

CHAPLAIN DOUGLASS HALL HONORED

Shown above are a part of the citizens and military personnel who visited Fort Bragg recently to honor Chaplain Douglass Hall, who departs in August for duty in the Far East Command.

Captain Douglass Hall Feted By Citizens Of Fayetteville

Fayetteville — Captain Douglass Hall, Chaplain in the famous 82nd Airborne Division, who is scheduled to leave for a tour of duty in the Far East Command in August, was given a tremendous send-off by local citizens on the Fort Bragg Military reservation, Monday.

He was awarded the silver, engraved Ministerial Alliance Trophy by Rev. L. C. Shipman on behalf of the Fayetteville and Cumberland County Ministerial Alliance "for outstanding service to the spiritual welfare of the citizens in the local community by his preaching and other services."

Dr. W. P. Devane, member of the City Council, Fayetteville, paid high tribute to "the untiring efforts of Chaplain Hall in cementing relations between civilians and the military." He then presented the Chaplain with a leather brief case, engraved "From the citizens of Fayetteville."

Dr. W. R. Monroe, pastor of Mt. Sinai Baptist Church, gave the Chaplain a silver coffee pot, with words written upon it, God be with you.

Brig. General Thomas L. Sherburne, Commanding General, 82nd Airborne Division Artillery, paid high tribute to the services that Chaplain Hall had rendered to the military. "Not only is he one of the best Chaplains I have ever seen, but he is also an entertainer, writer, and I think that he could probably command the battalion for a while."

Mrs. J. G. Smith, president of the Urban-Suburban Civic Club, gave greetings on behalf of the large group of ladies who were present under her leadership. 82-year old Mother Julia Simmons told the group that "we have enjoyed the powerful preaching of Chaplain Hall and we hate to see him leave our community."

Several Churches here have proclaimed "Chaplain Hall Day," at which time the chaplain will preach. A radio broadcast, "Two-way Street", was presented Saturday, June 21. It told how Chaplain Hall had worked for the improvement of Camp-Community relations.

This marks one of the few times that citizens have come upon the Military reservation to honor a member of the Armed Services. President J. W. Seabrook, Fayetteville State Teachers College, in keynoting the ceremonies stated "If citizens would work as hard for the improvement of relations between soldiers and civilians, as has Chaplain Hall, there would be a better camp and a better community."

The affair was sponsored by the Fayetteville and Cumberland County Ministerial Alliance, during their annual visit to the Fort. The group held a forum on the improvement of community-camp relations, ate dinner, and then attended a lecture on Visual Aids.

Chaplain Hall is the only colored chaplain in the U. S. Army that is on jump status. He has more than forty jumps with troops of the famous division. A graduate of the Division's Jump Master School, the Chaplain is expected to be awarded his senior wings before departing the division, this month.

During World War II, he was awarded the purple heart for wounds received in action against the enemy in combat in Italy, where he served for 14 months with the 92nd Infantry Division. A bronze star for achievement in action against the enemy.

After the conflict, he was the only colored chaplain to serve in the closed city of Berlin, Germany. He was awarded an Army commendation ribbon for his services there.

Married, Chaplain Hall has two children, and makes his home in Roosevelt, L. I. N. Y. Lt. Colonel L. W. Linderer, Commanding Officer, 80th Airborne AAA Battalion, was host

H. Gass, Meta Jones, Emma Perry, Esther Bain, Mary B. Williston, E. E. Miller, Mae H. Carroll, and J. G. Smith. Misses Helen McNeill and Maude E. Hood.

The following ministers were at Fort Bragg for the occasion: T. H. Dewell, T. H. Spurrle, A. M. Spaulding, W. E. Turner, C. A. Chick, Henry M. R. James A. W. Smith, F. A. Luson, A. H. Ferguson, Charles M. Johnson, C. L. Stephens, E. A. Armstrong, W. R. Brown, W. R. Monroe, George D. Wooten, Carrie Andrews, E. H. Beebe and Charles E. Perry.

hours day and night. Not only that, but the young Miss must be fed a special formula of from 100 to 150 drops from a medicine dropper each time.

Sarah LaVonne was born on June 8 and weighed 28 ounces, only to lose five of them the first days of her existence. During the past week she is gaining steadily in an incubator which provides her a constant supply of oxygen. Whether she has heard about the Heggins baby or not is not known, but since there has been so much talk going the rounds about the champion, Sarah LaVonne appears to have become interested in overtaking the 19-pounder and evidently has set out toward that goal.

The Alston baby is the smallest Negro child on record in Guilford County. A white baby girl born September 13, 1949, weighed one pound 10 ounces at birth, lived to tell the tale. She is now nearly two years old and in good health.

The Alston baby is normal in every respect, but was born prematurely by three or four months.

torney for Russell. Langford said he had not had time to study a recent affidavit filed just before the hearing set for 10 A. M. in the new affidavit Manley charged that Russell had made false statements in his challenge an had committed perjury.

Russell countered with another affidavit charging that during the February 20, 1950 term of Superior Court here

Manley admitted on cross examination during a trial that he had been "convicted and imprisoned on account of the killing of two persons in Winston-Salem.

the school will qualify for national accreditation in the near future. The School of Nursing will hold its forty-seventh Commencement Exercises on Monday, June 30, at eight o'clock P. M. at Mount Vernon Baptist Church. Mrs. J. C. Trent, member of the City Council, Durham, North Carolina, will deliver the Commencement address.

In addition to the usual accreditation of the School of Nursing the hospital was inspected in April by a representative from the American College of Surgeons. After the inspection the representative held a meeting with members of the Board of Trustees of the hospital and of the medical staff and stated that he did not know that there was a Negro hospital anywhere of the standard of Lincoln and that he had not inspected any white hospital in North Carolina which he considered superior to it. The report of the examination came in last week and the hospital received a rating of 87 per cent, which probably would have gone as high as 93 per cent or 95 per cent, if certain points had not been taken off because of the crowded conditions.
