Haley, attorney associated with the Kansas City law firm of Stevens and Jackson, has been named the winner of the First Prize in the 1952 Nathan Burkan Memorial competition at the University of Arkansas School of Law. Mr. Haley's prize-winning paper is entitled: "Needed Copyright For Ideas," and is considered a valuable law treatise. (Newspress Photo.)

Hockaday, Lawson, Byars Receive Business League Appointments

WASHINGTON
The National Negro Business League closed its 52nd annual convention in Washington last week amid what was described as one of the most successful meetings of the half-century-old organization of business people.

Several important actions were taken by the NNBL board of directors designed to further promote the activities of the organization. A major decision of the board was one dividing the nation into ten NNBL regions, each having a regional vice president.

The board elected W. Burdette Hockaday, executive secretary of the League. In further action it appointed Belford V. Lawson, Washington attorney, general counselor, and named board member Rufus G. Byars, supervisor of the national headquarters.

Horace S. Sudduth, Cincinnati real estate man and hotel owner, was re-elected to a fifth term as president, with all other major officers being returned to the positions they previously held. These officers are:

George Cox, Sr. Durham, 1st vice-president; J. E. Robinson, Houston, 2nd vice-president; Jesse Mitchell, Washington, treasurer; Doyle Mitchell, Washington, assistant treasurer. Moss H. Kendrick was retained as public relations consultant.

During the annual Founder's Day Banquet, the delegates heard President Mordecai W. Johnson, Howard University president, challenge American business to lead the free world in practices that will ensure an enduring peace. Making a plea for wider support of the program of the League, Mr. Sudduth, in his annual message, pointed out that memberships in the League might be considered an "investment in the future economic security" of the race and the nation.

W. C. Chance Alumni Worship Day Speaker

GREENSBORO
"Faith in yourself, faith in your fellowman and a sterling character are the prerequisites of successful careers in the world today," said W. C. Chance, prominent educator of Parrale, who delivered the principal message at the annual alumni worship services at A. and T. College last Sunday. A graduate of the college in the class of 1904, he spoke from the subject, "Faith."

The speaker also warned, "You must identify yourself with a spiritual force, which when accomplished will remove all fears and doubts from the problems which each of you must face."

In commending the gigantic building program now underway at the college, he emphasized that buildings such as these will some day crumble into dust, but the building of character will never perish from this earth.

Chance was introduced by E. E. Waddell, president of the national alumni association of the college who spoke of him as being one of the outstanding graduates of the college who had for 40 years assumed leadership in his small rural community and had done the job well.

His appearance marked the conclusion of the two-day homecoming of the college which began with a series of activities designed for the returning graduates and former students. It was sponsored by the local Gate City Alumni Chapter of which Dr. F. A. Williams is president; Mrs. N. G. Bynum acted as chairman of the program committee.

Morgan Bears Take On Pirates In Baltimore

BALTIMORE
A pair of long standing gridiron rivalries, between two top CIAA teams and two crack CIAA coaches, will be renewed here Nov. 15 when Morgan State College encounters Hampton Institute in the annual Morgan homecoming at Hughes Stadium.

Matched against each other, in a team rivalry that dates back to 1922, will be the Morgan State College Bears and the Hampton Pirates.

Simultaneously pitted against each other, as their two teams meet, will be Morgan's "miracle man of football," Coach Edward P. Hurt and his arch coaching rival, Harry R. (Big Jeff) Jefferson, mentor of the Hampton squad.

Through the years, Hurt and Jefferson have continuously coached rival teams and thus have built up the longest standing coaching rivalry in the CIAA circuit.

It is the added attraction of slight Eddie Hurt vs. Big Jeff which is keying up the Morgan State College Bears to pound out a win over the Pirates who edged out a 7-6 victory last year when the rival teams met in the 1951 National Classic.

In twenty-four encounters since 1922 the Morgan Bears have emerged victorious over the Pirates seventeen times. After suffering a 6-0 defeat in the initial game in 1922 and a 44-0 slaughter in 1923, Morgan State bounced back with a 13-6 win when play between the two teams was resumed in 1930.

N. G. Bynum acted as chairman of the program committee.
