A panel discussion — "Can the Influence of the Church Establish the True Basis For World Peace."

Paul Quinn Chapel Given Family Bible As Memorial Gift

Waco, Texas — A large Bible, a family heirloom of the Harvey family, that was owned by the late Rev. M. P. Harvey, Sr., and prior to his ownership was the property of the late Rev. L. M. Burgan, a former president of Paul Quinn College, has been given to the Howard Memorial chapel as a memorial of the late Rev. Harvey by his son, M. P. Harvey, Jr., it was announced this week by Dean J. B. Isaacs, college pastor and dean of the Paul Quinn College Seminary.

"The Paul Quinn College Seminary and the Howard Memorial chapel are enriched immeasurably by the possession of the Bible which was owned by two distinguished and erudite African Methodist Episcopal ministers and leaders of the race," Dean Isaacs said.

Mr. Harvey, the donor, is the business manager of Paul Quinn college and has been praised highly for his efficient service in that capacity which has a vital bearing on the outstanding growth and progress that Paul Quinn is making.

Last Rites Held For Miss Carter Killed In Fall From Bus

MISS PATTIE H. CARTER

Fayetteville—Bernice Smith, 14-year-old girl, of near Godwin, died late last Monday afternoon when she jumped or fell from a moving school bus. She was a student at Armstrong High School.

Funeral services were held Monday, October 23, at 2:00 p. m. at Saint Titus Episcopal Church on Fayetteville Street, for Miss Pattie Hawkins Carter, who passed at Lincoln Hospital on Saturday morning, October 21, after an illness of several weeks. The Rev. O. D. Stanley was the officiating minister. Interment was held at Beechwood Cemetery.

For many years, Miss Carter was the breath and life of Lincoln Hospital, for she came to the institution in 1911, when it was in its struggling infancy, under the able leadership of its founder, the late Dr. Aaron Moore.

As Assistant Director, she performed all the duties relative to the administration of the hospital and nursing practices in general. When Dr. Moore passed, Dr. Charles Shepard succeeded him as Director.

It was due to the magnificent teamwork of Miss Carter and Dr. Shepard that Lincoln Hospital emerged as a powerful service-rendering organization in the community life of Durham.

So outstanding was her service to Lincoln Hospital, that William Kenneth Boyd, in THE STORY OF DURHAM, published in 1925, wrote: "Much of the success of the institution is due to the devoted service of Miss P. H. Carter, head nurse, anesthetist, book-keeper, and stewardess. She has practically devoted her life to the institution, and once she refused an increase in salary on the ground that the hospital needed the money."

Older residents of Durham, who are well acquainted with the excellency with which Miss Carter performed her tasks in the hospital, and in the community at large, recall that she carried out the tradition of service laid down by her late illustrious father, Hawkins W. Carter, who, during the latter part of the last century served Warren County as a Representative, and later as a State Senator.

Her early training was re-

School Girl Killed In Fall From Bus

Fayetteville—Bernice Smith, 14-year-old girl, of near Godwin, died late last Monday afternoon when she jumped or fell from a moving school bus. She was a student at Armstrong High School.

Bus driver, 19-year-old James Edward Williams, of near Wade, and Clifford Godwin, 19, bus baptain, were the only other occupants of the bus at the time of the fatal accident. They both told investigating officers that as the bus neared the point, about 200 yards off, where Bernice boarded the bus daily, she suddenly got up from her seat near the middle of the vehicle, walked to the front, caught the handle which opened the door and jumped out. They estimated the speed of the bus to have been less than 35 miles per hour.

The young girl was rushed to the Dunn Hospital, but died shortly after being admitted.

County School Superintendent, F. D. Byrd, Jr., has joined with Coroner Joe Pinkston, and State Highway Patrolman R. L. Pridgen in an investigation of the tragedy.

Dr. Ralph Bunche May Get Post At Harvard Univ.

Lake Success, New York — Following an upsurge of rumors and questions seeking confirmation as to his appointment to the position of professor of government at Harvard University, Dr. Ralph Bunche, internationally known Palestine mediator and recipient of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize, declined to make any positive comment.

However, he did issue a statement, which reads: "With regard to the reports emanating today from Boston and Cambridge concerning the prospect of my assuming a position on the faculty of Harvard University, I have only the following to say at this time.

"It is true that Harvard University, last Winter, took action on my appointment and that I had indicated a willingness to accept such an appointment at a future date, bearing in mind, however, my deep interest in, my responsibilities to and my work with the United Nations.

"I am not prepared at this time to be more precise with regard to this matter and have no further comment to make."

In the event that Dr. Bunche does accept the professorship, it will mark the first time in the history of Harvard that a Negro has held such a position.

This trio of North Carolina College coeds caused many an eyestrain during Homecoming Day Activities here last Saturday at Durham Athletic Park where 6,500 fans cheered Herman H. Riddick's greatest football team to a 55-0 win over Brutus Wilson's Shaw University Bears.

Attractive Miss Clay who says she "perfers the athletic type" is understood to be among the reasons for the win-consciousness among Eagle gridders.

Mad Man Kills Worker At State Hospital

Goldboro — A Negro employee of the North Carolina Hospital for the Negro insane, was killed here Tuesday morning by an inmate.

The killer of the man was identified by Superintendent Ira C. Long as John H. Thompson of Duplin County. The slain man was Robert Clark who lost his life when he was struck with an iron bar by the mad man after the latter had assisted him in carrying out some trash.

Thompson, according to his admittance papers, was suffering from an advanced form of insanity. No legal action will be taken against the slayer of Clark as insane persons are generally considered outside the law, especially when confined to State institutions for such.

The Goldboro institution has been under considerable criticism for the past several years, as to its management, over-

Scheduled Meet At N. C. University Moved When Segregation Proposed

Chapel Hill — An atomic broadside was heard here Sunday when the Chapel Hill Ministerial Association, composed of local white ministers, flatly refused to allow two talks to be given at Memorial Hall on the campus of the University of North Carolina, under a segregated pattern, but moved them to the Methodist Church.

The talks were to have been delivered by the noted Japanese evangelist and Presbyterian clergyman, Toyohiki Kagawa, but were moved to the new place when a conference with University officials disclosed that they could not be held without the audience being segregated.

The ruling is believed to have been handed down as the result of what was termed a new "gentlemen's agreement" between University officials and the Board of Trustees of the institution that any meeting held on the campus would have to be segregated.

That the new president, Dr. Gordon Gray, former Secretary of the Army and supporter of President Truman's non-segregation program of the armed forces, was instigator of the new policy or had anything to do with it was not generally believed by Negro leaders of the State questioned on the matter this week.

Said one well-known Durham Negro leader, who would not permit the use of his name, "It is hardly conceivable that a man of Mr. Gray's stature, experience and travel would think of originating such a scheme in the face of the fight our country is now making to impress upon the overwhelming number of non-white people in the world, the advantage of Democracy. I am of the opinion that the policy was instituted when Dr. Frank Graham, former president of the school was in Indonesia on duty for the government. I don't believe Mr. Gray or Dr. Graham would stoop to such."

One other prominent member of the race stated that the new policy could probably be traced to the influence of two trustees, one residing in Charlotte and the other residing in Durham.

Following is the full text of the resolutions adopted by the 13 member Association with regards to the segregation policy of the University:

Following is the full text of the resolution as adopted by the 13-member Association: "Recognizing the responsibility of the University officials in administering the policy of the University on meetings in its buildings, and regretting that the Ministers' Association did not make it sufficiently clear in scheduling Memorial Hall that
