

North Carolina College Teachers In Europe

These three North Carolina College faculty women arrived in Naples, Italy, last week on the first leg of a journey that will keep them in Europe for the next month and a half.

Eisenhower campaign leaders are shown in the offices in the Conrad Hilton Hotel Wednesday morning taking a last minute check on Republican delegates in order to map final plans for the drive to nominate General Eisenhower to be the next President.

NEGRO LEADERS PUSH GEN. IKE EISENHOWER CAMPAIGN

The success of the Eisenhower campaigners to make the General the standard-bearer of the Republican Party by inviting the Negro vote can be largely attributed to the work of P. G. Porter, Alathe, Kansas; P. A. Townsend, Topeka, Kansas and Thurman L. Dodson, Washington, D. C.

These Republican leaders have been closely associated with Eisenhower forces since the beginning of the campaign, but moved into high gear in Room 1160, Conrad Hilton Hotel here last week. The Republican starts got busy lining up doubtful delegates who were wooed back into the Eisenhower column and many other race votes were substantially nailed down for the five star General.

They furnished information for all of the Negro delegates and alternates and kept direct contact with developments throughout the drive. Their ability to gain votes for General Eisenhower was phenomenal. There was never a question, they felt, that all Negro delegates might not join the trend to Eisenhower.

The Eisenhower Headquarters in which these workers held forth was continuously swamped as to General Eisenhower's stand on civil rights. They were able to satisfy most of those who sought this valuable information by telling them that the General knew no color or creed and that he had repeatedly maintained that America was too small for race hate, class bigotry segregation and discrimination. They pointed to the fact that General Eisenhower had surrounded himself with men who had been in the forefront for Civil Rights.

health, and was succeeded by Dr. J. S. N. Tross. He retained his position, however, as owner and publisher.

During his life time Mr. Houston was influential in many civic improvements for his race, among them was the founding and the promotion of the "Go To Church, Go To Sunday School" program of which he was the chief founder. He was also president of the Community Crusade and a charter member of the Grace A. M. E. Zion Church of which he was a trustee at the time of his death.

His wife, Mrs. Maria R. Houston died three years ago. Surviving are one son, A. N. Houston, a member of the Charlotte Police Force and a daughter, Mrs. Maggie Ross Miles of Portsmouth, Va.

Dr. Trent will return to Salisbury, North Carolina at the end of August to prepare for the opening of Livingstone and his twenty-eighth year as president of the college. He is a member of the Salisbury Board of Education; the executive committee of North Carolina Interracial Commission, and served as president of the North Carolina Association of Negro Colleges in 1927 and 1941.

Dr. Trent is the father of W. J. Trent, Jr., Executive Director of the United Negro College Fund, of which Livingstone is a member institution.

Randolph Urges Vigilance On Civil Rights Issue

In the International headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters in New York City, A. Phillip Randolph, International President of the Brotherhood and the Co-Chairman of the National Council for a Permanent FEPC, warns Negroes that both the Democrats and Republicans will sidetrack civil rights issues unless Negroes wage a militant fight for full and complete civil rights now. He stated that, "Just as the Republican Convention adopted a colorless, meaningless and weak appeasement civil rights plank in the platform with a view to winning the favor of the Dixiecrats, so will the Democrats do the very same thing unless Negroes struggle for a civil rights program with an FEPC with enforcement powers, a Civil Rights Commission, abolition of Rule 22 and Filibuster, and elimination of the Poll Tax and Lynching." Nothing short of this should be considered acceptable by any decent Negro in the United States today, whether Democrat or Republican, concluded Mr. Randolph.

One person remarked, "Is Dr. Alphonso Elder a mere stooge of UNC and N. C. College its auxiliary or annex for Negroes that he and the college have got to accept every hellish and fiendish plan of that gang of race haters at the University of North Carolina?"

Just what attitude the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will assume with the establishment of the PhD degree at N. C. College could not be learned here Wednesday. C. O. Pearson, Durham attorney for the NAACP stated "No action if any will be taken until the work has actually begun. The administration at UNC is not working in the public interest as far as Negro citizens are concerned."

