Millen Guest On "This I Believe"

Judge Herbert E. Millen, first Negro to sit on the Philadelphia Municipal Court bench, will outline his philosophical credo when he is guest of Edward R. Murrow on the CBS Radio inspirational series, "This I Believe," Saturday, May 10 (CBS Radio, 7:00-7:05 PM, EDT).

The theme of Judge Millen's philosophy of living is that, despite the sordid side of Human beings constantly brought out in court, there still is room for optimism, since man "is basically a positive creature, capable of great things beyond himself."

"This I Believe" series is produced by Edward P. Morgan.

SURGERY ON IRVIN TO SPEED HEALING

NEW YORK

In an effort to speed up the healing of Monte Irvin's fractured ankle, the outfielder will undergo minor surgery this week. Operation will consist of sewing together the torn ligament in the region of the ankle "so that he'll have a stronger ankle and earlier," so announced the club's Dr. A. N. Palermo. Irvin is to be kept at the Harkness Pavilion for another two weeks, at the least.

LABOR LEADERS ENDORSE NEGRO COLLEGE FUND DRIVE

NEW YORK

Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO), and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor (AFL), have both endorsed the 1952 campaign of the United Negro College Fund. The Fund is seeking to raise $1,500,000 in support of 32 private, accredited colleges and universities serving the Negro youth of America.

Mr. Murray recently issued an appeal to members of all the CIO industrial unions to enlist their aid in the current campaign being conducted by the Fund throughout the country. "I have again accepted membership on the National Council of the Fund," Murray wrote in a letter to CIO unions, "because I believe so firmly that CIO must continue to give encouragement to groups which are enriching the national life."

Both labor leaders are serving along with John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and other civic, educational and industrial leaders as members of the Fund's National Council.

Mr. Green's endorsement paid tribute to the many graduates of the Fund's member colleges, many of whom, he said, "have given valuable service to the ranks of organized labor." He urged the AFL membership to
