

Durham Church Raises $43,000 In One Year

First Calvary Baptist Church Scores Success

Probably the most outstanding achievement of any church in North Carolina, if not the entire South, is that of First Calvary Baptist Church of Durham, pastored by Rev. H. H. Hart, dynamic minister of this city.

It was back in 1933 when Rev. Hart was first called to pastor what was then known as the Second Baptist Church. After serving in that capacity for four years he left to take up work in the eastern part of the state.

Church Split
In 1947, Rev. Hart was recalled to the pastorate of the church, just after it had experienced a split led by a former pastor who left taking with him several hundred of its members. The morale of the church at the time was at a low ebb, but with Divine guidance, Rev. Hart set about to bind up wounds of the 225 faithful members who were left and to restore their confidence.

New Building
Since taking over the helm in 1947, the old building has been torn down and a new modern church structure erected and equipped at a total cost of $112,000. Today only $27,000 of that amount is owned on the original cost. When the new building was erected, the name was changed to First Calvary Baptist Church.

Pastor Donates $1,000
During a really held for the new church building, the pastor wrote his check for $1,000. On all occasions he never allows a member of the church to give more than he does, but instead doubles the amount of the highest giver. Thus Rev. Hart leads by precept and example.

To give some idea of the splendid work being done and the fine spirit of cooperation which the membership exhibits toward their pastor, the church last year raised a total of $43,358.22. The membership that was only 225 in 1947 when Rev. Hart came, now numbers over 600.

Many Auxiliaries
There are over 23 different auxiliaries including a modern Sunday School with a general superintendent, a superintendent of the Junior Department, and a superintendent of the Senior Department. The Sunday School is held in the church basement.

Three choruses furnish music for the various services. There are a total of 65 ushers, divided into four different groups. Included in the Usher Board is a first aid group with equipment furnished by the ushers and other friends.

Modern Kitchen
There is also a modern kitchen in the basement where church suppers are prepared. The modern electric range in the kitchen was donated by the ushers of the church at a cost of over $300. A member, Mrs. Roberta Oldham, donated a set of modern cooking utensils.

Venetian blinds for the Upper Room were donated by Mrs. Vinie Lyons, a widow, at a total cost of $125.

The beautiful carpet on the floor of the main auditorium of the church was donated by Missionary Circles, numbers one and two.

When it is considered that the members of the church have made such donations without letting it interfere with their church salaries, it is again testimony of the great leadership of Rev. Hart.

Unlimited Confidence
When questioned here as to the reason for his wonderful success in the pastorate of First he attributed it to the fact that Calvary, Rev. Hart stated that the officers and membership have placed unlimited confidence in his leadership in that they have given him free range to organize, direct and manage the business as well as the spiritual program of the church.

First Calvary was not always located on its present site. In 1883, when it was founded, the church was located on Cameron Street. It remained there up until 32 years ago when the present site was purchased and a building erected.

"Wuthering Heights" To Be Presented By NCC Thespians

Emily Bronte's highly successful novel, which has written into drama form, will be presented by the North Carolina College Thespians, March 10 at 8:15 p. m. in the B. N. Duke auditorium.

According to Miss Mary Bohannon, director of the college's drama company, the production, second of the season for the Thespians, will be presented in Greensboro March 11 and in Washington, Tarboro and Elizabeth City, N. C. on future dates.

The cast of Wuthering Heights is studded with veterans who have established enviable records on the NCC stage. William Torrence Greensboro Junior, will be starred in the role of Heathcliff. Torrence is a familiar figure to N. C. C. playgoers, having played the leading role in "Death Takes a Holiday," and being prominently cast in "All My Sons."

Hudley will be played by Simeon Holloway, senior from Gary, Indiana, and a veteran of three seasons. The part of Cathy will be taken by Berlie Ray, New Bern sophomore, who was brilliant in "Death Takes a Holiday." Anna Walker, Statesville sophomore who was rated best actress in a 1948 state-wide drama clinic, will portray Isabella Mable Bullock, Durham senior who created a mild sensation in her portrayal of Laura in "Glass Menagerie", will play Young Cathy. She was acclaimed while in high school for her performance in "Dark Victory,"

Barter Players To Appear At Bennett College

GREENSBORO
One of the world's most famous theatre groups, the Barter Players will appear at Bennett College, Saturday, March 11, presenting their latest spectacular production, "The Imaginary Invalid." Curtain time for the production, which will be presented for one performance only in the Little Theatre, is 8:30 p. m.

Starring in the leading role as Argan, the hypochondriac, will be Frederick Warriner who is described by critics as one of the finest young actors on the American stage today.

A. Williams To Be Presented In Senior Recital

Albert Williams, senior in the department of music at North Carolina College, will be presented in his senior recital in the B. N. Duke Auditorium at the college March 2 at 8:15 p. m.

Williams, a native of Charlottesville, Va., will perform as a trumpet soloist. He will be accompanied by the band which he will conduct in several selections including one of his own composition.

Williams has an enviable record in the college's Music department. A specialist in instrumental work, he has done extra work in theory, composition, and music education. He has served four years as assistant to W. I. Howard, band director. Among his accomplishments are the arrangement of several selections for the band, and original compositions for solo and quartet.

He is a member of the college choir, Y. M. C. A., the school's Advisory Committee on Concerts, and is president of the Gamma Beta chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.
