Person School Observes Vocational Opportunity Week; Students Place In Speaking Contest

ROXBORO
The Guidance Department headed by Mrs. E. M. Harper, observed Vocational Opportunity Week recently. The program consisted of a series of lectures to students on Vocations and Opportunities.

The first lecture was delivered by C. R. Rivers, an employee of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Durham. Mrs. Lucy V. Lee, local beautician, lectured to the senior class group calling attention to the many local vocational opportunities with emphasis on preparation.

Mr. Corbitt, Director of Public Relations, A. and T. College, Greensboro, lectured to the students emphasizing the need for interest in and preparation for such vocations as engineering, nursing and other fields in which there has been only a previous negligent racial interest.

Mr. Twitted, registrar of J. C. Smith's College, Charlotte, spoke to students emphasizing the need for training and efficient service.

Rev. J. W. McCullon, Bennett College, Greensboro, spoke to pupils and teachers on Religious Vocational Opportunities.

Miss Marilyn Walker, Miss Essie Taylor and Miss Naomi Thompson participated in the District Agricultural-Marketing Essay Contest at Raleigh. Miss Walker won second place and will participate in the State Agricultural Marketing Contest at Greensboro.

Fogle, A fine cast has been trained for this occasion. The public is invited to worship with us at any and all times.

Couple To Be Wed On 'Bride And Groom' TV Program

GREENSBORO

A couple whose romance began on the A and T College campus back in 1945, withstood months of separation by a call of the United States Army, and other hardships along the way will have their dreams come true when they take the vows of matrimony on "Bride and Groom", a CBS Television program on Wednesday, noon, April 22.

The principals are Miss Ruby E. Troxler, a Greensboro native, a stenographer in the treasurer's office at A and T College who graduated from the institution in 1948 and Leslie J. Davis, of Oxford, who completed two years of agricultural training at the college in 1948.

Miss Troxler, the daughter of T. Albert Troxler, was a student leader at the college. Besides graduating with "Highest Honor" with a Bachelor of Science degree in Commercial Education, she entered the college on a scholarship given by the local Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and during her collegiate days held memberships in: The Richardson B. Harrison Players, Intercollegiate Dramatic Association and the Alpha Kappa Mu National Honorary Society.

After working for several years in landscaping, Davis was drafted in the Army in March 1951. He received his discharge this month.

As participants in the "Bride and Groom" wedding ceremony they will receive among other things, an all expense wedding including rings for both, flowers, music and even the minister's fee. In addition, many household gifts and a full weeks honeymoon trip including transportation to a famous hotel resort, will be given.
