Durham Young Minister Makes Fine Record

Durham.—Possibly one of the most progressive young ministers of North Carolina is Rev. V. E. Brown, pastor of the Orange Grove Baptist Church of this city and the Penn Avenue Baptist Church of Oxford.

Last Sunday morning a representative of the Carolina Times visited the Orange Grove Baptist Church here and found a well rounded program in process with Mayor W. F. Carr, the principal speaker. A well trained choir furnished music for the occasion and decided improvements on the outside and inside of the church structure were much in evidence.

A visit to the Penn Avenue Baptist Church in Oxford disclosed a live spiritual program going on climaxed by a rally in which $200 was raised. The Oxford church is planning to raise an additional $200 next month after which a new choir loft and a pastor's study will be added to the structure.

—Rev. Brown was born in Columbus County, where he received his education. Prior to going into the ministry he taught school in Columbus, Marion and Brunswick counties. He was ordained for the ministry in the Lumber River Baptist Association, which is one among the largest in the state. He was first called to the pastorate of his own church, Moriah Baptist Church. Later he was called to the pastorate of the New Hope Baptist Church of Fairmont. At Fairmont he did much to improve the church structure both inside and outside. Under his leadership the membership increased in numbers and spirit.

Rev. Brown just a few weeks ago concluded a revival at Whiteville where many were added to the church.

The success of the young minister has been attributed to his keen observation and understanding of the masses. He is a believer in church improvement

MINORITY TREATMENT A CAUSE FOR CRISIS SAYS MACLEAN

Hampton Institute, Va.—President Malcolm S. MacLean of Hampton Institute said today that if there is a major underlying cause for the present crisis, it is the misunderstanding and mis treatment of our minority groups in the world.

In a statement released in connection with National "Americans All" Week, which opens today, the Hampton Institute educator said that, "America must learn with breathless rapidity to enfold, absorb and make use of and profit by all her minorities, her foreign-born, her Jews, her Negroes, her people of Mexican, Spanish, Japanese, Chinese, European and other Asiatic descent." Dr. MacLean is a sponsor of National "Americans All" Week, which was organized by the American Committee for Protection of Foreign-Born.

The educator said, "If we sow the seed of minority suppression, we shall reap the whirlwind of civil war. If we seek the ways of peace, prosperity and democracy, we must make full use of all brains, of all the skilled hands, of all the cultures of all people."

HAMPTON SENDS REPRESENTATIVE TO NASHVILLE MEETING

Hampton Institute, Va.—Hubert E. Whitaker, Project Supervisor of the Hadley School, Nashville, Tennessee, has been selected by Hampton Institute to act as its official delegate to the Third Southern Conference on Tomorrow's Children, which will open its two-day meeting in Nashville on October 31. Mr. Whitaker is a graduate of Hampton Institute and has been a leader in southern education since receiving his B. S. from the Tidewater Virginia college.

and where ever he has worked things have usually improved spiritually, numerically and financially.
