

Association Of Social Science Teachers To Meet At North Carolina College, May 1-3

For the first time in the history of the organization, the Association of Social Science Teachers will meet at North Carolina College May 1, 2, and 3, 1952. Teachers and scholars from all the Negro colleges and universities of the United States in the following areas will be present: History, Sociology, Economics, International Relations, Political Science and Geography. The theme of the conference is: "The Role of the Social Sciences in the Changing Patterns of Foreign Relations."

The academic side of the program will partake of public and sectional meetings. Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, Chairman of Local Arrangements at the North Carolina College, states that the two important public sessions for the Durham citizenry are at 12:00 Noon, Thursday, May 1, and 8 P. M. of the same date. The B. N. Duke Auditorium will be the meeting place for all public programs.

At 12:00 Noon, May 1, Thursday, Dr. A. Elder, President of the College, will tender greetings to the organizations on behalf of the host college; His Honor, Mayor E. J. Evans, will tender official greetings from the city of Durham; Dr. A. E. Manley, Dean will tender greetings from the North Carolina College Community; Dr. C. C. Spaulding, Sr., will tender greetings from the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company; and L. E. Austin, President, will tender greetings from the Durham Business and Professional Chain. Dr. William M. Boyd of Atlanta University will accept these greetings and make the response on behalf of the Association of Social Science Teachers.

At 8:00 P. M., in the B. N. Duke Auditorium, May 1, the Association will hear an address by a member of the United States Department of State, Miss Florence K. Kirlin, will speak on the subject: "Instruments, Programs, and Techniques used by the United States in Her Search for World Peace." Miss Kirlin is a graduate of the University of Indiana, has served as Director of the women's and professional projects, of the Indiana Civil Works Administration, 1933-1934; Chief of the Research Section, Division of Personnel, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, 1944-1945; appointed Special Assistant in the Department of State, March, 1945; executive assistant to the Under Secretary of State, July, 1946; special assistant, December, 1946; staff assistant to Counselor, January, 1948; and appointed a Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations, Department of State, October, 1949.

The public panels at 2:00 P. M. on Thursday, May 1, and at

Giant Office Kept Hands Off Willie Mays Case

NEW YORK — Much as they wanted to interfere and much as they NEED-ED to interfere, the front office of the Giants kept to their hands off policy on the Willie Mays vs. his Fairfield, Ala. Draft Board. Though it is admitted that Willie could have gotten a deferment because of his dependants if he had applied properly the first time, the Giants kept him believing that the affair was a private one between the player and the draft board.

Thus 20 year old Willie handled the matter himself and it proved a bit too much for him. Willie thought of his dependants only after the case was closed and needed a strong issue to reopen it. The Alabama board just nixed it all and May 16th still stands as the Mays' date of induction. Willie will continue playing with the Giants until the 16th.

9:00 A. M., Friday, May 2, in the Administration Building, Third Floor, will devote themselves to the topics: "The Role of the Social Sciences in the Changing Patterns of Foreign Relations;" and "The Survey Course and General Education," respectively. The sectional meetings will hear scholarly reports on a variety of topics within the framework of History, Economics, Sociology, Political Science, Geography and International Relations by representative scholars from the entire nation.

The city of Durham will show its hospitality, social and economic progress to the visiting groups through a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. A. Elder, of the North Carolina College; a luncheon with accompanying program by the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company; a tour of the city of Durham and its environs tendered by the Durham Business and Professional Chain, and invitation to the Formal Dance in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium from the Durham and Raleigh Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

Mrs. Troas L. Latimer of Albany State College, Albany, Georgia, is president of the visiting organization. Credit is due to Dr. Joseph H. Taylor, chairman of the Division of the Social Science, North Carolina College, for inviting this conference to Durham, and for the overall plans to insure a successful meeting. Dr. Taylor is one of the past presidents of the Association. The North Carolina College, having recently completed its new building program, is happy to assure the Conference commodious space for living, meetings and relaxation.

Well the managers couldn't deny it and were therefore all the more angry at the mothers, blaming it all on lack of proper home training. (The women had various retorts for that one ...)

The theatre men's chief reply was that kids are like that. Which is the poorest of all excuses for not maintaining discipline. The excuse also completely ignores the right of adults patrons, many of them parents who accompany the children, who pay to be entertained instead of suffering agony in a madhouse.

Pink-and-White Beauty for Spring

Here's a delicious composition from the Spry Kitchen with real spring appeal. Called "Pink Swirl" cake, its marbling of pink and white layers is echoed in the "swirly" pink frosting peaks.

Pink Swirl Cake
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/4 cups sugar
3/4 teaspoon double acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Spry
1 cup less 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
3 egg whites, unbeaten
Red food coloring

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl. Drop in Spry. Add about 1/2 of milk, then flavoring extracts and beat 200 strokes (2 min. by hand or on mixer at low speed). Scrape bowl and spoon or beater. Add remaining milk and egg whites and beat 200 strokes (2 min. by hand or on mixer at low speed).

Take out 1/2 of batter and to it add a few drops of red coloring to tint batter pink (the baked cake will be lighter pink than the batter). Arrange white and pink batters alternately by spoonfuls, in 2 Sprycoted 8" round layer pans 1 1/4" deep. Run knife through batters several times to marble.

Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 25-30 minutes. Cool. Spread Blossoming-Pink Frosting between layers and on sides and top of cake, reserving a small amount of frosting for the decorative swirls. Tint this remaining frosting the same shade of pink as the cake. With a small spatula or teaspoon, make 5 small mounds on top of cake and swirl each into a peak. Decorate sides also with a few pink swirls.

Blossoming-Pink Frosting
2 egg whites, unbeaten
1 1/2 cups sugar
5 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon light corn sirup
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 marshmallows, cut in eighths

Put first 5 ingredients in top of double boiler and mix thoroughly. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly with rotary egg beater until mixture will hold a peak (7 minutes). Remove from hot water, add flavorings and marshmallows and beat until cool and thick enough to spread. Reserve a small amount of frosting for making the decorative pink swirls. Makes enough frosting for tops and sides of two 8" layers.

Plain Talk Offered By Federation In Bride And Groom Booklet

NEW YORK

Marriage in general can be made a much more satisfactory institution by the abolition of sex ignorance, writes Dr. Lena Levine, in her introduction to a pamphlet, "The Doctor Talks With The Bride and Groom," issued by the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. The pamphlet seeks to instruct married couples in achieving domestic happiness in order to avoid wrecked homes.

Written in language that the average person can understand, the physician, to whom many have gone with health and sex problems, states that the extent of ignorance concerning life is appalling and is not limited to any class or age group.

The three main phases of the marital function are discussed: preparation, the sex act, and afterplay. Information concerning the importance of each phase is given as well as detailed advice on coarsing, an important part of the preparation phase. Both the man and the woman have their roles to make a perfect "communion of the sexes," the doctor points out.

The usual lack of realization of the necessity and vital importance of preparation," the pamphlet states, "is the result of the correct response to sex stimulation on the part of the average male and his erroneous assumption that the female is equally rapid in her response."

It is characteristic of the female, Dr. Levine explains, that her preference tends distinctly toward caressing, and although with experience, the normal woman develops a definite desire for communion, she never loses her desire for caressing and attention. At the not neglect the woman's role same time, Dr. Levine does in the perfection of the marital relationship and cites "the taboos which cause discord and misunderstanding on her part.

Copies of the pamphlet may be purchased for ten cents each from the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, 501 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y., or from your local office of the Federation. There is no profit made from the sales.
