

NCC Cop First Place In Relays Meet

Hampton Institute Placed Second With 34 Points

Five records were shattered and one tied for the Carolina Relays as North Carolina College's cindermen romped to their first victory since 1949 in the eight-year-old track and field carnival here last Saturday.

Records went by the boards in the 100 and 440 dashes and the mile and medley relays as eight CIAA schools warmed up on a fast track for the forthcoming conference championships at Morgan this week-end.

Lee Calhoun, NCC hurdles ace who tied the Relays 120 high hurdles mark, had a big hand in the North Carolina College victory as he personally accounted for 15 of the Eagles' 38 and one half points with first places in the 120 and 220 hurdles and in the high jump.

Hampton Institute placed second with 34 and one half points and Virginia State ran a close third with 31 points. St. Augustine's, last year's Relays champ, counted only two points. Other teams finished with points in the following order: Winston-Salem, 29, fourth; West Virginia, 12, fifth; Allen University, 10, sixth; Johnson C. Smith, 8, seventh; St. Augustine's, 2, eighth; and Shaw, 0, ninth.

West Charlotte high easily retained its domination of the schoolboy division of the meet with 34 and one half points.

Hillside of Durham was second with 28 and one third points. Other high schools finished with points in the following order: Morningside, 23, third; Second Ward of Charlotte, 22 and one third, fourth; and Mary Potter of Oxford, 11 and one third, fifth.

Many observers seemed to feel that the absence of A. and T. large and well balanced team from the collegiate division may have changed the complexion of the meet.

The Southern Conference made an auspicious debut in the Relays Saturday as George Green, running the colors of Allen University, clocked off a thrilling 9.6 time in the 1000 yard dash to establish a new Relays standard. Green finished second to Morgan's Art Bragg in the Penn Relays.

Although Winston-Salem placed fourth in the meet, its runners had a large share in getting new records for the Relays. Marshall Emery cracked his former teammate's record of 51.5 with a sizzling 50.2 in the 440. The old mark was set by Dave Neville of Winston-Salem.

Then Emery anchored Winston-Salem's relay team of Hal Clawson, Ed Griffin and Egdon Bailey to a 3:20.6 time in the mile relay, superceding the old standard for the Relays set last year by the same foursome.

North Carolina College's medley relay team of Rudy Gittens, Jim Courtney, Jim Mullins and Andy Graham, ticked off a 3:31.8 time for a new mark in the sprint medley.

Jim Courtney, North Carolina College, set a new record in the javelin throw with a mighty heave of 193 feet, four inches. Calhoun, outstanding star of the Relays with three first places, tied a 14.7 record in the 120 high hurdles set by Donald Leek, who also ran NCC's maroon and gray.

Hospitalized Vets Need Your Blood

U. S. ARMY PHOTO
FT. BRAGG, N. C.—"I wouldn't be here if I hadn't received the blood," says Pfc. Bobby Williams of Roseboro, N. C., who was severely wounded while fighting with the Third Division in Korea. Private Williams' words point up the dire need for blood on the fighting fronts, but the young soldier also emphasizes the need for the life-saving fluid here at home, where many hospitalized wounded require frequent transfusions months after leaving the battleground. "Make sure that the blood is there when needed. Call your Red Cross today!"

Rufus McNeill, Aggie star pitcher who covers the outfield on his days off the mound, was also the batting hero. He got two hits, batted in four runs and scored one himself. Incidentally, McNeill, who has played in all six games, leads his team in batting with an unbelievable .828.

Minoso Labeled 'Most Exciting In A. L.' By Look

CHICAGO
Saturino Orestes Arrieta Armas "Minnie" Minoso, the Black Diamond Express of the Chicago White Sox, is spotlighted in the issue of Look Magazine out Tuesday, May 6—"As Minoso Go, So Go Chicago."

The 28-year-old Cuban, last season's Rookie of the Year, is labeled "the most exciting ballplayer in the American League today" by Look sports editor Tim Cohane. The latter quotes Bill Veeck, the energetic owner of the St. Louis Browns, as insisting: "There's nobody gives me the thrill watching him play that Minoso does."

General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians, with whom Minoso first came up to the majors, further testifies: "Minnie's got a chance to become one of the really great players of our time."

Minnie batted .326 last year. A sparkling fielder, and with exceptional speed on the basepaths, Minoso is credited as being mainly responsible for the now-famous Comiskey Park chant of "Go! Go! Go Sox!"

His own pepper-pot philosophy just about typifies the attitude of the hustling White Sox, too. As Minnie says in Look: "I get four hits and team lose. That bad day. I get one hit and team win. That good day."

How about the second-year jinx? Minnie tells Look: "All I know, this new year. What I do last year, not count. You ask me I have girl back in Havana? You ask me we marry? Look. She say: 'Minnie, you go play ball another year. Maybe you just flash in pan.'"

Secretly, Minnie prefers the outfield to third base, the magazine says, but he played both positions equally well last season. This year manager Paul Richards plans to leave him in left field.

The defeat was the first of the year for the Pirates netmen. Pirate trackmen meantime came in fourth on Friday, April 25, in a college class mile relay event at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia. Joe Hicks, George Simms, Billy Evans, and Harry Eason ran behind LaSalle's team, which was first; Ohio Wesleyan; and Alfred. Two (Please turn to Page to Eight)
