

Predict Big Negro Vote For Stevenson

Five cheering classic cities who will represent North Carolina College in Washington, D. C., when the North Carolina College Eagles meet the Virginia State Trojans in Griffith Stadium on October 18th are shown here during a recent pep rally. The cheerful coeds who will be yelling for the Eagles are front row left: Barbara Holland, Roanoke, Virginia, and Audrey Flamer, Philadelphia, Pa. Back row, from left, Dolores Parks, Richmond, Virginia; Cletole Coleman, Roanoke Virginia, and Ann Garrett, Greenville.

Stevenson Applauded By Unsegregated Audiences On Southern Campaign Tour

ON STEVENSON PLANE
Throughout Governor Adlai Stevenson's southern tour which included speeches in Oklahoma City, St. Louis, New Orleans, Miami, Tampa, and Nashville, unsegregated audiences applauded the Governor's stand on issues of vital importance to them. Crowds of people came to airports and many more lined the streets to see the Governor. Eager listeners applauded his speeches.
The deep thought behind Governor Stevenson's stand on the question of civil rights was best expressed in New Orleans in the presence of Governors and representatives from ten southern states. Stevenson said: "With regard to the question of minority rights it pains me and it pains you that after 2,000 years of Christianity we have to discuss it at all."
In Oklahoma City representatives of the Negro papers joined with Oklahoma Democratic leaders at a luncheon at the (Please turn to Page Ten)

Durham Business And Professional Chain Host To North Carolina College Faculty At Banquet

The Durham Business and Professional Chain was scheduled to play host here Thursday night to the faculty and staff of the North Carolina College at Durham.
Special entertainment was furnished by the Flying Nesbits, acrobatic team. According to John H. Wheeler, chairman of the Chain's program committee, "The Chain is sponsoring this reception and buffet supper to emphasize the interests of Durham citizens in developing closer cooperation between the members of the North Carolina College community and the citizens of our city."
Officials at North Carolina

Periodical Dept
Duke Univ. Library

The Carolina Times

THE TRUTH UNBRIDLED

FOR THIRTY YEARS THE OUTSTANDING WEEKLY OF THE CAROLINAS

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Durham, North Carolina, under Act of March 3, 1879

VOLUME 39—NUMBER 40

DURHAM, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1952

PRICE TEN CENTS

Former N. C. Co-ed BEATEN AND KICKED BY GREENVILLE POLICE

OFFICER ABSOLVED AND YOUNG WOMAN FINED; CASE APPEALED

GREENVILLE
Mrs. L. M. Harvey, a 1949 graduate of North Carolina College at Durham, and wife of L. M. Harvey, serving with the armed services in Korea, was another victim of cop brutality, which seems to be running amuck throughout the state, September 20.

According to Defense Attorney reports, Mrs. Harvey, with her sister, drove their car to town. She was about to make a right turn at an intersection when a policeman came over to her car and accused her of blocking traffic. She explained that a pedestrian always has the right of way. An argument between the two followed as the officer ordered her to pull over to the side and give him the keys to the car, which she refused to do.

As the argument continued, a highway patrolman came up and joined in the fracas. They told the defendant that they were taking her to jail.

A bystander who is a friend of the family, came over and asked the officers if he might drive the car to the station, since the disagreement seemed to center around that fact. The officers agreed and Mrs. Harvey gave him the keys.
Upon reaching the station, Mrs. Harvey got out of the car and started in, but the two officers grabbed her by both arms and began pulling her along despite her insistence on being unassisted.

As she entered the door one of the officers kicked her twice with his knees and a third one grabbed her back of the neck, (Please turn to Page Ten)

NAACP Mourns Passing Of Dr. Louis T. Wright

SPINGARN MEDALIST, NOTED SURGEON PIONEERED IN FIELD

NEW YORK
Funeral services for Dr. Louis T. Wright, chairman of the board of directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and director of surgery and president of the medical board of Harlem Hospital were held on Saturday, October 11, at 10:00 A. M., at St. Philip's Church, 214 West 134th Street. He died at his home of a heart attack on October 8. The Reverend Shelton Bishop conducted the services.

Dr. Wright, who served as chairman of the NAACP for the past twenty years, was a militant fighter for equality of citizenship and opportunity for Negro Americans during his entire life. Arthur B. Spingarn, NAACP president, has said of Dr. Wright that "few people have been more consistent, more vigorous, more wise, and more courageous in fighting discrimination and all forms of injustice . . . he devotes twenty-four hours of the time in his day to the NAACP."
Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, called Doctor Wright "one of the most unselfish, uncompromising advocates of the highest integrity in medicine and human relations."
(Please turn to Page Ten)

Mrs. L. M. Harvey, graduate of North Carolina College at Durham, and now head of the Department of Physical Education at Wilberforce University, was the recent victim of police brutality in Greenville, North Carolina. Mrs. Harvey is the wife of L. M. Harvey, with the armed forces in Korea.

Democrats Name Committee On Publicity

Appointment of a 10-member Democratic Party Publicity Committee for the November 4 general election was announced Monday by J. L. Atkins, Jr., chairman of the Durham County Democratic Executive Committee.
The new committee, composed of representatives from Durham's newspaper and radio stations, will work with a 75-member general committee to plan and aid in getting out the Democratic vote.

