Can Control

Just for a change why don't we do something about the things we can control. For example, none of us can lengthen his span of life, perhaps, beyond the hand of destiny, but we can control its width and depth. Nor is it given us to control the contour of our countenance, but we can control its expression—we can smile instead of frown. We cannot alter the distance of our heads above the ground but we can control the heights of their contents—we can think right thoughts. We have no control over the weather, but we can control the moral atmosphere that surrounds us. We cannot control the other fellow's annoying habits, but we can do something about our own.

SUCCESS IS:

Biting off more than you can chew, and then chewing it. An end to be attained not by doing the things we like to do but like to do the things that are to be done. A thing determined by determination. Making an ordinary amount of brain do an extraordinary amount of work. Thoroughly planning your work and then thoroughly working your plan. A thing affected not so much by where we stand as by the direction in which we are moving. A thing which you will never come to, if you are disturbed by the success of others.—Goodfellow. A thing half won if you gain the habit of work and thrift. The ability to let chances go by until the one comes along with your name on it. That which doesn't depend so much on sitting up late at night as it does on being wide awake in the daytime. A latter you cannot climb with your hands in your pockets. (Collected by Jno. G. Pollard, former Governor of Virginia)

The North Carolina Highway Safety Division announces that 191 licenses have been revoked for the week of October 4th to the 10th. This makes a grand total of 38,043 revocations the majority of which are for drunk-driving.

A. & T. FRESHMAN CLASS NUMBERS OVER 400

This year's A. & T. Freshman Class is the largest in the history of the College—more than 400 registered, for the first time running the student body of the Greensboro school well over one thousand. The above picture shows the class assembled for the cameraman during the opening day of school. Practically every state in the nation is represented as well as several foreign countries.

THE LESSON OF COLUMBUS

"Behind him lay the gray Azores Behind, the Gates of Hercules; Before him not the ghost of shores; Before him only shoreless seas." So begins Joaquin Miller's great poem on Columbus—a poem for all those who are facing a time of danger. Columbus had only a belief by which to sail. He set out into an unknown ocean, which the fears of timid men had peopled with fabulous monsters and half-hinted perils. His ships were small, his crew mutinous, his seconds in command envious that this "foreigner" should be placed over them.

All he had was an idea—a plan which was new, and which wise men swore could never be carried out. But he did it. He set his course straight ahead, and stuck to it. The monsters did not appear—but unforeseen hardships did. The ships were becalmed for days in the doldrums—that patch of ocean where the wind seldom blows. The provisions and water ran low, and the ocean was wider than his wildest calculations. But still he went on.

What he faced, we face today. City of the individual and in our declare, the monsters of war will engulf us. We face the be free and equal, as our guide the inborn right of all men to ing star, we will reach our goal. If we steer straight ahead, a-difficulties of curtailment of what we deem necessities. We action of the Doldrums. We will mutinous subversive forces and long the course we know to be But we must persevere—or to envious, self-seeking leaders. we have the ideal of a new world, where democracy will But where Columbus had the idea of a new road to the Indies, and where all men will be free. men to pull us through the in-have to meet with and handle must follow through.

If we go ahead, our timid sail—"The good mate said: 'Now must we pray For lo! the very stars are gone, Brave Admiral speak; what shall I say?' "Why say: 'Sail on! Sail on! And on!" Then pale and worn, he paced the deck, And peered through darkness. Ah, that night Of all dark nights! And then a speck— A light! A light! At last a light! It grew, a starlit flag unfurled! It grew to be Time's burst of dawn. He gained a world, he gave that world

REIDSVILLE FAIR HOLDS NEGRO DAY

REIDSVILLE, (CP)—Between 400 and 500 children came out Thursday afternoon for the Negro Children's Day at the Reidsville fair.

Fair officials commended the Negro citizen for the perfect order maintained at the grounds which they said speaks well for the training of their parents, teachers and officers of the celebration.

S. B. I. SAVES DOOMED MAN

RALEIGH, (CP)—Sammy "Slick" Gilliam was freed of all blame and Jessie Manning who committed the slaying of Paul Best, aged white merchant of Windsor, has already been sent to death row following investigation of the crime by the State Bureau of Investigation, Thomas Creekmore, assistant director of investigation, said Monday.

He said that when an incident like that happens the law tries to make a fair investigation as in that case in which the man actually accused of the killing was freed and that if such instances were played up in Negro newspapers, Negroes would have more respect for the courts. The illiterate white man admitted planning and participating in the robbery of the aged clerk, he said when he was arrested in July, but that Gilliam struck the two hammer blows that killed

Officers reported that investigation revealed the man had drunk the fluid which apparently caused their death.

Lee Jackson, white, who operates Brooklyn Dry Cleaning Co. at 331 S. McDowell Street, told reporters Patterson came to the plant Tuesday morning to see Lipscomb and was directed to the basement where Lipscomb was working.

Lipscomb collapsed at Third and Brevard Streets trying to get to a doctor's office and Dr. Sterling F. Hogans, passing at the time, examined him and said he was in extramis and ordered him to the hospital.

