OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD BY GOLDEN AGE SOCIETY JULY 25

Open House at the Golden Age day camp will be held from ten until eleven o'clock Friday morning, July 25th, at Barfield Community Center. The Board of Directors invites all citizens of Durham to come to see the Golden Age Society in action and to view the handiwork of these senior citizens.

Not old age, but Golden Age is the watchword of some two hundred of Durham's senior citizens who have come out during the past year to Halloween and George Washington's Birthday parties, to neighborhood groups, yes, and to day camps in the summertime—all these events being carried on especially for those in the later years of life.

The Golden Age Society, one of Durham's youngest Red Feather agencies, seeks to promote the happiness of the older citizens in this community through a program of educational and recreational activities and also through study of housing, employment, medical and nursing facilities for this older age group.

Durham has been outstanding in what it has accomplished for its senior citizens and this is due to the assistance of the many civic organizations who have had a hand during the past few years in supporting the Golden Age Society: American Association of University Women, Altrusa Club, Y. W. C. A., City Recreation Department, Family Service, plus assistance from the American Business Club, the Lions Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Red Cross and Y. W. C. A.