Clarence Whitefield, staff writer for the Durham Morning Herald, was appointed chairman of the committee, and he, in turn, named the following members:
(Please turn to Page Ten)

Missouri Congressman To Speak At North Carolina College On "What The GOP Stands For"

The Hon. Orland Kay Armstrong, U. S. Representative from the Sixth Congressional District of Missouri, speaks here at noon Monday in North Carolina College's Duke Auditorium.
Rep. Armstrong's speech, "What the Republicans Stand For," is a part of the presentation of the non-partisan forum committee's series at NCC. The speech is open to the public.

On Oct. 8, Rep. William L. Dawson (D. Ill.), flayed the GOP as the "party of reaction bent on raising taxes among the nation's small wage earners." Dawson said the Democrats would "continue to emphasize human rights over property rights." The Illinois lawmaker's speech was entitled "What the Democrats Stand For."

After Congressman Armstrong's speech on Oct. 20, Dr. J. H. Taylor, chairman of NCC's social science division, will discuss "You Stake in a Democratic Victory" on October 27.

Rep. Armstrong, a native of Missouri, was formerly a Baptist minister. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees in journalism from the University of Missouri.

The Missouri solon founded the School of Journalism at the University of Florida where he taught from 1925 to 1930. He was later active in numerous welfare projects in Missouri.

Armstrong's political career started in 1932 when he was elected to the Missouri legislature. He became a specialist in problems of government reorganization, particularly as related to penal institutions. He was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives in 1950.

He is the author of several books, and numerous newspaper articles. In 1951, the congressman visited Japan, Korea, and Formosa.

SUPPORT FOR ADLAI ZOOMS IN N. CAROLINA

A cross section of Negro leaders in North Carolina polled this week by the CAROLINA TIMES, disclosed that support among Negro voters for Adlai Stevenson, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, is zooming.

Among those queried were J. S. Stewart, Member of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Convention, Durham; D. B. Martin, Member of the Executive Committee of the Durham County Democratic Convention, Durham; Zack Alexander, Jr., prominent business man, Charlotte; F. L. Atkins, President of Winston-Salem Teachers College, Winston-Salem; John R. Larkins, Negro Director, State Welfare Department, Raleigh; Rev. R. C. Sharpe, Funeral Director, Greensboro; T. C. Jervay, Editor, Wilmington Journal, Wilmington; and many others.

It is conservatively estimated that Stevenson will receive about 95 per cent of the Negro vote in North Carolina, and in addition to the 75,000 or more registered for the 1948 election, that the number will pass 100,000 by the time of the election Nov. 4.

Strenuous efforts are being made through state branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the pulpit, the Negro press and other agencies, to give the Illinois Governor the largest Negro vote any candidate has ever received for president in this state.

The forthright stand taken by Stevenson on the Civil Rights issue in his recent southern tour is believed to have precipitated keener interest in the Illinois Governor's candidacy and given great impetus to the registration efforts of Negro leaders throughout the state.

The cry all over North Carolina is reported to be, every Negro man and woman must register and vote.

Burlingtonians Ask Negro On Board Education

BURLINGTON
Dr. W. C. Shanks, local Negro physician, presented a petition to the City Council last week requesting that a Negro be appointed to the local City School Board. The statement had been signed by 850 Negro residents.

The request was based on better understanding of problems which exist in the Negro schools of the district. It was presented through the Burlington Negro School District P. T. A., with Dr. Shanks as spokesman.

The organization, through the petition, submitted the name of Dr. Robert LeSeur as the most logical appointee. He is a local doctor and resident who, "has worked, eaten, and played with us," and who "understands our problems," the petition stated.

"Taxation without representation," continued the statement, "is as distasteful today as in the eighteenth century." It pointed out further that the Burlington Negro school district includes 2,828 Negroes in the city and a total 5,696 in the entire district.

Mayor Carlisle Isley thanked the representative of the group for the request, but stated that the next vacancy on the board will occur June 30, 1953, and that the present council would have retired. He agreed, however that the request be officially filed for the attention of the succeeding council.

Raleigh Police Accused Of Beating Up Man

RALEIGH
Two Negro policemen were accused here last week in City Court, by John Henry Peebles, local Negro, of beating him up and mistreating his mother.

Defense Attorney Vaughan Winborne gave notice of appeal to Wake Superior Court after Peebles was found guilty of dis- (Please turn to Page Ten)

Pictured here are some of the fifty-two managers and supervisors of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company who are attending a special company-sponsored Career Course in Underwriting at North Carolina College, October 16-17.

A company spokesman says the course has a two-fold purpose: to help the underwriter who has completed the company's Basic Training Course and who has been in the field long enough to get underway a sound production and (2) to help the older underwriter who realizes not only the value of continuous study, but who realizes also that the selling of life insurance has undergone great changes in the past decade, and who is anxious to bring himself up-to-date along all lines.

Reading from left to right are

D. C. Deans, Vice-President and Associate Agency Director, Richmond, Virginia; W. A. Clement, Assistant Agency Director, Durham; G. W. Cox, Vice-President and Agency Director, Durham; D. B. Martin, Assistant Agency Director, Durham.

At the blackboard in Lester Spellman, CLU; one of the instructors. Other reading from left to right are: D. C. Deans, Jr., Vice-President and Associate Agency Director, Richmond, Virginia; Miss Maude Hawkins, Assistant Manager, Pittsburgh, Pa. S. G. Farham,

Assistant Manager, Raleigh; L. E. Craft, Assistant Manager, Durham; Winfred Mundle, Manager, Columbia, S. C.; Z. H. Milburn, Newport News, Va.; and A. E. Brown, Manager, Raleigh. — See Story on Page Ten.