Jackson said Patterson was in great pain when he came back to the plant Wednesday afternoon and that he told his wife he and Lipscomb had been drinking the dry cleaning fluid. Jackson's wife sent for the can containing the fluid, Jackson said, and Patterson identified it as the one they drank from Tuesday morning.

HE DIDN'T WANT BRACELETS

FAYETTEVILLE, (CP)—Residents of the Elizabethtown road became suspicious when Bennie Covington, white man of Aniger, approached them Saturday night and asked them to remove handcuffs which were around his wrists.

They brought him to police headquarters and an investigation showed that he had been arrested by Jasper Holland, Cumberland County officer for being drunk and disorderly at the fair grounds.

He had escaped when Officer Holland stopped his car to quell a roadside disturbance, substituting bands for hand cuffs to hold the prisoner.

2 MEN RESCUE WHITE WOMAN

HIGH POINT (CP)—J. T. Ingram Sheraton hotel bellhop, and Lacy Kendall rescued Mrs. W. E. Kennedy, invalid white woman, from the flames of her burning home at 1708 Kivett drive early Wednesday morning.

Her night clothes afire, Mrs. Lipscomb Wednesday afternoon burning bedroom by the two men who were coming from a dance about 2:15 Wednesday morning.

W. E. Kennedy, elderly husband of the woman suffered a burn on the hand when he attempted to rescue Mrs. Kennedy from the flames and the two daughter were panicky when the two men arrived.

Ingram ran to a fire box and turned in the alarm and returned to the home to make the rescue.

Firemen had high praise for Ingram in the courage and quick thinking he displayed.

With the bedding and Mrs. Kennedy's clothing in flames, he threw a blanket around her to smother the fire and rushed her out of the burning building. Then he went back into the room and got Mr. Kennedy who, frozen with fright, had made no attempt to get out.

WOMAN IS KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY PATROLMAN'S CAR

GREENSBORO, (CP)—Mrs. Leticia Lee, 1606 E. Market St., died at 6:45 a. m. Monday in the L. Richardson Memorial hospital a few minutes after she was struck by a city police car, driven by Thomas Teague, on Market Street at Benbow road.

Teague said he was chasing a nother car, according to one version of his story, and the woman walked across the sidewalk into the street and into the side of the car. Another statement issued by police said that Teague said he was cruising east on Market Street Benbow Road at about 25 or 30 miles an hour and that Mrs. Lee ran into the street when his car was only a short distance from her.

Both statements said he tried to avoid striking her. Officer Teague was arrested Monday on a warrant charging him with manslaughter and he posted bond for appearance in municipal-county court Friday.

Chief of Police L. L. Jarvis said Teague will continue to execute his police duties as usual. A coroners' jury found that Mr. Lee met her hours investigating the death of 87-year-old woman.

Jarvis said Teague radioed to police headquarters for an ambulance, but the woman was moved to the hospital before the ambulance arrived.

Teague went to the hospital and remained there, according to Chief Jarvis, until he was ordered to report back to his job. He is freed as far as the coroners' jury is concerned, but was scheduled to be tried in municipal-county Court Friday on a charge of manslaughter.

The accident occurred about 6:30 Monday morning and the aged died less than 10 minutes later after she had been taken to the hospital for treatment by a taxi which was passing at the time.

Russia must not be such a bad place, we doubt if the Americans would have fought so well for our way of life. And it is axiom that men do not fight well for things that do not have their confidence.

It is surprising how many people can tell you what is the matter with other people, without knowing what is the matter with themselves.

James Robert Clasker Dies At Woodville, Va.

WOODVILLE, VA.—Funeral services for James Robert Clasker, senior at Virginia State College and star full-back, was held here on Tuesday, October 7, at 2:30 p. m. at the Woodville Shiloh Baptist Church. The rites were officiated by Rev. James Jackson assisted by Rev. John Lomax.

The deceased died on Sunday at 6:30 a. m. at a hospital in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., where he lingered between life and death since the previous Sunday evening, September 28, as the result of gun shot wounds inflicted by Giles Jefferson, a jealous ex-suitor of Miss Mamie Alexander who the deceased was visiting in Jarrat, Va. when the shooting occurred. Miss Alexander, a school teacher in Jarrat was also shot by the assailant but is on the road to recovery.

A large number of the undergraduates of chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity of which the deceased was a member were present to pay their final respects. Six of his fraternity brothers acted as pall-bearers; Frank Harris, Earl Allen, Robert Alexander, William Dennis, Kermit Cockerell, and Russell Fincham.

Besides the large representation from the fraternities and sororities at Virginia State College, several of the administrators were present: Dr. John M. Gandy, President; Mr. H. E. Jefferson, football coach; Dr. J. A. Lockett, Director of the Division of Agriculture; Assistant Dean of Men, Mr. Elwood Boone; and Dr. R. P. McDaniel, head of the Department of Science and Mathematics.

The deceased was interned at the woodville Cemetery. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Zephyr Glasker; his stepfather, Mr. Henry Glasker, five brothers and four sisters.

Let's not forget the heroic struggle of the valiant Greek army against great odds; its soldiers deserve consideration when the world gets back to normal.
