

FDR ENTERTAINS PRES. LESCOT

DURHAM UNIV. LIBRARY
DURHAM, N. C.

FDR says:

Payroll savings is our greatest single factor in protecting ourselves against inflation.

The Carolina Times

"THE TRUTH UNBRIDLED"

7c

VOL. XX—NO. 40

Durham, North Carolina, Saturday, October 23 1943

CIO VICTORY AT RJR FORECAST

Roosevelt Asked To Abolish Bias In Armed Forces

President Of Haiti Accorded Full Honors As White House Guest

His Excellency, Elie Lescot, President of the Republic of Haiti, was accorded full honors in a high ceremony and welcomed to the White House as the Nation's guest Wednesday, October 14, by President Roosevelt, members of his Cabinet and ranking military and Congressional officials.

Attracts Attention

JAMES A. PORTER noted artist and professor of art at Howard university, whose book "Modern Negro Art," just published by the Dryden Press is attracting wide attention. Mr. Porter travelled abroad in 1935 as a fellow of the Institute for International Education. Foreword for the volume, which includes 85 reproductions of paintings and drawings is by Walter Pach.—ANP Photo.

Malcolm Ross Is Named Successor of Haas As FEPC Chm.

Associated Negro Press. WASHINGTON — Malcolm Ross, deputy chairman of the Fair Employment Practices committee and next door friend and associate of Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle, was named Friday to succeed Fr. Haas as chairman of FEPC. Fr. Haas recently resigned following his appointment to the Grand Rapids, Mich., diocese of the Catholic church.

FDR GREETS HAITIAN PRESIDENT

His excellency, Elie Lescot, President of the Republic of Haiti, arrived in Washington, D. C., October 14, for an official visit to the United States of America. President Lescot is shown greeting Representative Sol Bloom, chairman of the House of Foreign Affairs committee, following an introduction by President Franklin D. Roosevelt seated. The First Lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is shown in the background conversing with other members of the party. (Press Photo Service.)

12,000 Reynold Workers To Vote On One Unit Bargain System Oct. 30

Prof. D. J. Jordan Dies Following Short Illness

Prof. D. J. Jordan, age 77, died at the Lincoln hospital, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. Prof. Jordan's death came as the climax to an uphill fight he had waged for the past several months to regain his health, and followed an operation which was resorted to as a last resort toward that end.

Succumbs

Prof. D. J. Jordan, prominent educator of Durham, who died here Tuesday afternoon after a short illness. Prior to his retirement a year ago Prof. Jordan was professor of history at North Carolina College, and was considered one of the outstanding instructors of that institution.

PHILADELPHIA — On a unit was declared the appropriate bargaining unit for the R. J. Reynolds tobacco plants "Camel" and "Prince Albert" in Winston-Salem, N. C., by the National Labor Relations Board on Oct. 13 in a decision which upheld the United Camerary, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers of America CIO in every respect. An election will be held within 30 days, between CIO and "no union."

UNION WILL BRING PEACEFUL RELATIONS

"This decision of the NLRB, said UCAPAWA Secretary-Treasurer Harold J. Lane, "clears the atmosphere and lays the basis for a vigorous, united CIO industrial union in the largest cigarette factory in the world. With about 12,000 workers involved in the coming elections, we are confident of winning a substantial CIO majority vote. Final settlement of history at North Carolina College, and was considered one of the outstanding instructors of that institution.

Five-Year Saving Plan Creating Great Interest

The interest of Negroes all over the country has been aroused in a national Five-Year Savings Plan through the organization of War Bond Savings Clubs, the Inter-racial the Inter-racial Unit of the Treasury's War Finance Division announced this week.

Inquiries have been received by the unit's office asking more about the clubs, a particularly how to organize them.

In answer to these queries, W. W. Allen, Treasury promotion specialist in charge of the direction of the War Bond Club movement, has prepared a "List of Suggestions for Organizers of War Bond Savings Club Units of the National Five-Year Plan." Members and bond purchasers are urged to: "1. Sell yourself first. Make the selling argument to yourself clear and simple. For example, if you save one $25 War Bond each month, you Please turn to page Eight

Asks FDR To Use Power To Stop Racial Segregation

Associated Negro Press. NEW YORK — An appeal to President Roosevelt to use the power and prestige of his office both as President and as commander-in-chief to abolish racial segregation in the armed forces has just been forwarded to the White House in a letter signed by Mrs. Henry A. Ingraham on behalf of the national board of the Young Womens Christian associations, of which she is president.

Negro Children To Attend Jim Crow School In N. Y.

Associated Negro Press. HILLBURN, N. Y. — Negro children here will no longer attend 55-year old jim crow Brook school but will go instead to new, up to date, Mair, or "white" school, as ordered by State Education Commissioner George D. Stoddard, Wednesday.

Attend Launching Of Liberty Ship

A part of the group of almost a hundred friends and associates of the late Robert L. Vann, noted lawyer and publisher, who attended the launching of the Liberty Ship named in his honor at the yard of the New England Shipbuilding Company, here, on October 10. In the foreground are: C. C. Spaulding, president of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, who was the principal speaker at the launching; Mrs. Jesse Matthews Vann, widow of the publisher; Dr. Emmett J. Scott, of the Sun Shipbuilding Company; and Mrs. Daisy Lamkin, vice president of the Pittsburgh Courier Publishing Company. —Press Photo Service.

Referring to a letter addressed by Mr. Roosevelt to the National Urban League at its September conference in Chicago, Mrs. Ingraham said: "We agree with you that racial strife destroys national unity at home and renders us suspect abroad. We further believe that until the federal government ceases practices of segregation the efforts of other groups are muted."

As proof of this, Mrs. Ingraham referred to a recent protest made by a local YWCA to the manager of an Illinois theatre which segregates Negro patrons, pointing that such Please turn to page Eight Accompanying the Haitian President were: Abel Lacroix, Secretary of State for Finance, Commerce and National Economy; Maurice Dartigue, Secretary of State for Public Instruction, Agriculture and Labor; Gontran Roudier, Under Secretary of State for Information and General Police, and His Excellency, Andre Lantand, Ambassador of Haiti.

As the visiting diplomats and Under Secretary Stettinius stepped from a government limousine to be greeted by Rear Admiral Wilson Brown and Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, the U. S. Marine Corps Band, colorfully attired in red and blue uniforms, played "La Dessalienne," the Haitian national anthem, and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Standing at attention during the playing of the national anthems was the guard of honor consisting of one company of soldiers, one company of sailors and one company of marines, all commanded by Lt. Col. James W. Rankin, U. S. A. Present also was Maj. Gen. John T. Lewis, commanding the Military District of Washington.

Another guard of honor, composed of sixty soldiers, stood outside the White House grounds and formed an "aisle of honor" extending from E Street to the Southwest Gate through which the Presidential party motored in. As the party passed through the "aisle of honor" the troops presented arms.

Following the ceremony on the South Lawn facing the South Portico of the White House, Under Secretary Stettinius escorted the party into the diplomatic reception from where he presented President Please turn to page Eight