Enjoy a Summer of adventure! Join the Mountain Climber's reading club. The mountain climber has become the modern adventurer, after braving death to become the first to reach the top of some lofty peak. The vacation reading club at KEY KORNER will be called the "Mountain Climber's Club." Each reader will set out to scale the highest and some of the famous peaks in North America.

Among the notable peaks of our country are: Mount Mitchell, N. C. (6,684); Pike's Peak, Colorado (14,108); Long's Peak, Colorado (14,255); Mount McKinley, Alaska (20,300); Mount Rainier, Washington (14,400); El Capitan, Texas (8,700 ft.). There will be much adventure in these travels, for many of the high mountains are the sites of luxurious tourist resorts and mountains are the sites of luxurious tourist resorts and mountain regions in North America have become national parks.

The club began on Thursday, June 15, and will close Saturday, July 15. If you have not registered, come in today and you will have time to enjoy the exciting experiences of mountain climbing through good books.

Some of the books included for vacation readers are: "The Egg Tree," by Katherine Milhous; "Big Brother," by Laura Bannon; "The Windmill Mystery," by Kitty Barne; and "Chimney Corner Stories," by Veronica Hutchinson; for the younger reader readers. For the older age group: "Maple Sugar for Windy Foot," by Frost; "Once Upon A Time," by Bobbs; "Apple Tree Cottage," by Virginia Voight; "Prince of the Ranch," by Olive Burt; "The Mudhen and the Walrus," by Merritt Allen; and "Famous Pets of Famous People," by Mae Smith.

157 children were present last Saturday to enjoy the first movies of the summer series. We shall expect these and many others to be on hand Saturday, June 17, at 10:30 a. m. to see DOWN WITH CATS, THE BRATS, and JUNIOR RODEO DAREDEVILS.
