For a BETTER COTTON CROP

SEED TREATMENT MEANS — BETTER STANDS, HEALTHIER PLANTS

In the flat on the left above are cotton seedlings from treated seed. Seed from the same source was planted in the same type soil without treatment in the flat on the right. Results such as this are frequently encountered in the numerous experiments on cottonseed treatment conducted by the Experiment Station. Similar results are found to occur under practical farm conditions as is shown by a 4-year summary of cottonseed treatment demonstrations conducted by the Extension Service. Results from a total of 251 demonstrations conducted over the 4-year period showed that an average of 431 plants per 100 feet of row emerged from treated seed while untreated seed only produced an average of 305 seedlings per 100 feet of row. This means that treated seed produced over 41 per cent more seedlings than did untreated seed. Three times as many plants were killed by soil in untreated as in treated rows and 76 per cent of the living seedlings had disease in untreated rows than in treated rows. At picking time there was an average of 134 plants per 100 feet of row from treated seed and only 101 per 100 feet of row in untreated rows. Better stands mean higher yields. Later work by the Experiment Station shows that where cotton seed of good germination is properly treated farmers may safely reduce their seeding rate and even avoid thinning. Consult your County Agent for seed treatment recommendations.

Bombings Have Aided Fight For "Rights"

DALLAS, Tex.—Roy Wilkins administrator of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the Association's Southwest Regional Conference meeting here this week that recent incidents of race violence have made Negro Americans "more determined than ever to carry on our objectives: first-class citizenship and elimination of segregation."

Wilkins was principal speaker at a Sunday mass meeting which climaxed the conference attended by delegates from some 150 NAACP branches in the Southwest. The NAACP administrator traced the bombings in Florida, Dallas, and Birmingham "to the fact that hoodlums felt they received encouragement in high places" and asserted that open advocacy of white supremacy by public officials "encouraged men on the lower echelon to feel it was all right to throw bombs and terrorize Negroes."

School Marks History Week

ROXBORO — National Negro History Week was observed by Person County High School last week with exhibits, special projects and a formal assembly program.

Most of the school's classes posted boards displaying achievements of outstanding Negroes in several areas of activity, and some literature classes worked out special units on achievements of the Negro in art, education, literature and other related fields.

A skit entitled, "Two Races," was presented as the concluding event celebrating Negro History Week on Friday at a special assembly program. The skit featured members of the "H" division of the senior class.

Members of the class appearing in the skit and their roles, in that order, were:

- Walter Tapp — "Sam," a Negro boy; Franklin Outlaw — "Gilbert," a white boy; Jerlean Warren — "Spirit of Negro Progress"; Clark Stewart — "Uncle Sam"; James Snipes — "Adventure"; Moss Winstead — "Invention"; Theodore Hicks — "Bravery"; Robert Williams — "Oratory"; Gladys Jones — "Education"; Betty Byers and Mary Robinson — "Literature"; Odessa Johnson and Robert Trotter — "Music and Dramatics"; and Givie Stimp — Sports.

Special music for the program was furnished by the school glee club, directed by Miss Malone, and accompanied at the piano by Mr. Ford.

Writer Lauds Current Stress On African Life

By JESSE H. WALKER NEW YORK (Global) — A pleasing plethora of material on South Africa seems to have de-hunter or native guide we've so through novels, movies, plays, pamphlets and newspapers which, undoubtedly, will have some effect upon the world—both within and without that section of the Dark Continent. In the main, this new material is concerned with the African as a human being and not so much simply the grunting head scented upon us suddenly long been used to seeing in Hollywood productions and reading about in fiction.

To mention a few, here in New York recently two movies opened which were made in Africa with many of the parts acted by non-professionals or natives.

The first to open was "Cry The Beloved Country" an adaptation of the distinguished novel by Alan Paton, a white South African. This is a tragic story of conflict between the South African natives and the whites or Europeans. An able cast is headed by two Negro American actors — Canada Lee and Sidney Potier — together with several London actors. The remainder of the cast was recruited from the natives around Johannesburg, the Capital of South Africa.

A second movie, "The Magic Garden" is now showing in New

A new Billmore Grill, completely remodeled from the "kitchen sink" out, will hold its formal opening here Friday. Located at 332 1/2 East Pettigrew Street, the Grill underwent extensive interior decoration changes recently. Included in the new Billmore Grill are two modern horseshoe counters with accompanying, comfortable bar stools, five booths and three tables. Stainless steel backdrop for the counters and chromium pipings adorn the Grill's new decor scheme. All new food preparing equipment has also been added. The walls have received a new, soft-colored coat of paint and the floors have been refinished.

The new Grill menu features fried chicken, but also furnishes a complete line of meals, sandwiches and delicatessen. It is open regularly from ten each morning until one the following morning.

On week-ends, it remains open all night.

Other personnel, not shown are Mrs. Dorothy Franklin, Mrs. Josephine Ramsey, Garfield Ward, chief cook, and cafe manager Carl Holloway.

York. Winner of the Edinburg Festival prize for 1951, this movie concerns mainly the Africans of today who live and work in the cities. The whole cast is made up of the native population.

Both of these movies are English-produced. No doubt, some sort of analogy could be made here which would place Hollywood in an unfavorable light, but we'll pass it by. It is possible that these two movies may not be shown in some sections of this country, although to be frank, it is hard to see just how any censor (southern style) could ban them reasonably on any grounds. But southern censors do not always act reasonably.

CITY PASSES 'RIGHTS' BILL

Albuquerque, N. M.—Passage by the City Commission of a strong civil rights ordinance places this New Mexico city in the forefront of local communities combating racial discrimination.

The new ordinance, banning racial discrimination in places of public accommodation, is believed to be the first law passed by a city legislative body. Other civil rights statutes have generally been passed by state legislatures rather than by city councils.

Father Of GI Who Wins Highest Award In Korean Seeking Job

New York (CNS) — For his "indomitable courage, superb leadership and gallant self-sacrifice," 21 year old Sgt. Cornelius H. Carlton, who lost his life in Korea, was awarded this week the Medal of Honor, America's high tribute to its military heroes.

Charlton had well deserved the honor. For on last June 2nd, the Americans were trying to take the Red-held ridge known as Hill 543. The American platoon leader fell in the battle.

Then 21 year old Sgt. Cornelius stepped forward and took Command. He led three charges under heavy enemy grenade and rifle fire, lasting 3 1-2 hours. He was wounded twice but kept right on killing Reds right and left. Finally he hurled himself into a last one-man charge against an emplacement. And then he was killed.

The significance of Charlton's stubborn stand was that for two days Company C, 24th

Infantry Regiment, 25th Infantry Division had been trying to knock off the heavily fortified Hill 543. When Charlton took over, he rallied his men for the first two charges, personally wiping out two positions with grenades and killing six of the enemy. On the third time he reached the crest with a handful of men, silenced the last enemy emplacement, even though mortally wounded himself.