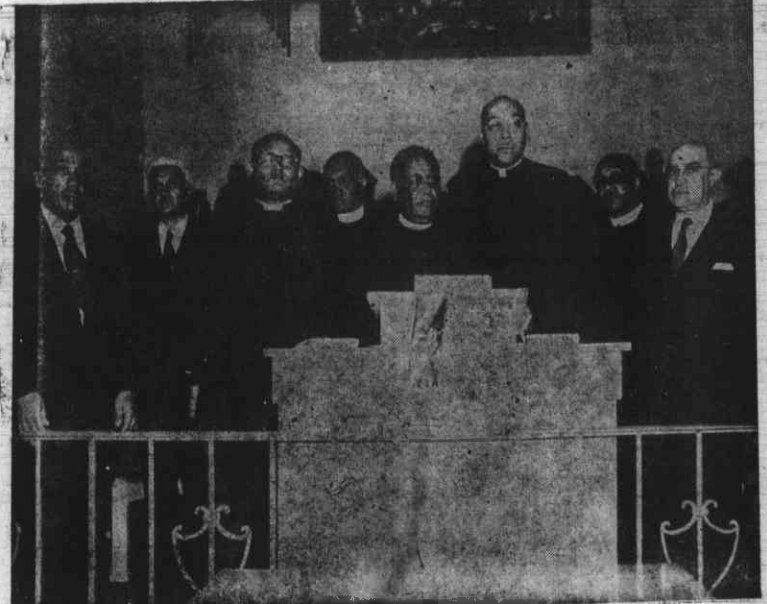

Howard Presides At Republican Nat'l Convention

Chicago — Perry W. Howard Mississippi National Committeeman and veteran political Republican leader, made history here Saturday, when he presided over the meeting of the Republican National Committee, in its first meeting after the choosing of the 1952 standard bearer.

Mr. Howard, by virtue of the fact that he is the senior member of the service, took over as chairman, the first man of color to have this honor until a new chairman is elected.

It was his duty to preside over the sessions in which the newly elected members were introduced and received by the body. It was also his duty to preside over the choosing of the man who will be charged with the job of electing General Eisenhower. The nominee use, of a creative organ. Up to now these benefits have been available under existing law to certain World War I veterans only.

Bishop W. J. Walls, senior bishop, A. M. E. Zion Church, is shown at the pulpit of the Centennial Church, Mount Vernon, at the closing session of the New York Conference, just after the Conference went on record to send him to India, as a representative of the Connection at an international meet, November, 1952. Bishop Walls has made an enviable record as a churchman and due to the fact that he heads one of the committees of the World Council of Churches, is expected to play an important part. Shown with him are the Reverend C. C. Williams, C. D. McKinney, T. C. McDougal, host pastor, who completed the edifice in time to enter the Conference, Bishop Walls, Dr. E. Farley Fisher, General Secretary, Reverend J. C. Brown, recently appointed to pastor in Boston, J. H. Tucker and J. H. Douglas, Conference Treasurer.

expressed his thanks and best wishes to Mr. Howard and assured him that he was grateful to greet him as the acting chairman of the party.

Mr. Howard handled the meetings like a veteran. Party members who tried to recall found it impossible to find where a Negro had ever presided over this august body. It was his duty to call upon the members and all Republicans to unite and go forward to elect a Republican president and a Republican Congress comes November. This position gives Mr. Howard a unique responsibility in the forthcoming campaign.

Mr. Howard appointed the committee to wait on the nominee to ascertain his wishes as to the officers of the new national committee. As a result, Arthur Summerfield, Michigan was elected chairman for the next four years and received the gavel from Mr. Howard at the end of the session.

riers is a particularly significant victory for Negro members of the medical profession in Washington because private hospitals in the city require that doctors be members of the District Medical Society before they can be placed on the visiting staffs.

When Dr. Cobb became president of the Medico-Chirurgical Society in 1945, the organization began a concerted attack on discrimination against Negroes in the District's health facilities. Dr. Cobb hailed the District Medical Society's decision and said that his society hopes other barriers in the District against equal medical care for Negroes will soon fall.

DRESS UP FRANKFURTERS

Stuff franks with a tasty dressing and note the reception they get. Three cups enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs make enough dressing to stuff a pound of franks — or 8 to 10 large ones. Bake the dressed-up franks about 10 minutes in a hot oven and serve immediately with a hot mustard or tomato sauce.

STUFFED FRANKFURTERS
1 lb. frankfurters
1/4 cup margarine or butter
1/4 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced celery
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
1/8 teaspoon dried basil (optional)
3 cups soft enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs
Salt and Pepper.
Split franks down the middle but do not cut all the way through. Arrange in greased baking dish.

Melt margarine or butter in a frying pan. Add onion, celery, parsley, and basil and cook until onion and celery are tender. Stir in bread crumbs until all margarine or butter is soaked up. Season to taste with salt and pepper. If desired, moisten with a little hot water. With fingers stuff crumbs into split franks. Add a little water to baking dish to keep franks from burning. Bake at 400° F. (moderately hot oven) 10 minutes. Serve with hot mustard or tomato sauce. Makes 4 servings.
